LITTLE CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

Burton D. Little, a yard brakeman in the Pennsylvania railroad yards at Union station, was arrested yesterday by Postoffice Inspector Frank A. O'Brien and Secret Service Officer George T. Birdseye on a charge of stealing letters containing money and valuables from the mail cars in and around the yards.

The thefts have been going on for nearly a year, and all efforts to detect the thief by the secret service operators met with failure. A short time ago Little's actions placed him under suspicion and it was decided to test his honesty. Yesterday two letters addressed to fictitious persons in this city and containing marked bills were deposited within reach of Little. In a short time the letters were missed and Little was arrested and searched. The marked bills were found on him.

Little was taken before United States Commissioner W. F. Lindsay, where he admitted stealing the letters and waived a preliminary hearing for court. In default of bail he was committed to jail. Little is married and resides in the East End.

MUCH ROMANCE ABOUT IT.

Nebraskan Marries a Woman Who Was the Flower Girl When He Married the First Time.

Luther M. Roby of Kearney, Neb., was last night married to Miss Mary Chapman of No. 1113 Arch street, Allegheny. Mr. Roby's bride is 24 years younger than he is and was a flower girl at his first wedding in Leesville, O., where the couple first became acquainted.

Shortly after Mr. Roby's first marriage he went west and built up a successful business. About four years ago his wife died, and through friends he learned that Miss Chapman, for whom he had a strong friendship, was still single. The ceremony was performed at the home of the Rev. Dr. T. J. Leak, in Forbes street, this morning, they will start for their home in Nebraska.

UNCLE SAM IS WATCHING BEEF TRUST

The Combine's Efforts to Evade the Law May Not Be Successful.

LEGAL OPINION IS AT VARIANCE

JUDGE DAY THINKS LAW BROAD ENOUGH

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Officials of the department of justice are watching with keen interest the new movement on the part of "Big Six," comprising the beef trust, and the proposed new form of combination is causing some concern in Washington.

Driven to the wall in their former operation and enjoined by the court at the instance of the United States government, some such move as the one now reported, with a possible attempt to get outside of the law, was not unsuspected by the officials here. Should the combination, as now proposed, take form on the lines of the great railroad merger and the steel combine the question of vulnerability under the existing law at once arises and has already been considered.

There is some division of opinion whether or not the trust in its new form could be attacked. The majority takes the ground that while an injunction was granted the government against the beef trust in its former operations under the first section of the Sherman anti-trust law, it will be possible to proceed against the new combination under the second section of the same law, which reads:

"Every person who shall monopolize or attempt to monopolize, or combine or conspire with any other person or persons to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court."

It is possible that the brains of the beef trust will attempt to make the new combination impossible of attack under the present law, basing its opinions on decisions of the court rendered in the Knight case and the Addyston pipe case, the former of which was decided against the government, while the pipe trust was dissolved by order of the court. In the Addyston case it was found that there was only an agreement between the various companies involved not to compete with one another and this was decided to be in restraint of trade. In the Knight case, in which the government proceeded against the American Sugar Refining Company, it was found that there had been an outright purchase of stock and a combination of various companies under one general management and ownership. Legal opinion which holds that it will be difficult to proceed against the new combination takes the ground that it will be formed on the basis of the Knight decision and conducted in the same manner as the sugar trust is operated.

Judge W. A. Day, who acted with Attorney General Knox in obtaining the injunction against the beef trust, takes the ground that the Sherman anti-trust law is a most admirably drawn statute and thinks it broad enough to cover many large combinations of capital which have not yet received attention from the government. He was not prepared to say whether he thought the new beef combination, as prepared in Chicago, could be proceeded against under the law as it now stands, but he is carefully watching the operations now going on.

PROPOSE TO BUILD ROAD TO PITTSBURGH

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WEST CHESTER, PA., July 8.—It is believed here that the Wabash is back of the Philadelphia & Western railroad. The counsel for the latter, W. W. MacElree, while he will not admit that the Wabash has any interest in the corporation declares that the road will be constructed to Pittsburgh. He says:

"I can't see why people should imagine that we are working in the interest of the Kelly company. The Philadelphia & Western road is a distinct organization with a charter for a steam railroad. We have agreements with land owners on damages in a number of instances. We do not have to bother trying to get rights of way. The officers of the company say they are going to build the road and extend it westward to Pittsburgh.

"It costs a great deal of money to build a steam railroad—two or three times as much as a trolley road. These people are not spending their money to build trolley roads."

CONNELL BEATS FARR.

Congressman Wins by About Two to One—Rowdyism and Charges of Fraud at the Polls.

SCRANTON, PA., July 8.—(Special)—Congressman William Connell defeated John R. Farr in the primaries of today. With two-thirds of the returns from city and county tabulated, it looks as if Connell had won by two to one.

The police were called to suppress outbreaks at several places. In a Hyde Park district Farr's father was thrown out of the booth. The Farr leaders allege many irregularities, such as voting Democrats and the "fixing" of vigilance boards.

Julia Arthur Has Appendicitis.

BOSTON, July 8.—Mrs. B. P. Cheney (Julia Arthur) was operated upon for appendicitis today at her home on Little Brewster island, Boston harbor. The operation was entirely successful and it is expected that Mrs. Cheney's convalescence will be rapid, unless some unexpected complications should manifest themselves.

DIVORCE ASKED BY SOFFEL FROM CONVICT WIFE

Woman Who Aided the Biddle Brothers to Be Further Disgraced.

HUSBAND WANTS CARE OF CHILDREN

Divorce proceedings have been instituted against Mrs. Katherine Soffel. Her husband, Peter K. Soffel, the ex-jail warden, has filed an application with the prothonotary charging her with desertion. The process was presented to court and Sheriff William McKinley was instructed to serve notice on her in the Western penitentiary. After this the court will appoint a commissioner to take evidence in the case, as in all probability Mrs. Soffel will be unable to appear on court on account of being in penal servitude. From what could be learned yesterday Mrs. Soffel has no desire to make any defense in the case.

The proceedings were brought about two weeks ago. They were instituted by Soffel's attorney, R. T. McElroy. The plaintiff charges the respondent with having deserted him and their children and so shocked the community that any future habitation with her was made impossible. The former warden of the Allegheny county jail has been contemplating this action since his visit to Butler, shortly after Mrs. Soffel was brought to this city.

She Knew What She Was Doing.

It is alleged that Soffel learned on that visit that his wife had deliberately planned to leave him at a time when she was in full possession of her normal senses to take up a residence by herself or with some unknown persons. The contents of the petition are brief. An absolute separation from the respondent is asked for. From what could be learned from Soffel's friends his parents have had considerable to do in actuating him to take this step and to petition for this form of divorce.

After Kate Soffel was sentenced to the Western penitentiary Soffel lost no time in instituting against his recreant wife.

Soffel is now employed by the Wabash railroad as a right-of-way agent. Since his wife deserted him to liberate two of the most desperate criminals in the annals of Allegheny county he has been living with his father in Mt. Washington.

Wants Custody of Children.

A deputy sheriff will be detailed to acquaint Mrs. Soffel with the proceedings that her husband has taken against her some time this week. The former warden asks for absolute custody of the children. It is alleged in the petition that he is able to support and rear them and that his wife has proven herself as being unfit to maintain them as respectable children should be cared for.

There are four children, two boys and two girls. The oldest is 15 years and the youngest is 7. At the present time they are living with Mr. Soffel's parents in Mt. Washington.

Soffel was disgusted with the action of his wife and asserted himself to his friends that he intended to leave her at the proper time. He did not hesitate, to express himself regarding her action in deserting him and their children for the notorious Biddle brothers and assisting them to escape from jail. He said her act was a crime that could not be condoned in the mind of a self-respecting man and husband. While she was awaiting sentence he refrained from instituting the proceedings on account of bringing greater embarrassment on her.

After obtaining the divorce Soffel will continue to live in this city. The children will be sent to school and their education completed under the care and direction of Mr. Soffel's parents and relatives.

GIRLS IN ACCIDENTS.

Runaways in Bellevue and East End Result in Serious Injury to Three Young Women.

A team of horses attached to a hay wagon containing 18 young women out for a frolic ran away yesterday afternoon on a steep grade in Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, and upset, scattering the party over the road. Edith Lang, 18 years old, of Rodgers avenue, Bellevue, had two ribs broken, and Mary Morris, 13 years old, of Termon avenue, Allegheny, had her right arm broken.

The other occupants of the wagon were all badly bruised from being thrown violently to the ground and from striking stones on the road. All except Miss Lang and Miss Morris were able to go to their homes. The two girls who were more seriously injured were removed in the St. John's general hospital ambulance to their homes.

Katherine Hopkins of No. 5701 Margaretta street had her collar bone broken by being thrown from a buggy at North Highland avenue and Margaretta street, East End, yesterday afternoon. The horse attached to the buggy ran away after the accident and collided with a wagon belonging to C. A. Wright, totally damaging both vehicles. Miss Hopkins was removed to her home, where her brother, Dr. A. J. Hopkins, attended.

AMERICAN TRUST CONTROLS MEAT MARKET OF ENGLAND

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald Co.)

London, July 8.—The position of the American beef trust as regards the English markets develops that Smithfield market, the biggest meat distributing center of the United Kingdom, is absolutely controlled by it. The capture has been secret and gradual, but none the less secure.

Chicago, through its London representatives, today regulates the prices of beef on London, Liverpool and Manchester tables.

A few years ago American firms sold their meat through English salesmen, paying $500,000 yearly in commissions. Then came the "American invasion." The Swift company came first; others followed rapidly, and today the principal stalls are in the hands of Herbert Swift, the Hammond Beef Company, Edward Morris & Co., Armour & Co., the Morris Beef Company, Archer, Dawson & Sulzberger, Nelson Morris and Swift Beef Company, limited, and Cudahy & Co.

BLOODHOUNDS NOW CLOSE ON HIS TRAIL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Seattle, Wash., July 8.—Harry Tracy, the fugitive Oregon convict, who has killed six men and wounded several others since June 9, is being hotly pursued by men and dogs in the country southeast of Seattle, and will probably be surrounded or captured within a few hours. His pursuers, who have with them two fine bloodhounds, are only a short distance behind him.

Tracy made another extraordinary escape from one of the posses after him this afternoon. Word was received at the sheriff's office that Tracy had been at the house of a Mrs. Gerald, near Benton, for five hours. Fifty armed men at once hastened to the scene. When they

FAMILY WIPED OUT AND BODIES LEFT LYING ON PLAIN

Were Evidently Traveling Overland When They Were Set Upon by Robbers.

FOUR POSSES TAKE FIELD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Enid, O. T., July 8.—Near Prudence, 30 miles southwest, the bodies of a man, a woman and two children, apparently members of one family, mutilated into almost unrecognizable shapes, were found today. The bodies had been stripped of all clothing, leaving no means of identification.

It is supposed that the family were strangers traveling overland and that they were robbed and murdered by men who then made off with their team and belongings.

On account of Prudence being without telephone, telegraph or railroad connections, it was impossible to secure further particulars. Advices received here via Kingfisher state that it is impossible to identify the bodies by anything yet found in the vicinity. They were found near the Cimarron river, supposedly where a party of movers had camped for the night when attacked and killed by unknown persons.

Sheriffs' posses from Garfield, Woods, Blaine and Kingfisher counties are reported on the trail of evidence that will solve the mystery. Prudence occupies a point where the four counties named come together.

ANOTHER LIST OF VICTIMS OF TORRID HEAT

Yesterday's Record Was Eleven Dead, Seven Prostrated.

WARM WAVE BIDS FAIR TO REMAIN

Another list of deaths and prostrations was the record in Pittsburgh yesterday as a result of the terrible heat which has held this section in its grasp for the past few days. The lists follow:

Dead.

JACOB KOSSET, 44 years of age, of No. 18 Orchard lane, Allegheny; dropped dead at his work in the car wheel works, Preble avenue, Allegheny, at 6 o'clock last night of heat.

CHARLES LARKINS, 28 years of age, driver for D. O'Doherty & Co., Penn avenue and Water street, prostrated at the store and died on the way to the Homeopathic hospital in the ambulance. His home was at No. 8136 Jordan avenue.

SAMUEL McCLINTOCK, 4 months of age, son of Elmer McClintock, No. 310 Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, died yesterday of heat exhaustion.

JOHN BROGRASH, mill worker, 32 years of age, died yesterday in the South Side hospital of heat prostration.

WILLIAM STEMLER, 11 months of age, son of William Stemler of Eleventh avenue, Homestead, died yesterday as the result of the heat.

HODESLAU DUNZELSHI, 2 years of age, died of heat prostration yesterday at his home, No. 22 Kosciusko alley.

CHRISTINA NECILE, 10 months of age, No. 56 Home avenue, died yesterday afternoon of heat exhaustion.

FRANK WILLS, 36 years of age, of No. 138 South Eighteenth street, died of the extreme heat yesterday afternoon.

KARL M. NEFBLING, 56 years of age, died of heat prostration at his home, No. 524 Larimer avenue.

KASLEMEYER SCABOOSH of Rankin, who was overcome by the heat while at work in the steel works at that place last night and removed to the Mercy hospital, died at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

Prostrated.

ANDREW THATER, 30 years of age, of No. 1112 River avenue, Braddock, was prostrated at his work in the Edgar Thomson furnaces, Braddock, last night. He was taken to his home.

GEORGE HASSO, 28 years of age, of Third and Dickson streets, Homestead, was overcome by the heat yesterday while at work on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, at Six Mile Ferry. He was taken to his home.

PAUL WIER, 18 years of age, of No. 515 Sandusky street, Allegheny, overcome while at work. Taken to the Allegheny General hospital.

UNKNOWN MAN found in Preble avenue, Allegheny, at 4 o'clock and taken to St. John's hospital. He was still unconscious at midnight, and is in a serious condition.

JOSEPH SEPATIA, 27 years of age, of Petrel street, Allegheny, in a serious condition from heat prostration in the pressed steel car works, Schoenville.

MICHAEL BUNSHAU, 25 years of age, of No. 5131 Keystone street, prostrated in the Malleable Iron works, Forty-eighth street, last night and taken to the West Penn hospital in a serious condition.

Temperature Was High.

The high temperatures of yesterday and last night probably made itself felt to a greater extent than on any one day since the torrid weather set in, and both the afternoon and night of yesterday was almost unbearable. From early morning the atmosphere was extremely high and after 7 o'clock the mercury again began to leap up the tube.

So far there are no indications that Pittsburgh will soon be relieved from the intense heat prevailing in this section. The forecast of the Washington weather bureau is for fair conditions in Pittsburgh today, and as a result of this condition there will be another day of broiling atmosphere.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 90 degrees, one degree lower than on the previous day, but the fierce rays of the burning sun beat down unmercifully on exposed spots. On the streets the hot, close atmosphere was unbearable and the sunny side of the streets were left vacant by all but those who were compelled to use them.

Yesterday's Weather Changes.

The showers of the early morning amounting to .10 of an inch of rain, did considerable to make the early morning hours somewhat cooler than they would otherwise have been, but the effect of the downpour was soon lost after the sun appeared.

At midnight of Monday the thermometer was at the 79-degree mark again, the same as at midnight of the day previous. After the rain set in the mercury fell only three degrees, but after the rain stopped its effect was still felt, for by 6 o'clock the mercury had dropped to 71 degrees.

BIG ENDEAVOR TENT FILLED WITH PRAISE

Eight Thousand Young People Lift Voices in Song.

STATE CONVENTION FORMALLY OPENED

MUCH GOOD TO ACCRUE FROM THIS GATHERING

Between sunset and twilight last evening the hills and valleys that stretch around the Schenley farm, in Oakland, resounded with the strains of "My Country 'Tis of Thee," welling up from the throats of over 8,000 young people gathered in the great Tent Endeavor.

And thus opened the fifteenth annual (first biennial) convention of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union. It was undoubtedly the most impressive religious scene that has been laid in Pittsburgh in many years. Following the patriotic outburst another hymn was sung, and the convention swung into the routine of formal addresses, interspersed with hymns by the convention choir.

State President William N. Yates of Philadelphia took the chair and presided until the closing. The Rev. Dr. L. C. Barnes, of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, offered a prayer, after which the Rev. John Weidley of Bethany Lutheran church, welcomed the young people to this city.

What Endeavorers Are Here For.

Concluding his address, which was emphatic of the glories of the Iron City, Mr. Weidley said this to the Endeavorers:

There should be something in a man's life greater than his occupation or his achievements, grander than acquisition or wealth; higher than genius, more enduring than fame, for these alone can never save a people. The foundation must be laid on a deeper bed rock, if the pinnacle would reach the sky. The foundation is Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Saviour of the world. He asks each youth to love and make the most of himself, that later on He may be freed to the hungry, medicine to the wounded, shelter to the weak. He bids each love his own reason, getting wisdom with that eager passion that Hugh Miller had for knowledge. He bids each make the most of friendship, emulating Plato in his love for his noble teacher. He asks each to love industry, emulating Peabody, whose generosity gushed like rivers. To this end have you been born, and for this purpose have you come, O Christian Endeavorers! And for this reason, we say, thrice welcome to our city, to our homes, and to our hearts!

The Rev. W. W. Williamson of Altoona responded to the address of welcome. President Yates was to have delivered an address, but owing tho the enthusiasm of the young people the services were prolonged beyond the scheduled hour, and he modestly retired from the program, leaving the principal address of the evening to the Rev. J. H. Bomberger of Cleveland, O. In the course of his address Mr. Bomberger said:

Foundation of All Progress.

The regeneration of the individual lies at the foundation of all spiritual, moral, intellectual and material progress. This can never be superseded. The only way in which the life of God—which is the world's only hope—can manifest itself practically in the world is by coming into the life of the individual man.

The foundation has two basins, an upper and a lower, and the lower can be filled only by the overflow from the upper. The verdure of the foliage, and the succulent fruitage are possible only because the gnarled and hidden roots are buried deep in the bosom of old mother earth, sucking sustenance from her ample stores.

And this convention will do most to hasten the coming of the kingdom as it rings out with a mighty emphasis the truth of truths, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart."

But it dare not stop with this. It is not enough merely to secure a man's regeneration and then to turn him loose in the field for moral duties, trusting to his sanctified impulses to guide him safely through. Even though a man has been born again, he may, through the influence on his traditions, his training, perverted judgment, of accepted custom, fail to measure up to the gospel ideal in his social relations.

Brotherhood Religion.

And hence it becomes necessary, by line upon line, to train the man whose heart is aglow with love of God, that he may successfully translate his divinely kindled affections, and his inspired convictions, into social duties, and the kindly ministries of brother to brother. And if this convention is to contribute perceptibly toward this end it must restate and reiterate those great underlying truths which set forth the claims of man on man, and indicate the methods for crystallizing into practical results those great conceptions of the fatherhood of God, and the brotherhood of man which the Gospel has given to the world. Your platform and your committee meetings must emphasize the truth that every man, however degraded and debased he may be, is our brother, and has a brother's claim upon us.

This is the one thing that will do more than all else to solve the social problems of the day—heart-to-heart contact between man and man. As Prof. Henderson puts it, "The hope of the worst lies in loving contact with the best." Nothing can equal the influence of the face that beams with genuine goodfellowship, of the heart that overflows with real kindness and sympathy, of the hand that, by its clasp, tells of real personal interest in another's welfare.

Work of the Past Year.

Secretary Harry W. Kellar presented his annual report. He stated that there had been 480 new societies organized, 241 Young Peoples', 51 Intermediates and 191 Juniors. In the entire state there are 3,034 societies, with a combined membership of 39,988.

Before the close of the evening session Mr. Kellar announced the following committee on nominations. The Rev. H. C. Lincoln, the Rev. W. A. Jones, the Rev. W. W. Williamson, the Rev. C. F. Brown and Messrs. H. W. Kellar, L. S. Bean and J. H. Hetrick. A committee on resolutions was also appointed. The committee on nominations will meet this morning and be ready to make a report to the executive session this afternoon. It is a popular belief that Mr. Yates will be re-elected to the presidency and that Mr. Kellar will be retained as secretary. Both are untiring workers and have done much for the cause of Christian work among young people.

In the earlier part of the day the executive committee and the state officers held special sessions in the First United Presbyterian church, adjoining Tent Endeavor. Reports from the various departments were received.

Knock at the Railroads.

J. N. Hetrick, chairman of transportation, complained of the railway service. "It is evident," he said, "that the railroads did not grasp the situation, otherwise they would have had better facilities and lower rates for the thousands of delegates to the convention."

The delegates from Philadelphia, nearly 800 strong, were two hours behind time, and did not arrive here until 10 o'clock.

The next meeting place was made the subject of a heated discussion at this meeting. Allentown and Lebanon are striving hard for the honor. The sentiment seems to favor Allentown. A committee was appointed to sift the merits of both cities and report today. A plan was also discussed to lighten the labors of State Secretary Kellar. It is proposed to have each district secretary attend entirely to the work of individual bodies and present full reports to the state secretary.

Changes in the constitution were likewise discussed, one for filling vacancies on the executive committee, another relative to the holding of the biennial convention in the year alternating with the national convention.

The Bellefield public school is used as the headquarters of the state officers and the First United Presbyterian church for special meetings. The Bellefield church rooms are used by the registering and entertainment committees.

Denominational Rally Tomorrow.

The Reformed church delegates to the convention will hold a denominational rally in Kennywood park tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. At the same time the annual outing of the Sunday schools of the Reformed church of Pittsburgh and vicinity will be held. Addresses will be made by the Rev. Cyrus M. Hartzell of Latrobe, Pa., and the Rev. J. H. Bomberger, D. D., of Cleveland, O., both of whom are delegates to the convention. The music will include the singing in chorus of "Speed Away," "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," and "America."

The Sunday school students will have a half-dozen field events.

GOSPEL NOTES AND WORDS EVERYWHERE

Endeavorers Can Sing on Street Cars and at Noon Scores of Meetings Will Be Held.

The four corners of Pittsburgh will today resound with joyous songs and hymns of praise from thousands of Endeavorers en route to the white canvas headquarters on the Schenley farm. A novel innovation has been permitted and the Endeavorers are going to sing on the street cars, every street car, in fact.

The management of the Pittsburgh Railways Company says nothing is too good for the young people, and told them to go on "and sing merrily and fervently," when a score or more of the young people modestly asked if they might sing on the cars en route to headquarters.

As a result of this passengers need not be a bit alarmed if they hear the fervent young people sing "Softly Now the Light of Day," "A Mighty Fortress Is Lord God," or other hymns from the Endeavor hymnal.

In addition to the special work of the convention today, special services are to be held at noon in the mill districts and the more congested street corners of the city, as follows: Courthouse, address by the Rev. L. A. Barnes, supported by members of the county evangelistic committee; postoffice steps, the Rev. A. E. Taylor and the Lebanon county delegation; Homeopathic hospital, Second avenue, Fayette county delegation; Monongahela wharf, Captain J. W. Seymour; Young Men's Christian association, the Rev. J. W. Meminger of Lancaster; Marvin's bakery, the Rev. A. J. Smith; county jail, the Rev. L. W. Hainer; Jenkinson's factory, Liberty and Twelfth streets, Philadelphia delegation; H. J. Heinz Company, Allegheny, the Rev. L. W. Hainer.

THE WEATHER.

Fair.

This will be another hot day, like yesterday, and it is probable the mercury will again reach the maximum temperature in the neighborhood of the '90s, as it has since the torrid wave reached this section. Although the maximum temperature for yesterday was 90, one degree less than on the day previous, yet the hot atmosphere made all sweltter and another list of deaths and prostrations was reported as the result of the awful heat. The prediction for tomorrow is for showers.

CARPET OF WHITE SATIN IN AISLE FOR BRIDE'S FEET

ALTAR BANKED IN ROSES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Lenox, Mass., July 8.—In picturesque Trinity Episcopal church, surrounded with lavish floral decorations and under sunny skies, Miss Leila Vanderbilt Sloane, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas Sloane of New York and Lenox, and Mr. William Bradhurst Osgood Field of New York were married here today.

The assembly of guests, the accoutrements of the ceremony, the value of the wedding gifts and the wealth and social prominence of all interested parties, made the event the most magnificent of its kind that ever took place in the Berkshire country. More than 200 guests, including representatives of the most wealthy New York families, were present.

The church was most elaborately decorated. The chancel and the main aisle were carpeted in white satin. The altar was banked in white roses and on either side of the chancel were rows of palms, from which stood out long-stemmed roses. Mrs. Sloane selected the program for the organ recital given, while the wedding guests were assembling, by Mr. Edward Witherspoon, organist of Trinity church. Carl F. Escher, violinist, of Pittsfield, and Charles Schuetze, harpist, of New York assisted.

Coming of the Bride.

The ushers who led the procession to the altar were Erskine Hewitt, Frederick Kernochan, William A. Burden, Ernest Iselin, H. Roger Winthrop, A. D. Irving, Jr., and Alexander Webb, Jr. Immediately following were the eight bridesmaids, the first three named being cousins of the bride—Miss Frederica Webb, Miss Florence Twombley, Miss Evelyn Sloane. Miss Frances Crocker, Miss Emily Rogers, Miss Marion Whittaker, Miss Marion Haven and Miss Dolly Kernochan. Miss Kernochan was maid of honor. The bride was accompanied by her father, Morris Kellogg of Elizabeth, N. J., was best man.

The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer of St. Bartholomew's church of New York officiated, assisted by the Rev. Harold Arrowsmith, rector of Trinity church.

Selections from "Romeo and Juliet" were played during the ceremony and the grand march from "Aida" was rendered as a recessional.

Costume of Ivory Satin.

The bride's costume was of ivory satin. Her veil was the one worn by her elder sisters, Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr., and Mrs. John H. Hammond, at their weddings.

The gowns of the maids were all of ecru muslin over yellow taffeta silk.

Pale blue sashes and large hats of blue chiffon were worn and light blue chiffon parasols, gifts of the bride, were carried. The parasols were of great value, the handles being set in precious stones and jewels.

Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at Elmcourt, the country house of Mr. and Mrs. Sloane. The house decorations were of roses.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Field drove over to Pittsfield on a buckboard behind the bride's own roan hackneys. They took the afternoon train for New York. They are to spend their honeymoon on George W. Vanderbilt's Biltmore estate in North Carolina, following a custom established by the bride's sisters. Late in August they will go abroad for a year's travel.

OUTPUT TO BE INCREASED.

New Owners of Penn Manor Shaft Company Will Double the Present Capacity.

The Penn Manor Shaft Company, under the new ownership which took charge on July 1, is arranging for a heavy increase in the output at the Irwin district mine. The output of fine gas coal which was taken out under the old ownership at the rate of 600 to 700 tons a day is to be promptly brought up to about 1,200 tons daily and this may be increased to as high as 1,500 tons.

The new owners of the company have ordered from the Jeffrey Manufacturing Company and the Morgan-Gardner Mining Machine Company sufficient machines to so increase this output. This was done in anticipation of the closing of the purchase of the property and some of the mining machines have already been shipped.

The reorganized Penn Manor Shaft Company will continue to send most of its product east, where the high grade gas coal has a ready market. It is possible to send Penn Manor coal to the seaboard and other eastern markets under freight rates 15 cents the ton less than the rate charged for Youghiogheny and other gas coal of the Pittsburgh district proper. New headquarters of the company have been opened on the sixth floor of the Frick building.

The new organization of the Penn Manor Company has not been perfected, but it will include the following officers and directors, with possibly one or two additional directors: C. F. Perin of New York, formerly general manager of the Virginia Iron, Coal & Railroad Company, president; D. W. Kuhn of Pittsburgh, vice president, and H. A. Kuhn of Pittsburgh secretary and treasurer.

SCHWARM VICE PRESIDENT

Elected to Fill Place at South Side Hospital Caused by Removal of H. C. Stolzenbach.

The board of directors of the South Side hospital met last night and reorganized for the ensuing year. Charles Schwarm was elected to the vice presidency, to take the place of C. Henry Stolzenbach, who was removed from the directorate at the annual meeting of the hospital contributors on July 1.

William Sankey was elected a member of the board in place of Mr. Stolzenbach. Dr. A. F. Husted, a member of the hospital staff, was elected to fill the place of Dr. J. D. Thomas, who died some months ago. Dr. M. F. Creaven was elected as Dr. Husted's successor. There were no other changes in the hospital staff.

mercury went up to 73. From this hour it went up at the rate of three degrees an hour until 10 o'clock, when the mercury struck its pace and settled down to climbing up the tube at the rate of two degrees per hour. At 4 o'clock it had reached 90 degrees and remained at this mark until 5 o'clock, when the evening air began settling over the city, which drove the mercury down at the rate of one degree an hour.

Relief Sought Last Night.

At 8 o'clock last night all who could managed to get away from the close, hot streets and out into the open air, many taking to the rivers and parks in the hope of finding relief and rest from the sweltering atmosphere. Collars and shirts were in a poor condition within a short time and all alike presented a bedraggled appearance. At midnight the temperature was going down slowly but surely, but the fall from the maximum of 90 degrees for the day was not sufficient to allow any decided relief. At midnight the mercury was at 81 degrees, making last midnight the hottest Pittsburgh has had since the torrid weather began.

The reports received last night at the local weather offices from the observers show there were few places where it was hotter yesterday than it was in Pittsburgh. The reports also showed little rain had fallen yesterday, except at Charlotte, N. C., where it is reported there was a heavy downpour during the day.

FATAL EXPLOSION OCCURS AT DUQUESNE

Powder Dumped on Hot Slag Kills One Man and and Injured Three Others.

By an explosion of giant powder at Duquesne yesterday one man was killed, three were seriously injured and several more were struck by flying fragments. The explosion was in Thompson's hollow, over which passes the high bridge a short distance west of Kennywood park.

The Dead.

SAVERIO CANIO, 35 years of age, of Duquesne. Leaves a wife and three children.

Seriously Injured.

GEORGE FLEMING, 55 years of age, of Port Perry; burned, cut and bruised; married.
ARCHIE VINCENT, 26 years of age, single, Duquesne; burned, cut and bruised.
MICHAEL SKELISH, 30 years of age; single, Duquesne; head crushed, cut and burned.

All of the above injured were taken to Mercy hospital, where, last night, they were in a dangerous condition, but not liable to die before morning. There were a number of others slightly injured, but all of them were able to go to their homes.

For several weeks the slag from the Edgar Thomson furnaces across the river has been dumped in this hollow and a large section of the hollow has been filled with it. The slag is at white heat when the ladles are tipped over, but soon hardens on the surface.

The men injured were employed by the Pittsburgh & Bessemer railroad, and were blasting slag so that a portion of it could be moved by a steam shovel. A hole had been drilled in the solid slag and into the hole the contents of a 25-pound keg of powder had been put, with the intention of blowing up the slag so that it could be moved by the shovel, to be used as ballast.

It is supposed that the slag was hot at the bottom of the hole and that the heat set off the powder. Without any warning there was a terrific explosion, and the men, solid lumps of slag and the slag from underneath were thrown into the air. The men who were not injured ran away, and it was not until persons who heard the explosion reached the scene that the injured received any attention.

It was 11 o'clock when the explosion occurred, and it was after 8 o'clock when the injured were sent to Mercy hospital. The first delay was because of the inaccessible place where the explosion occurred, the next delay was because not one of the company doctors in Duquesne could be found and then there was another delay in taking the men to the emergency hospital of the Edgar Thomson works, Braddock.

The body of Canio was viewed by a deputy coroner and was then taken to an undertaker's in Braddock. Canio must have been directly over the hole, as his body was blown to pieces.

NEW START FOR MANUAL TRAINING

Plan to Be Submitted for Schools to Be Established by the Sub-Districts.

Manual training in the public schools of Pittsburgh got a start for a new growth at the meeting of the central board of education last night. The matter came up in the report by the committee on industrial schools of a resolution authorizing the committee to prepare a plan for manual training schools under which the city would pay instructions when the sub-districts establish such schools. There are now several such training schools where the sub-districts pay all expenses.

John H. McAlroy opposed the report on the ground that it was providing a way to saddle expense on the whole city after the sub-districts had grown tired of a fad. He declared there is not half enough time for the children to study what is thrust upon them, and asserted that the schools are not turning out scholars. Besides the children are breaking down under the strain and in one school last year six children gave way from over-study. He was almost alone in his fight and the report was adopted.

The committee on vacations reported a schedule for next year. Under its term school opens on September 1, but in honor of Labor Day the pupils are to be dismissed as soon as enrolled.

Schools will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, November 27, and the day following, November 28; from December 25 to January 5, for the holiday vacation; on Monday, February 23, when Washington's birthday will be celebrated, and from March 27 to April 3, for the spring holiday. The closing date was fixed at June 26. This left Good Friday out and there were strong objections. It was finally fixed by striking out November 28, the day following Thanksgiving, and inserting Good Friday.

On recommendation of the committee on compulsary education, the 12 truant officers were re-elected at the present salary of $60 a month. The secretary was directed to prepare certificates for pupils of parochial schools who passed the examination for the high school. George W. Goeser, F. B. Cameron and W. A. Lauffer were appointed a committee on athletics.

MORE HOME MISSIONS.

This Time Those of the Reformed Church Are Receiving Attention in Pittsburgh.

A meeting of much importance to the Reformed Church of the United States began last evening at the Seventh Avenue hotel when the executive committee of the Board of Home Missions of the church began its sessions. The meeting will continue today.

It is altogether probable that definite steps will be taken toward the establishment of a church of this denomination in Allegheny, in preparation for which work has been under way for several months.

The members of the committee are: The Rev. E. R. Eschbach, Frederick, Md., president; the Rev. J. J. Leberman, Lancaster, O., vice president; the Rev. Dr. T. J. Barclay, Gettysburg, secretary; C. M. Bousch, Meadville, treasurer; the Rev. C. E. Miller, president of Heidelberg university, Tiffin, O.; Prof. J. Sechler, Philadelphia; the Rev. D. S. Fouse, general superintendent, the Rev. A. S. Deschant, Lisbon, Ia.; the Rev. A. C. Whitmer, Lancaster, Pa.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE SHORTER DAY IS ASKED

Drug Clerks Will Request Ten Hours as Working Standard.

LONGER DAY DANGEROUS

A Committee Was Appointed by the Executive Committee of the Clerks to Meet the Druggists in Conference and Present Their Claims.

The druggists and the drug clerks of this city and county will come to a harmonious understanding in regard to the shorter day for the drug clerks, if plans laid at a meeting of the latter last evening are carried out. The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Retail Drug Clerks' association met at the Pittsburgh College of Pharmacy last evening and appointed a committee to meet with a similar committee from the Western Pennsylvania Retail Druggists' association to consider the practicability of a plan to accomplish this end which the clerks will suggest.

On this subject there have been several strong fights in various sections of the country within the past few years. The bitterest fight was in New York city about two years ago. The drug clerks there formed a labor organization, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and finally forced a bill through the legislature naming the maximum number of hours per day for the work of drug clerks.

Will Be Met Half Way.

No plan of this kind, it was stated last evening, is now being considered by the local association of the clerks. Assurances have been given by officers and prominent members of the druggists' association that the clerks would be met half way in what all admit is a reform for the benefit of the general public, quite as much as for the clerks. It is believed that there will be no necessity for anything more than the working out of the details of a plan by which the hours of work can be made fewer, to have the plan receive the indorsement of the druggists and be put into effect.

The request of the clerks is for a workday averaging ten hours. On account of the peculiar demands of the occupation it is not planned to have this 10 hours each day, but an average of 10 hours a day for each two weeks. The following were appointed a committee to meet a similar committee to be appointed from the Druggists' association: W. A. Ferry, W. P. Kells, George H. Anderson, D. E. Lewis, Fred Schiller, A. F. Judd and H. S. Kossler, the last two ex-officio as secretary and president, respectively, of the clerks' association.

Committee Meets Tuesday.

This committee will frame the request of the clerks in detail at a meeting next Tuesday evening and will be ready to meet the committee from the druggists at a date yet to be set.

It was shown at last evening's meeting that there is a large number of drug clerks in Pittsburgh and Allegheny who are working from 17 to 20 hours a day. It is claimed by the clerks that no man who is spending that much of his time at work can be in fit condition to handle the drugs and fill prescriptions upon which life or death may depend. The many mistakes that are occurring in filling doctors' prescriptions are said to be due largely to the fact that insufficient rest and sleep is in many cases rendering the qualified assistants or registered pharmacists employed as clerks unfit to attend to their responsible duties.

In the clerks' association there are about 250 members. This includes the majority of the clerks employed in the county. The organization is only a year and a half old, but is already very strong.

QUAY-STONE MEETING IS SCHEDULED TODAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., July 8.—Senator Quay is scheduled to come to Harrisburg from Beaver tomorrow to meet Gov. Stone and Senator Penrose, who will come from Philadelphia for the same purpose. The trio will meet at the executive mansion to discuss the appointment of a successor to Judge Pennypacker, if he should decide to retire from the common pleas bench of Philadelphia in time for the election of the appointee at the November election.

The governor has been anxiously awaiting for Senator Quay's coming ever since it was first announced, immediately after the recent Republican state convention, that he would come to Harrisburg for a conference with Stone. The governor has been disappointed so often that he had almost given up hope of the senator making his proposed visit until he received word today from Beaver to look out for Quay tomorrow, and that Penrose would be here at the same time.

Attorney General Elkin arrived here tonight from New York, and when told that Quay and Penrose were expected tomorrow by Stone he said: "I have no engagement to meet them."

"Senator Grady is just trying to have a little midsummer amusement for himself," said Attorney General Elkin, speaking of the Philadelphia senator's claim that the new congressional apportionment is unconstitutional. "It is not a serious matter."

As a matter of fact, there is not a word in the constitution saying how congressional districts shall be formed. The constitution is silent on congressional apportionment, but directs that senatorial districts must "be of compact and contiguous territory as nearly equal in population as may be," etc.

reached the place they scattered and took positions so they could watch the house to the best advantage. The peculiar actions of Mrs. Gerald convinced them that Tracy was still in the house.

On the arrival of Sheriff Cudihee the posse closed in on the house, only to learn from Mrs. Gerald that Tracy had given them the slip. He left the house by a rear door 10 minutes previously, while the posse were taking up positions to watch the place, hid for a few minutes in some bushes, and then quietly slipped away through the woods toward Palmer.

The wonderful coolness and daring of the convict were never more fully exemplified than in this instance. In the back yard of the Gerald home Anderson, the man whom Tracy had kept a prisoner from the time he left Port Madison, was found tied to a tree. Tracy tied up Anderson while the posse was in full view of the house.

The bloodhounds were let loose on his trail and are reported to be only a few minutes behind him. Fully 1,000 armed men are now in pursuit, including a posse which has taken the trail for Palmer to intercept Tracy in his flight toward Cedar mountain.

Tracy Has Four Pals.

RENTON, WASH., July 8.—In the Renton saloon John Anderson related his experience since the night he left Port Madison in Johnson's white boat until his rescue at Gerald's house at 6 o'clock tonight. From his story it is evident that Tracy has accomplices.

"I pulled the boat, he (Tracy) holding a gun over me all the way," said Anderson. "We landed south of the West Seattle elevator, under a trestle, and went directly into the woods. Just before we reached the railroad bridge over Black river we met four men, and Tracy said: 'Hello, Fred,' and jumped down the bank to where the men were standing.

"After the talk was finished Tracy left one of the men to watch me. He and the three others, after blindfolding me, went off and stayed about an hour. When they returned they brought a bottle of whisky. Then we started out. Tracy forced me to walk in front, and he followed behind, accompanied by the four men we met at the bridge. We arrived at Renton about 11 o'clock. Here Tracy tied me up, and he, accompanied by the four strange men, left me. They returned at daylight this (Tuesday) morning and we went farther back into the brush and cooked breakfast.

"He brought a little boy from Gerald's house and we walked down to the Gerald place together. We were in the house about three hours when Tracy took me out into the brush. At the river bank he said: 'Lie down.' After looking up and down the river Tracy tied me up and cautioned me to keep still. I lay in this position until called to by Mrs. Gerald, when I hobbled out of the brush yard, where this gentleman (indicating a reporter) untied the leather straps which held me."

Steers Invade Court.

ALTOONA, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—During the trial of a case in the court of Alderman J. B. Raymond in this city today the room was unceremoniously invaded by two ferocious steers. They were being driven along the street and were foaming at the mouth from the extreme heat and continuous battling with each other.

Upon the appearance of the animals a panic ensued and lawyers, litigants and witnesses hastily fled through the windows and doors, barely escaping serious injury. The steers continued to fight in the court room for a considerable time. They were finally subdued and driven away, whereupon the trial of the case was permitted to resume.

Bits of Store News That Should Have Been Given Some Time Ago.

But these Clearance Sales and Remnant Sales have been so engrossing that we have scarcely had time for anything else.

So we give you these little news paragraphs first this morning.

INDIAN BRIC-A-BRAC—A very good collective name for the Indian goods, now being exhibited (and for sale) on the Mezzanine floor, by the Hyde Exploring Expedition Co., the largest Indian traders in America.

The old way of dealing with our red brother was to bunco him with a magnum of rum and some tobacco; the new way, as introduced by the Hyde Co., is to use educational methods, pay him fairly for his goods and teach him commercial ideas.

The exhibits, especially of den and cosy-corner goods, is a splendid one and embraces about everything the different tribes of Indians produce—Navajo Blankets, the hand-work of the Navajo Indians of Arizona, baskets made by all the tribes, from the tiny basket of sweet grass to immense waste baskets contrived by Apache Indians; Sioux Bead Work represented by Vests, Papoose Carriers, Moccasins, Pipe Bags, War Coats and Leggins, Dog Feast Drums, Bows and Arrows, all kinds of Navajo Silver work, together with Mexican Sombreros, very fine Mexican Drawn Work—centers, doylies, lunch cloths, etc.—and a complete exhibit of Indian curios.

On the whole an interesting study of the products of those very interesting people.

In this connection we may state that the Hyde Co. will undertake contracts for the production of Indian Corners and Dens. The work will be done satisfactorily, subject to any change that may be requested.

MASSAGE AND ITS VARIOUS FORMS—Since the beginning of the year Madame Clara Hall, a noted masseuse, has been in charge of our massage parlors on the Mezzanine floor, where facial massage, manicuring, hair dressing and hair waving has been given expert demonstration.

It is quite a convenience to run up the short flight of steps and have any of this work properly done, and we have heard many flattering comments on the innovation.

Among her many specialties Madame Hall's most prominent is that of scalp treatment. Some remarkable results have been attained by her method.

She also has her own preparations of skin foods, which are on sale in this department.

EXCURSIONISTS to Atlantic City, or Asbury Park, or any of the other seaside resorts, should see us about their bathing suits.

This thing of having to don any kind of a suit handed out to you isn't just the thing. Much more satisfactory—very much more—to own your suit. The way we sell bathing suits makes the cost trifling.

TAILORED SUITS—Although mention was made of the Women's Ready-Made Suit department yesterday afternoon, don't take that as an indication that the bargains are about done. Come and see. The department is still full of them.

The finest of suits in wash materials, the suits of woolens and silks, still present excellent choice.

Yesterday as a Remnant Day made a new record. It was our intention to have it do so. Only on one other occasion do we remember of seeing the store so continually full of people throughout the day. Our Remnant Day is not enough for this store, so each Tuesday through the month is to be a Day for Remnants, and the details will be given in advance.

Ruffled lace Bobbinet Curtains in lots of 2, 3, 4 and 5 pairs of a pattern, that sold for $2.50 and $3 a pair, are all bunched together for clearance at the nominal price of $1.50 the pair.

Muslin Ruffled Curtains with colored borders, and allover printed Mull Curtains that sold for $1.50, $1.75 and $2 the pair, have on them the special price of $1 pair.

Another lot of Ruffled Muslin Curtains will be sold for 50c a pair, which in many cases is only one-half what we formerly asked.

Colored applique Net Curtains that sold for $7.50, $8, $9, $11 and $15 a pair are reduced to the round price of $5 a pair.

And as a wind-up to this remarkable list of underpriced curtains we announce for 25c a yard, choice from French and English Cretonnes that sold for 45c, 50c, 60c and 75c a yard. The color variety is great and the color combinations are beautiful.

Endeavorers when down town are invited to make our store a sort of headquarters. The Public Parlor is a nice place for social chat and the Restaurant will show how a modern store caters to modern demands.

FOUR PERSONS ARE DROWNED

RESCUER LOST HIS LIFE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 8.—Jerry Lavely, a civil war veteran, was drowned in Stony creek at the Beulah ford this afternoon. Two horses also were drowned. Mr. Lavely was 55. He was drowned in sight of hundreds of people, who were powerless to assist. He drove into the river to water the horses. A heavy current caught the team and wagon and carried them under the big bridge a quarter of a mile down stream. Lavely was floating in the wagon all this time and seemed safe until the wagon struck a snag, pulling all underneath. His body has not yet been recovered.

OIL CITY, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—The body of an unknown man, between 45 and 50, was found in the Allegheny river near Rockland today.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., July 8.—(Special.)—Sheridan Hite, a farmer, was drowned in Opequon creek yesterday, while attempting to rescue William Ropp, another young man who was bathing and got into deep water. He saved Ropp, but lost his own life. He was 35 years old and single.

MONONGAHELA, PA., July 8.—Joseph Sienborski, aged 35, married, a miner employed in the Cincinnati mines at Courtney, was drowned while swimming in the Monongahela river this morning.

BONDS AND WILL MISSING.

Greensburg Man Claims Attorney Has His Valuable Papers.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—Jacob Byers, one of the wealthiest farmers in this locality, is reported to have been robbed of bonds and other securities amounting to nearly $200,000. Mr. Byers is over 80 years old. A short time ago, it is alleged by heirs and legatees, he framed a will, which, with the securities, was given to a lawyer of Greensburg to deposit in a safe.

The lawyer declares that no such valuables had been turned over to him. Threats are being made tonight that the arrest of the accused will follow.

Ex-Congressman Thropp Arrested.

BEDFORD, PA., July 8.—Ex-Congressman Joseph E. Thropp of Everett was arrested by Constable Saikeld of Hopewell, on the charge of violating the fish law. It is alleged that acid or other destructive matter was emptied in the Raystown branch of the Juniata river from Thropp's furnace at Everett and that the fish in the stream for a distance of six miles were destroyed. People living along the creek secured great quantities of fish, one women getting seven bushels.

Coke Shortage Closes Furnace.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 8.—(Special.)—The first furnace in the Mahoning valley to close down on account of the scarcity of coke, is the Struthers furnace. The other furnaces are running from "hand to mouth." The trouble is caused by the scarcity of motive power with the railroads, which are unable to move the coke.

BIG COAL COMPANY BEING ORGANIZED

Transfers of Large Holdings Are Made in Cambria County.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EBENSBURG, PA., July 8.—A large bituminous coal company is forming in Cambria county. The holdings of several small operators and coal land owners have been purchased by representatives of the proposed company.

Fifteen deeds were filed yesterday, making over to J. L. Mitchell, or his attorney, coal properties in different parts of the county. The approximate valuation of the holdings they represent is $250,000. A single deed will be made, conveying to W. A. Lathrop of Wilkesbarre the entire property.

The new company will own 50,000 acres of coal lands in the county. The holdings lie in West Taylor, Cambria, Jackson, Blacklick, Barr, Carroll and Susquehanna townships. In addition there are sections in the extreme north of the county and also in the extreme south.

DIED IN WORKHOUSE.

Canton Man Succumbs From Fourth of July Celebration.

CANTON, O., July 8.—(Special.)—Robert Ralston, who was arrested on the Fourth for intoxication and who had several fits during his appearances in police court, died at the workhouse hospital.

He had been a popular young man and at one time was head clerk in one of the large stores of the city. When the Spanish-American war broke out he enlisted with the Eighth Ohio and saw service in Cuba. The Spanish-American War Veterans' association took charge of the remains.

Passed Medical Examination.

HARRISBURG, July 8.—(Special.)—Only five of the 52 applicants for license to practice in Pennsylvania failed at the recent examination by the Homeopathic State Board of Medical Examiners at Philadelphia. The successful applicants from Western Pennsylvania were Edmund T. Tripp, Pittsburgh; John C. Sutton, Butler; Charles E. Peach and James C. Logan, Allegheny; John H. Humes, Hollidaysburg; J. Glenn Hemington, Uniontown; Perry L. Belsinger, Johnstown, and Hugh B. Barclay, Bedford.

Democrats Elect Councilmen.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—At special election today the Democrats elected their candidates for council in four wards. The election was to fill vacancies. The successful candidates are Dr. C. F. Hannan, Dr. H. F. Tomb, William H. Correll, and William S. O'Brien.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Dr. N. H. Chaney of Chillicothe has been selected to succeed Prof. F. Treudley as superintendent of schools of Youngstown.

PIEDMONT, W. VA.—J. J. Laffey, a pumper of Crabtree, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near Piedmont, was accidentally knocked from a train near his home and killed.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—O. B. Hitchcock, who was arrested at Marietta, was brought here and lodged in jail, charged with forgery. It is alleged he passed checks with forged indorsements aggregating several hundred dollars.

GREENSBURG, PA.—Mrs. Mary McWilliams of near Middletown, during a fit of despondency, went to the stable and hanged herself, and when found by her son was dead. She was aged 48 and is survived by three sons and one daughter.

LONG-DISTANCE GAME OF CHESS

WILL REQUIRE FIVE YEARS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CANTON, O., July 8.—One man in Canton and another in Warsaw, Russia, are engaged in a game of chess, the playing of which, it is estimated, will require five years, as it is being conducted by mail and requires 14 days for a letter to pass between the two points.

The contestants are S. Kayser, employed in one of the local steel roofing plants, playing the black men, and H. Bloch, a merchant of Warsaw, playing the white.

The game was prompted by Charles Rosenblum of Kharkoff, a wealthy Russian who is closely related to the contestants and who is an ardent devotee of the game. He has put up a purse of 10,000 rubles (about $500), three-fourths to go to the winner and one-fourth to the loser. Four moves have already been made in the game.

SHERADEN INQUEST ENDS WITH A CENSURE

Finding of Coroner's Jury in Matter of the Horror of May 12—Missing Brakeman Blamed.

Howard Bodle, a brakeman, who is supposed to have cut the cars that caused the explosion at Sheraden on May 12, in which 27 persons lost their lives, and who has not been seen since early in June, was "censured" by the coroner's jury yesterday when it returned a verdict. The verdict reads as follows:

The verdict of the jury is that the 27 victims came to their deaths from burns received by the explosion of five cars of naphtha which were being drilled in the Sheraden yards of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroads by engines 115 and 127, on Monday, May 12, 1902, about 4:20 o'clock p. m. The said five cars and several others were cut off from part of the train by Brakeman Howard Bodle, the cars running into part of another train, breaking three of the naptha cars, the same taking fire and causing the other two cars to explode, about 6:10 p. m., throwing burning naphtha in all directions, and from the evidence the jury finds that all deaths were due to the above cause. Further, we censure Howard Bodle for cutting off the cars without orders and recommend that no cars hauling any inflammable or explosive matter shall be detached from locomotives until properly placed.

All of the witnesses yesterday were railroad men, and many of them were employed on the wrecked train or were very near it when the explosion took place. Few could give any positive information.

Thomas Traynor, engineer of No. 127, said he was signaled to stop and as his engine was on a curve he was enabled to see on both sides of the track. Witness said he saw a brakeman pass between the cars and go through the motions of cutting the train. He was then signaled to pull the cars out, and said the flowing naptha took fire where the switch light was placed.

A number of other witnesses were called but they were not able to tell anything additional about the accident, and the inquest was closed.

GOLFERS PLAY UNDER SHADE OF UMBRELLAS

Allegheny Country Club's Open Tournament Began in Wilting Heat.

PORTER'S BRILLIANT FORM

In the hottest day's golf play ever known about Pittsburgh John E. Porter of Sewickley offered the best 36 holes of qualifying competition ever returned for a local tournament yesterday on the new Allegheny Country club course. Outside of Porter's brilliant golf the heat was the feature of the annual open tournament, and for the first time umbrellas were seen on a local course under a cloudless sky, Porter himself walking from hole to hole beneath the protecting shade. He returned a card of 155 for the 36 holes of play, 10 strokes under the second man, George A. Ormiston. Porter's first round was 77, exactly equal to "bogey," and his second was 78, being the more exceptional on account of the wilting heat, which caused others to break from their form.

One Golfer Was Overcome.

H. L. Case of Oil City was compelled to withdraw after the first round, overcome by the heat. The amateur record for the course, previous to the lengthening of two of the holes, was 75, by E. M. Byers, and equaled by Porter on July 4. Porter receives a gold medal offered for the lowest qualifying score. The tournament was exceptional in that out of the 36 starters all but Case finished. Sixteen qualified for the first cup and the next 16 for the second trophy.

Porter has won the tournament for two seasons past, and is a prime favorite on yesterday's form, though Byers is counted on for an improvement.

F. Oden Horstmann, third man, played in the semi-finals against Porter last season, losing in 19 holes. Ormiston, who was but 10 strokes higher than Porter, had played over the course but once before and was runner-up in the final last year.

Byers, the local amateur champion, was off in his driving, but strong on his short game, as shown by 2 holes in 2, one, the fourth, 194 yards, being by virtue of a 35-foot putt. He had the best score for nine holes, with 37. The players from out of town were Horstmann, Case, Williams and Tillinghast. The scores for the day:

ROUND ROBIN TOURNEY.

Some Fine Tennis Playing in New York.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Holcombe Ward and Dwight F. Davis, the holders of the national and international title in doubles today appeared in the round robin tennis tournament on the Country club of Westchester courts. They opposed Little and Alexander, the old-time Princeton pair, who captured the second set. Davis' terrific smashing and strong service was the feature. Steadiness saved the Wrenn brothers from defeat at the hands of Clothier and Ogden, all of the points in sets being close. Malcolm D. Whitman played two sets with Leo F. Ware, and lost the second, because of his inability to stop Ware's side line passing.

Opening of Tennis Tournament.

In the open tennis tournament, which also opened yesterday afternoon, F. J. Orth defeated Dr. Maitland Alexander, 6-2, 6-2; A. P. Simmon defeated J. B. Crookston, 6-1, 6-2; C. W. Nicol won by default. Clinton L. Childs and S. C. Sterritt defaulted. The second round in singles and the first in doubles will be played today. Sixteen pairs are entered in the doubles.

BAD BACKS IN PITTSBURGH.

Plenty of them here—Hundreds and thousands—The rush and hurry and work of this great city are responsible—People haven't time to take care of aching backs—Doesn't amount to much, they think—Be over in a little while—and so it goes on from bad to worse—and there's only one end—if it isn't cared for. Kidneys are to blame—too much strain put upon them—they can't do the work nature intends them to do.

Backache is their cry for help—and you've got to help them if you want to cure the backache—That's what

Doan's Kidney Pills

Are for—to help sick kidneys—And that's what they have been doing here in Pittsburgh and all over the country for years—making sick kidneys well—curing bad backs—making people strong and happy. Proof! There's plenty of it—The testimony of your friends and neighbors—What better could there be? Read this:

PENN AVENUE.

Nelson Lawson, 1420 Penn avenue, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble eight or ten years. It was brought on in the first place, I think, by heavy lifting. There was a constant pain in my back and under the shoulder blades; I had a depressed, weary feeling—too much uric acid in my blood, the doctors said, but they didn't seem able to help me any. The secretions were variable and unnatural. My legs and feet frequently became puffed up and painful. I could not rest comfortably in any position. I tried a number of medicines without effect, until finally, on the advice of a friend, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved me within a few hours, and finally cured me completely. Doan's Kidney Pills have been well named the 'Little Conquerors.'"

LOSS TO THE BRITISH OF MERCHANT MARINE DEPLORED BY LIBERAL

The Question of Subsidizing Ships Discussed in the House of Lords.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 8.—Lord Brassey (Liberal) initiated a discussion on naval matters in the house of lords today. He deplored the fact that Great Britain had lost the place she once held with her merchant marine. The question of subsidies, he thought, must depend on the action of the other powers. All the naval powers of Europe gave liberal subsidies, while President Roosevelt and Former Secretary Gage had recommended this policy.

It was contrary to British policy to foster industries by bounties or protection, but to pay for a reserve of auxiliary vessels would certainly be to the public advantage.

Lord Selborne, the first lord of the admiralty, in the course of a reply, referred to the Atlantic shipping combine. He said it seemed to him that the balance was one of disadvantage to the combination because it necessarily placed very large powers in the hands of a few men. The government disclaimed any sort of jealousy of the intention of the Americans here. They had an American marine of their own and they had a perfect right to a full share of the Atlantic trade. It was to British interest that they should have it. It should not be an almost British monopoly.

On the other hand, Great Britain could not afford to see herself squeezed out of the Atlantic trade. The attitude of the government, therefore, was not one of hostility, but one of anxiety, and not until it had formed a final opinion of the whole question could it wisely or fairly enter into agreements with one party or the other.

It would never do to rely in time of war on merchant ships of other nations for the purposes of British carrying trade. Great Britain had fallen behind in regard to vessels of high speed because she had not given heavy subsidies like other nations. The expense of so large a subsidy policy was so insidious that in his opinion the subsidizing of commercial corporations should and must be confined to a limited number and for a special and definite purpose.

While merchant cruisers had their proper place in time of war they could never be substituted for naval cruisers, nor would the possession of merchant cruisers even diminish the shipbuilding vote for the navy.

In the house of commons today the parconfirmed the report that J. P. Morgan had offered to place all the British ships in the new combine at the disposal of the admiralty for 50 years, on certain terms. He added that the offer had not yet been accepted, because it could only be dealt with in relation to British shipping generally and the Atlantic trade position, which was being very carefully considered by the government.

AMUSING INCIDENT DECEIVED SPANISH

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 8.—Captain Pohl, who was on the German cruiser Irene, in Manila harbor, relates in the Marine Rundschau what he deems to be the "amusing basis of the American misconceptions of the attitude of Germany toward the blockade." He says the band of the Irene played an American air after saluting Commodore Dewey's flag. The Spanish pilot thought it was the Spanish coronation hymn, and related the incident ashore in extravagant language.

The Spanish newspapers in Manila printed this version of the incident and the Spaniards in Manila and elsewhere showed an enthusiastic liking for everything German, the commander of the volunteers of Iloilo telegraphing to the commander of the Irene his thanks for the "sympathetic demonstration."

The Americans in Manila, therefore, according to Captain Pohl, believed the pilot's story, but Commodore Dewey, knowing the facts, laughed at them.

Pope Pleased at Celerity With Which Friars' Lands Negotiations Are Transacted.

ROME, July 8.—The answer of the committee of cardinals to Gov. Taft's recent note on the subject of friars' lands in the Philippine islands was presented to the pope this morning by Cardinal Rampolla. The pontiff expressed his pleasure at the celerity with which the business had been dispatched and said jestingly:

"We are teaching the Americans the renowned art of hustling."

The answer will be translated into French and will be printed.

EDWARD VII. INSISTED ON CORONATION BEING HELD AT EARLY DATE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 8.—The news that the coronation of King Edward was to be held before the middle of August was published in America before it was known here. But the London Times and other papers this morning confirm the announcement.

The pressing forward of the coronation was due to the personal insistence of the king. His doctors were at first opposed to such an early date, but the king declined to agree to any other plans until he is crowned and the doctors, finally realizing that more danger was likely to arise in opposing his majesty on this point, agreed to it.

They now see the king was right and that it will be far better for him to get through the turmoil of the coronation as soon as possible than to have it hanging over him for months.

King Edward has determined not to break up the court at Buckingham palace until after the coronation. He may go on board his yacht for a few days' cruise, but he is more likely to remain in London till the affair is over and then take a prolonged holiday.

"The king's progress is all that can be desired."

IMMENSE FUND WILL BE RAISED FOR THE MINERS

NO PRESENT AID NEEDED

President Mitchell Declines to Accept Help Until His Resources Are Exhausted—Then Everyone Will Be Asked to Contribute.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 8.—A national defense fund, to which all organized labor and the public in general will be asked to contribute, is the latest proposition placed on foot to help the striking anthracite coal miners if they need assistance in their struggle for higher wages and a shorter workday. Harry White of New York, secretary of the National Garment Workers' union and member of the conciliation committee of the Civic Federation, held a long conference with President Mitchell today, during which the plan was approved by the miners' chief, and Mr. White will at once begin preparations to carry it out. President Mitchell wants it understood, however, that the miners' union will accept no aid until their own resources are exhausted. Mr. White gave out the following statement:

"Efforts will at once be made to originate a movement throughout the country so that the unions and others may be prepared to collect funds when the time is propitious.

"Public men will also undertake an independent movement and solicit subscriptions from those not connected with labor organizations. This movement will be inaugurated in New York city. All friendly will be asked to co-operate. The scheme in brief contemplates the concentration of the energy and resources of organized labor in behalf of the miners' cause, a result which has never been achieved. It involves the raising of a given amount of money each week for which provisions and other necessaries of life will be purchased. The plan has the approval of President Samuel Gompers and it will be placed before the executive council of the American Federation of Labor for indorsement at its session which opens in San Francisco next week.

"Of course, it is understood that the entire plan is contingent upon the Indianapolis convention of the mine workers voting down a motion for a general strike, as in that event the aid which the soft coal miners will be able to render would be cut off, and it would be out of the question to try to maintain the vast number of people who would then be involved.

"The operators are counting upon the means of the miners soon becoming exhausted, and when it is demonstrated to them that the funds will be forthcoming to prolong the contest indefinitely if need be, the situation will be changed materially."

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company today succeeded in starting up its Henry washery at Plains. The coal taken from the culm bank is not sent to market, but is used in the company's boilers.

STILL HAS HOPES.

Senator Hanna Says Civic Federation Is Working on Mine Strike. Conference With Patterson.

POTTSVILLE, PA., July 8.—Congressman George R. Patterson of Ashland, in an interview tonight, said he spent most of yesterday in conference with Senator Hanna at Washington, acquainting the latter with the situation in the anthracite coal region.

Mr. Patterson said Senator Hanna intimated that the civic federation has not yet lost hope of bringing the striking miners and operators together.

Congressman Patterson said Senator Hanna assured him that whatever action was taken by the civic federation looking toward a settlement of the strike it should not be in any way derogatory to the miners.

ORGANIZATION WILL GO ON DURING THE SUMMER

United Irish Leaguers Hereabout Will Continue Active—League Meets in Boston Next.

The executive committee of the central council of the Western Pennsylvania branch of the United Irish league of America will hold a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the office of Alderman John Downey, Grant street, near Fifth avenue, at which arrangements for continuing the work of organizing branches during the summer will be completed.

Edward F. Duffy, president, said yesterday that it was not intended to hold any meetings hereabouts between now and September 1, but that it was proposed to hold a large meeting here early in September. He said he expected to have several of the most prominent leaders in the Irish Nationalist party here about that time for several days to aid in organizing additional branches of the league.

It was also learned from Mr. Duffy that the national executive committee of the United Irish league of America has finally decided upon Boston as the next meeting place of the league, probably the first week in October. Mr. Duffy and Father J. M. Toner, the two delegates from Western Pennsylvania, hoped to have the meeting held in this city and worked earnestly in the matter, but the executive committee decided upon Boston on account of the large representation of the league in that vicinity.

Mr. Duffy will leave on an extended trip to England, Germany, Holland and Ireland on July 16, and while abroad will confer with the leaders of the Irish movement in regard to the work of the league in this country.

BOYS WHO SHOOT BEANS WILL SUFFER

ALLEGHENY COUNTY LIGHT CO. CALLS A HALT ON DAMAGE.

New Street Lamps Used as Targets by Mischievous Boys Entail a Heavy Loss and as Warnings Have Not Been Heeded Suits Will Now Be Instituted.

Boys with flobert rifles, "beanies" and other mischief-dealing appliances who have been amusing themselves shooting at arc lamps on the streets will be prosecuted. For several months the officials of the Allegheny County Light Company have been annoyed by boys breaking the large glass globes surrounding the lamps. Before the introduction of the new lamp globes surrounding arc lamps were frequently broken by mischievous youngsters. As only the cost of the globe, which was less than $1, was involved the company officials made no attempt to prosecute the offenders.

With the new lamp, which casts no shadow underneath, things are different. The construction is such that when a globe is broken the current is short circuited and the whole line is affected. Sometimes it costs from $15 to $18 to repair damage done by boys shooting or throwing stones at the globes. After a score or more globes had been broken the company decided to take action. A reward of $25 will be given for information leading to the arrest of anybody making a target of the globes.

Most of the damage was done on McCandless and Stanton avenues, Carson and Bingham streets and Grant and Beechwood boulevards. For several days the light company has had men out and the city police were also instructed to watch for the offenders. The names of over a dozen boys—several of them sons of prominent men—have been sent to General Superintendent John Murphy of the light company for action.

Supt. Murphy had a conference yesterday with a prominent downtown alderman regarding the instituting of suits against the boys. Parents of some of the suspects were notified, but as they paid no attention to the notice suits will follow.

TROOPS BEGIN MOVING ON GETTYSBURG TODAY

The Advance Details of National Guard Leave for Historic Battlefield This Evening.

The annual encampment of the Pennsylvania national guard will be opened at Gettysburg at gun fire on Saturday morning. There will be no formalities. The flag will be run to the top of the staff at the first note of the revellie, and a puff of white smoke from the morning gun will announce to the sleeping soldiers the opening of the Third division encampment on the historic plains of Gettysburg.

The movement of the troops will begin this evening. The advance details from each regiment with two days' cooked rations will precede the main body, and many of the camps will be pitched and the cook houses erected on the arrival of the regiments.

Details consisting of a sergeant and one private from each company of the Sixteenth infantry will leave the oil country tonight. They will not erect the canvas for the regiment, but each sergeant will simply receipt for the stores delivered to his company by the state. The canvas will be pitched after the arrival of the regiment at Gettysburg, as it has always been the custom in the Sixteenth to build its own camp.

The details from the Fourteenth and Eighteenth infantry and Battery B will leave this evening. The detail from the Fourteenth infantry will be in charge of Capt. Murray G. Livingston, regimental quartermaster, and will consist of a non-commissioned officer and seven privates. The detail from the Eighteenth infantry will be in charge of Capt. Robert W. Bissel and will consist of 60 non-commissioned officers and privates. First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon B. Stewart Ralston will accompany the detail to Gettysburg.

All baggage and impedimenta will be loaded by special details from each regiment at the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania railroad stations. The heavy company baggage of the Eighteenth regiment will be loaded in the Pennsylvania railroad yards, Twenty-sixth and Liberty street, today between 2 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. Horses will be loaded under the direction of Surgeon Raiston at the same place on Thursday evening at 5 o'clock.

An important feature of the orders this year is that which prohibits the presence of women in the camp between certain hours. They will only be permitted between guard mount and tatto roll call. This order has been in force for many years, but this will be the first division encampment since the return of the troops from the Spanish war that it has ever been strictly enforced.

MINERS ARE ADVISED.

Interesting Clause in Call for Delegates to Attend Convention to Consider Anthracite Strike.

The officers and executive board of the Pittsburgh district organization of miners have sent a circular to all local unions reminding them that they are to elect delegates to the special national convention to be held at Indianapolis, July 17, to consider a sympathetic strike or other support for the anthracite strikers. One important clause of the call reads:

"We also advise that delegates should not be hampered with ironclad instructions, and so that your interests will be properly taken care of, delegates should be selected who are worthy of your confidence and who will be able to judge for themselves."

While the officers will not say so, it is hinted in semi-official circles of the miners that none of the four districts, Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, which are parties to the interstate wage contract, will consent to the abrogation of these contracts in order to support the anthracite miners. If this is attempted there is in prospect the disruption of the organization and the independent continuance of these district organizations, which made it possible for the anthracite miners to win partial recognition three years ago.

ZEMA-CURA NEVER FAILS TO MAKE PERFECT SKIN.

There is no excuse in the world for that unhealthy skin which disfigures you in the eyes of all your friends and acquaintances. There is no excuse in the world for eruptions, pimples, blackheads, hives or any other skin trouble.

You can have as clean, clear, bright and attractive skin as Nature ever produced. You can get it by the use of Zema-Cura, the wonderful skin remedy discovered by Dr. Harris. This is not theory nor mere advertising talk.

Dr. Harris worked incessantly for many years to perfect this medicine and used it in an extensive private practice for a long time before offering it to the public generally.

Its record—which no one can dispute—shows that it has not yet failed to cure every known skin trouble where it has been used, leaving no scar or mark behind. The cure will be a permanent one. You will never be troubled again.

"Dear Dr. Harris:—I wish to say a few words of praise in regard to your Eczema Medicine. I had been troubled with Eczema on my hands for about six years, and was recommended to you by Mr. John Weller, of this city, and after about two months of your treatment it all disappeared. I had tried several specialists here and in the East, but could get no relief until I commenced to use Zema-Cura, but am happy to say that it all disappeared at least six months ago, and has never shown any signs of returning. I can honestly recommend it to anyone that is troubled in that way, and am sure they will receive great benefit from same."
H. SCHWABACHER, Louisville, Ky.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp. All druggists sell it. 50 cents and $1.00.

Remember! ZEMA-CURA is not one of the many "patent medicines" of the day. It is a doctor's prescription—a scientific compound that has been used for years by its discoverer, Dr. Harris, in daily practice. It has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health. If you will write to-day Dr. Harris will advise you fully and carefully regarding your case, and charge you absolutely nothing.

Address: Dr. M. M. HARRIS, The Zema-Cura Co., No. 3 West 22nd Street, New York City.

During the treatment of all skin diseases with ZEMA-CURA, externally, U-AH-MA, Dr. Harris' Blood Purifier, taken internally, will be found of great benefit. By acting on the excretory glands U-AH-MA eliminates the poison virus, and hastens and completes the cure. $1.00. Druggists, or express prepaid.

LITTLE CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

Burton D. Little, a yard brakeman in the Pennsylvania railroad yards at Union station, was arrested yesterday by Post-office Inspector Frank A. O'Brien and Secret Service Officer George T. Birdseye on a charge of stealing letters containing money and valuables from the mail cars in and around the yards.

The thefts have been going on for nearly a year, and all efforts to detect the thief by the secret service operators met with failure. A short time ago Little's actions placed him under suspicion and it was decided to test his honesty. Yesterday two letters addressed to fictitious persons in this city and containing marked bills were deposited within reach of Little. In a short time the letters were missed and Little was arrested and searched. The marked bills were found on him.

Little was taken before United States Commissioner W. F. Lindsay, where he admitted stealing the letters and waived a preliminary hearing for court. In default of bail he was committed to jail. Little is married and resides in the East End.

MUCH ROMANCE ABOUT IT.

Nebraskan Marries a Woman Who Was the Flower Girl When He Married the First Time.

Luther M. Roby of Kearney, Neb., was last night married to Miss Mary Chapman of No. 1113 Arch street, Allegheny. Mr. Roby's bride is 24 years younger than he is and was a flower girl at his first wedding in Leesville, O., where the couple first became acquainted.

Shortly after Mr. Roby's first marriage he went west and built up a successful business. About four years ago his wife died, and through friends he learned that Miss Chapman, for whom he had a strong friendship, was still single. The ceremony was performed at the home of the Rev. Dr. F. J. Lenk, in Forbes street. This morning they will start for their home in Nebraska.

UNCLE SAM IS WATCHING BEEF TRUST

The Combine's Efforts to Evade the Law May Not Be Successful.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Officials of the department of justice are watching with keen interest the new movement on the part of "Big Six," comprising the beef trust, and the proposed new form of combination is causing some concern in Washington.

Driven to the wall in their former operation and enjoined by the court at the instance of the United States government, some such move as the one now reported, with a possible attempt to get outside of the law, was not unsuspected by the officials here. Should the combination, as now proposed, take form on the lines of the great railroad merger and the steel combine the question of vulnerability under the existing law at once arises and has already been considered.

There is some division of opinion whether or not the trust in its new form could be attacked. The majority takes the ground that while an injunction was granted the government against the beef trust in its former operations under the first section of the Sherman anti-trust law, it will be possible to proceed against the new combination under the second section of the same law, which reads:

"Every person who shall monopolize or attempt to monopolize, or combine or conspire with any other person or persons to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court."

It is possible that the brains of the beef trust will attempt to make the new combination impossible of attack under the present law, basing its opinions on decisions of the court rendered in the Knight case and the Addyston pipe case, the former of which was decided against the government, while the pipe trust was dissolved by order of the court. In the Addyston case it was found that there was only an agreement between the various companies involved not to compete with one another and this was decided to be in restraint of trade. In the Knight case, in which the government proceeded against the American Sugar Refining Company, it was found that there had been an outright purchase of stock and a combination of various companies under one general management and ownership. Legal opinion which holds that it will be difficult to proceed against the new combination takes the ground that it will be formed on the basis of the Knight decision and conducted in the same manner as the sugar trust is operated.

Judge W. A. Day, who acted with Attorney General Knox in obtaining the injunction against the beef trust, takes the ground that the Sherman anti-trust law is a most admirably drawn statute and thinks it broad enough to cover many large combinations of capital which have not yet received attention from the government. He was not prepared to say whether he thought the new beef combination, as prepared in Chicago, could be proceeded against under the law as it now stands, but he is carefully watching the operations now going on.

PROPOSE TO BUILD ROAD TO PITTSBURGH

Wabash Believed to Be Back of the Philadelphia & Western Line,

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WEST CHESTER, PA., July 8.—It is believed here that the Wabash is back of the Philadelphia & Western railroad. The counsel for the latter, W. W. MacElree, while he will not admit that the Wabash has any interest in the corporation declares that the road will be constructed to Pittsburgh. He says:

"I can't see why people should imagine that we are working in the interest of the Kelly company. The Philadelphia & Western road is a distinct organization with a charter for a steam railroad. We have agreements with land owners on damages in a number of instances. We do not have to bother trying to get rights of way. The officers of the company say they are going to build the road and extend it westward to Pittsburgh.

"It costs a great deal of money to build a steam railroad—two or three times as much as a trolley road. These people are not spending their money to build trolley roads."

DIVORCE ASKED BY SOFFEL FROM CONVICT WIFE

HUSBAND WANTS CARE OF CHILDREN

Divorce proceedings have been instituted against Mrs. Katherine Soffel. Her husband, Peter K. Soffel, the ex-jail warden, has filed an application with the prothonotary charging her with desertion. The process was presented to court and Sheriff William McKinley was instructed to serve notice on her in the Western penitentiary. After this the court will appoint a commissioner to take evidence in the case, as in all probability Mrs. Soffel will be unable to appear on court on account of being in penal servitude. From what could be learned yesterday Mrs. Soffel has no desire to make any defense in the case.

The proceedings were brought about two weeks ago. They were instituted by Soffel's attorney, R. T. McElroy. The plaintiff charges the respondent with having deserted him and their children and so shocked the community that any future habitation with her was made impossible. The former warden of the Allegheny county jail has been contemplating this action since his visit to Butler, shortly after Mrs. Soffel was brought to this city.

She Knew What She Was Doing.

It is alleged that Soffel learned on that visit that his wife had deliberately planned to leave him at a time when she was in full possession of her normal senses to take up a residence by herself or with some unknown persons. The contents of the petition are brief. An absolute separation from the respondent is asked for. From what could be learned from Soffel's friends his parents have had considerable to do in actuating him to take this step and to petition for this form of divorce.

After Kate Soffel was sentenced to the Western penitentiary Soffel lost no time in instituting against his recreant wife.

Soffel is now employed by the Wabash railroad as a right-of-way agent. Since his wife deserted him to liberate two of the most desperate criminals in the annals of Allegheny county he has been living with his father in Mt. Washington.

Wants Custody of Children.

A deputy sheriff will be detailed to acquaint Mrs. Soffel with the proceedings that her husband has taken against her some time this week. The former warden asks for absolute custody of the children. It is alleged in the petition that he is able to support and rear them and that his wife has proven herself as being unfit to maintain them as respectable children should be cared for.

There are four children, two boys and two girls. The oldest is 15 years and the youngest is 7. At the present time they are living with Mr. Soffel's parents in Mt. Washington.

Soffel was disgusted with the action of his wife and asserted himself to his friends that he intended to leave her at the proper time. He did not hesitate to express himself regarding her action in deserting him and their children for the notorious Biddle brothers and assisting them to escape from jail. He said her act was a crime that could not be condoned in the mind of a self-respecting man and husband. While she was awaiting sentence he refrained from instituting the proceedings on account of bringing greater embarrassment on her.

After obtaining the divorce Soffel will continue to live in this city. The children will be sent to school and their education completed under the care and direction of Mr. Soffel's parents and relatives.

GIRLS IN ACCIDENTS.

Runaways in Bellevue and East End Result in Serious Injury to Three Young Women.

A team of horses attached to a hay wagon containing 18 young women out for a frolic ran away yesterday afternoon on a steep grade in Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, and upset, scattering the party over the road. Edith Lang, 18 years old, of Rodgers avenue, Bellevue, had two ribs broken, and Mary Morris, 15 years old, of Vermon avenue, Allegheny, had her right arm broken.

The other occupants of the wagon were all badly bruised from being thrown violently to the ground and from striking stones on the road. All except Miss Lang and Miss Morris were able to go to their homes. The two girls who were more seriously injured were removed in the St. John's general hospital ambulance to their homes.

Katherine Hopkins of No. 5701 Margaretta street had her collar bone broken by being thrown from a buggy at North Highland avenue and Margaretta street, East End, yesterday afternoon. The horse attached to the buggy ran away after the accident and collided with a wagon belonging to C. A. Wright, totally damaging both vehicles. Miss Hopkins was removed to her home, where her brother, Dr. A. J. Hopkins, attended.

AMERICAN TRUST CONTROLS MEAT MARKET OF ENGLAND

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald Co.)

London, July 8.—The position of the American beef trust as regards the English markets develops that Smithfield market, the biggest meat distributing center of the United Kingdom, is absolutely controlled by it. The capture has been secret and gradual, but none the less secure.

Chicago, through its London representatives, today regulates the prices of beef on London, Liverpool and Manchester tables.

A few years ago American firms sold their meat through English salesmen, paying $500,000 yearly in commissions. Then came the "American invasion." The Swift company came first; others followed rapidly, and today the principal stalls are in the hands of Herbert Swift, the Hammond Beef Company, Edward Morris & Co., Armour & Co., the Morris Beef Company, Archer, Dawson & Sulzberger, Nelson Morris and Swift Beef Company, limited, and Cudahy & Co.

BLOODHOUNDS NOW CLOSE ON HIS TRAIL

Seattle, Wash., July 8.—Harry Tracy, the fugitive Oregon convict, who has killed six men and wounded several others since June 9, is being hotly pursued by men and dogs in the country southeast of Seattle, and will probably be surrounded or captured within a few hours. His pursuers, who have with them two fine blood hounds, are only a short distance behind him.

Tracy made another extraordinary escape from one of the posses after him this afternoon. Word was received at the sheriff's office that Tracy had been at the house of a Mrs. Gerald, near Benton, for five hours. Fifty armed men at once hastened to the scene. When they

Were Evidently Traveling Overland When They Were Set Upon by Robbers.

FOUR POSSES TAKE FIELD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Enid, O. T., July 8.—Near Prudence, 30 miles southwest, the bodies of a man, a woman and two children, apparently members of one family, mutilated into almost unrecognizable shapes, were found today. The bodies had been stripped of all clothing, leaving no means of identification.

It is supposed that the family were strangers traveling overland and that they were robbed and murdered by men who then made off with their team and belongings.

On account of Prudence being without telephone, telegraph or railroad connections, it was impossible to secure further particulars. Advices received here via Kingfisher state that it is impossible to identify the bodies by anything yet found in the vicinity. They were found near the Cimarron river, supposedly where a party of movers had camped for the night when attacked and killed by unknown persons.

Sheriffs' posses from Garfield, Woods, Blaine and Kingfisher counties are reported on the trail of evidence that will solve the mystery. Prudence occupies a point where the four counties named come together.

ANOTHER LIST OF VICTIMS OF TORRID HEAT

Yesterday's Record Was Eleven Dead, Seven Prostrated.

WARM WAVE BIDS FAIR TO REMAIN

Another list of deaths and prostrations was the record in Pittsburgh yesterday as a result of the terrible heat which has held this section in its grasp for the past few days. The lists follow:

Dead.

JACOB KOSSET, 44 years of age, of No. 18 Orchard lane, Allegheny; dropped dead at his work in the car wheel works, Preble avenue, Allegheny, at 6 o'clock last night of heat.

CHARLES LARKINS, 28 years of age, driver for D. O'Doherty & Co., Penn avenue and Water street, prostrated at the store and died on the way to the Homeopathic hospital in the ambulance. His home was at No. 5196 Jordan avenue.

SAMUEL McCLINTOCK, 4 months of age, son of Elmer McClintock, No. 310 Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, died yesterday of heat exhaustion.

JOHN BROGASH, mill worker, 32 years of age, died yesterday in the South Side hospital of heat prostration.

WILLIAM STEMLER, 11 months of age, son of William Stemler of Eleventh avenue, Homestead, died yesterday as the result of the heat.

HODESLAU DUNZELSHI, 2 years of age, died of heat prostration yesterday at his home, No. 22 Kosciusko alley.

PAULINE RICISONGER, 1 year of age, of No. 84 Cicero alley, succumbed yesterday to the heat.

CHRISTINA NECILE, 10 months of age, No. 56 Home avenue, died yesterday afternoon of heat exhaustion.

FRANK WILLS, 36 years of age, of No. 138 South Eighteenth street, died of the extreme heat yesterday afternoon.

KARL M. NEFBLING, 56 years of age, died of heat prostration at his home, No. 524 Larimer avenue.

KASLEMEYER SCABOOSH of Rankin, who was overcome by the heat while at work in the steel works at that place last night and removed to the Mercy hospital, died at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

Prostrated.

ANDREW THATER, 30 years of age, of No. 1112 River avenue, Braddock, was prostrated at his work in the Edgar Thomson furnaces, Braddock, last night. He was taken to his home.

GEORGE HASSO, 28 years of age, of Third and Dickson streets, Homestead, was overcome by the heat yesterday while at work on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, at Six Mile Ferry. He was taken to his home.

JOSEPH SMITH, Cass avenue, Allegheny, mill worker, taken to St. John's hospital yesterday noon.

PAUL WIER, 18 years of age, of No. 515 Sandusky street, Allegheny, overcome while at work. Taken to the Allegheny General hospital.

UNKNOWN MAN found in Preble avenue, Allegheny, at 4 o'clock and taken to St. John's hospital. He was still unconscious at midnight, and is in a serious condition.

JOSEPH SEPATIA, 27 years of age, of Petrel street, Allegheny, in a serious condition from heat prostration in the pressed steel car works, Schoenville.

MICHAEL BUNSHAU, 25 years of age, of No. 5131 Keystone street, prostrated in the Malleable Iron works, Forty-eighth street, last night and taken to the West Penn hospital in a serious condition.

Temperature Was High.

The high temperatures of yesterday and last night probably made itself felt to a greater extent than on any one day since the torrid weather set in, and both the afternoon and night of yesterday was almost unbearable. From early morning the atmosphere was extremely high and after 7 o'clock the mercury again began to leap up the tube.

So far there are no indications that Pittsburgh will soon be relieved from the intense heat prevailing in this section. The forecast of the Washington weather bureau is for fair conditions in Pittsburgh today, and as a result of this condition there will be another day of broiling atmosphere.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 90 degrees, one degree lower than on the previous day, but the fierce rays of the burning sun beat down unmercifully on exposed spots. On the streets the hot, close atmosphere was unbearable and the sunny side of the streets were left vacant by all but those who were compelled to use them.

Yesterday's Weather Changes.

The showers of the early morning, amounting to .10 of an inch of rain, did considerable to make the early morning hours somewhat cooler than they would otherwise have been, but the effect of the downpour was soon lost after the sun appeared.

At midnight of Monday the thermometer was at the 79-degree mark again, the same as at midnight of the day previous. After the rain set in the mercury fell only three degrees, but after the rain stopped its effect was still felt, for by 6 o'clock the mercury had dropped to 71 degrees.

Eight Thousand Young People Lift Voices in Song.

STATE CONVENTION FORMALLY OPENED

MUCH GOOD TO ACCRUE FROM THIS GATHERING

Between sunset and twilight last evening the hills and valleys that stretch around the Schenley farm, in Oakland, resounded with the strains of "My Country 'Tis of Thee," welling up from the throats of over 8,000 young people gathered in the great Tent Endeavor.

And thus opened the fifteenth annual (first biennial) convention of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union. It was undoubtedly the most impressive religious scene that has been laid in Pittsburgh in many years. Following the patriotic outburst another hymn was sung, and the convention swung into the routine of formal addresses, interspersed with hymns by the convention choir.

State President William N. Yates of Philadelphia took the chair and presided until the closing. The Rev. Dr. L. C. Barnes, of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, offered a prayer, after which the Rev. John Weidley of Bethany Lutheran church, welcomed the young people to this city.

What Endeavorers Are Here For.

Concluding his address, which was emphatic of the glories of the Iron City, Mr. Weidley said this to the Endeavorers:

There should be something in a man's life greater than his occupation or his achievements, grander than acquisition or wealth; higher than genius, more enduring than fame, for these alone can never save a people. The foundation must be laid on a deeper bed rock, if the pinnacle would reach the sky. The foundation is Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Saviour of the world. He asks each youth to love and make the most of himself, that later on He may be bread to the hungry, medicine to the wounded, shelter to the weak. He bids each love his own reason, getting wisdom with that eager passion that Hugh Miller had for knowledge. He bids each make the most of friendship, emulating Plato in his love for his noble teacher. He asks each to love industry, emulating Peabody, whose generosity gushed like rivers. To this end have you been born, and for this purpose have you come, O Christian Endeavorers! And for this reason, we say, thrice welcome to our city, to our homes, and to our hearts!

The Rev. W. W. Williamson of Altoona responded to the address of welcome. President Yates was to have delivered an address, but owing tho the enthusiasm of the young people the services were prolonged beyond the scheduled hour, and he modestly retired from the program, leaving the principal address of the evening to the Rev. J. H. Bomberger of Cleveland, O. In the course of his address Mr. Bomberger said:

Foundation of All Progress.

The regeneration of the individual lies at the foundation of all spiritual, moral, intellectual and material progress. This can never be superseded. The only way in which the life of God—which is the world's only hope—can manifest itself practically in the world is by coming into the life of the individual man.

The foundation has two basins, an upper and a lower, and the lower can be filled only by the overflow from the upper. The verdure of the foliage, and the succulent fruitage are possible only because the gnarled and hidden roots are buried deep in the bosom of old mother earth, sucking sustenance from her ample stores.

And this convention will do most to hasten the coming of the kingdom as it rings out with a mighty emphasis the truth of truths, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart."

But it dare not stop with this. It is not enough merely to secure a man's regeneration and then to turn him loose in the field for moral duties, trusting to his sanctified impulses to guide him safely through. Even though a man has been born again, he may, through the influence on his traditions, his training, perverted judgment, of accepted custom, fail to measure up to the gospel ideal in his social relations.

Brotherhood Religion.

And hence it becomes necessary, by line upon line, to train the man whose heart is aglow with love of God, that he may successfully translate his divinely kindled affections, and his inspired convictions, into social duties, and the kindly ministries of brother to brother. And if this convention is to contribute perceptibly toward this end it must restate and reiterate those great underlying truths which set forth the claims of man on man, and indicate the method for crystallizing into practical results those great conceptions of the fatherhood of God, and the brotherhood of man which the Gospel has given to the world. Your platform and your committee meetings must emphasize the truth that every man, however degraded and debased he may be, is our brother, and has a brother's claim upon us.

This is the one thing that will do more than all else to solve the social problems of the day—heart-to-heart contact between man and man. As Prof. Henderson puts it, "The hope of the worst lies in loving contact with the best." Nothing can equal the influence of the face that beams with genuine goodfellowship; of the heart that overflows with real kindness and sympathy; of the hand that, by its clasp, tells of real personal interest in another's welfare.

Work of the Past Year.

Secretary Harry W. Kellar presented his annual report. He stated that there had been 480 new societies organized, 241 Young Peoples', 51 Intermediates and 191 Juniors. In the entire state there are 3,034 societies, with a combined membership of 39,988.

Before the close of the evening session Mr. Kellar announced the following committee on nominations. The Rev. H. C. Lincoln, the Rev. W. A. Jones, the Rev. W. W. Williamson, the Rev. C. F. Brown and Messrs. H. W. Kellar, L. S. Bean and J. H. Hetrick. A committee on resolutions was also appointed. The committee on nominations will meet this morning and be ready to make a report to the executive session this afternoon. It is a popular belief that Mr. Yates will be re-elected to the presidency and that Mr. Kellar will be retained as secretary. Both are untiring workers and have done much for the cause of Christian work among young people.

In the earlier part of the day the executive committee and the state officers held special sessions in the First United Presbyterian church, adjoining Tent Endeavor. Reports from the various departments were received.

Knock at the Railroads.

J. N. Hetrick, chairman of transportation, complained of the railway service. "It is evident," he said, "that the railroads did not grasp the situation, otherwise they would have had better facilities and lower rates for the thousands of delegates to the convention."

The delegates from Philadelphia, nearly 800 strong, were two hours behind time, and did not arrive here until 10 o'clock.

The next meeting place was made the subject of a heated discussion at this meeting. Allentown and Lebanon are striving hard for the honor. The sentiment seems to favor Allentown. A committee was appointed to sift the merits of both cities and report today. A plan was also discussed to lighten the labors of State Secretary Kellar. It is proposed to have each district secretary attend entirely to the work of individual bodies and present full reports to the state secretary.

Changes in the constitution were likewise discussed, one for filling vacancies on the executive committee, another relative to the holding of the biennial convention in the year alternating with the national convention.

The Bellefield public school is used as the headquarters of the state officers and the First United Presbyterian church for special meetings. The Bellefield church rooms are used by the registering and entertainment committees.

Denominational Rally Tomorrow.

The Reformed church delegates to the convention will hold a denominational rally in Kennywood park tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. At the same time the annual outing of the Sunday schools of the Reformed church of Pittsburgh and vicinity will be held. Addresses will be made by the Rev. Cyrus M. Hartzell of Latrobe, Pa., and the Rev. J. H. Bomberger, D. D., of Cleveland, O., both of whom are delegates to the convention. The music will include the singing in chorus of "Speed Away," "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," and "America."

The Sunday school students will have a half-dozen field events.

Endeavorers Can Sing on Street Cars and at Noon Scores of Meetings Will Be Held.

The four corners of Pittsburgh will today resound with joyous songs and hymns of praise from thousands of Endeavorers en route to the white canvas headquarters on the Schenley farm. A novel innovation has been permitted and the Endeavorers are going to sing on the street cars, every street car, in fact.

The management of the Pittsburgh Railways Company says nothing is too good for the young people, and told them to go on "and sing merrily and fervently," when a score or more of the young people modestly asked if they might sing on the cars en route to headquarters.

As a result of this passengers need not be a bit alarmed if they hear the fervent young people sing "Softly Now the Light of Day," "A Mighty Fortress Is Lord God," or other hymns from the Endeavor hymnal.

In addition to the special work of the convention today, special services are to be held at noon in the mill districts and the more congested street corners of the city, as follows: Courthouse, address by the Rev. L. A. Barnes, supported by members of the county evangelistic committee; postoffice steps, the Rev. A. E. Taylor and the Lebanon county delegation; Homeopathic hospital, Second avenue, Fayette county delegation; Monongahela wharf, Captain J. W. Seymour; Young Men's Christian association, the Rev. J. W. Meminger of Lancaster; Marvin's bakery, the Rev. A. J. Smith; county jail, the Rev. L. W. Hainer; Jenkinson's factory, Liberty and Twelfth streets, Philadelphia delegation; H. J. Heinz Company, Allegheny, the Rev. L. W. Hainer.

Other meetings, for which the speakers' list was not completed, will be held at the Young Women's Christian association, Union station, Garrison's foundry, South Side; South Side public play ground, at South Ninth and Carson streets; Allegheny city hall steps, Robinson and Federal street corners, Allegheny; McClurg's bakery and Highland park car barns.

THE WEATHER.

This will be another hot day, like yesterday, and it is probable the mercury will again reach the maximum temperature in the neighborhood of the '90s, as it has since the torrid wave reached this section. Although the maximum temperature for yesterday was 90, one degree less than on the day previous, yet the hot atmosphere made all sweltter and another list of deaths and prostrations was reported as the result of the awful heat. The prediction for tomorrow is for showers.

CARPET OF WHITE SATIN IN AISLE FOR BRIDE'S FEET

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Lenox, Mass., July 8.—In picturesque Trinity Episcopal church, surrounded with lavish floral decorations and under sunny skies, Miss Leila Vanderbilt Sloane, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas Sloane of New York and Lenox, and Mr. William Bradhurst Osgood Field of New York were married here today.

The assembly of guests, the accoutrements of the ceremony, the value of the wedding gifts and the wealth and social prominence of all interested parties, made the event the most magnificent of its kind that ever took place in the Berkshire country. More than 200 guests, including representatives of the most wealthy New York families, were present.

The church was most elaborately decorated. The chancel and the main aisle were carpeted in white satin. The altar was banked in white roses and on either side of the chancel were rows of palms, from which stood out long-stemmed roses. Mrs. Sloane selected the program for the organ recital given, while the wedding guests were assembling, by Mr. Edward Witherspoon, organist of Trinity church. Carl E. Escher, violinist, of Pittsfield, and Charles Schuetze, harpist, of New York assisted.

Coming of the Bride.

The ushers who led the procession to the altar were Erskine Hewitt, Frederick Kernochan, William A. Burden, Ernest Iselin, H. Roger Winthrop, A. D. Irving, Jr., and Alexander Webb, Jr. Immediately following were the eight bridesmaids, the first three named being cousins of the bride—Miss Frederica Webb, Miss Florence Twombley, Miss Evelyn Sloane, Miss Frances Crocker, Miss Emily Rogers, Miss Marion Whitaker, Miss Marion Haven and Miss Dolly Kernochan. Miss Kernochan was maid of honor. The bride was accompanied by her father, Morris Kellogg of Elizabeth, N. J., was best man.

The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer of St. Bartholomew's church of New York officiated, assisted by the Rev. Harold Arrowsmith, rector of Trinity church.

Selections from "Romeo and Juliet" were played during the ceremony and the grand march from "Aida" was rendered as a recessional.

Costume of Ivory Satin.

The bride's costume was of ivory satin. Her veil was the one worn by her elder sisters, Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr., and Mrs. John H. Hammond, at their weddings.

The gowns of the maids were all of ecru muslin over yellow taffeta silk.

Pale blue sashes and large hats of blue chiffon were worn and light blue chiffon parasols, gifts of the bride, were carried. The parasols were of great value, the handles being set in precious stones and jewels.

Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at Elmcourt, the country house of Mr. and Mrs. Sloane. The house decorations were of roses.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Field drove over to Pittsfield on a buckboard behind the bride's own roan hackneys. They took the afternoon train for New York. They are to spend their honeymoon on George W. Vanderbilt's Biltmore estate in North Carolina, following a custom established by the bride's sisters. Late in August they will go abroad for a year's travel.

OUTPUT TO BE INCREASED.

New Owners of Penn Manor Shaft Company Will Double the Present Capacity.

The Penn Manor Shaft Company, under the new ownership which took charge on July 1, is arranging for a heavy increase in the output at the Irwin district mine. The output of fine gas coal which was taken out under the old ownership at the rate of 600 to 700 tons a day is to be promptly brought up to about 1,200 tons daily and this may be increased to as high as 1,500 tons.

The new owners of the company have ordered from the Jeffrey Manufacturing Company and the Morgan-Gardner Mining Machine Company sufficient machines to so increase this output. This was done in anticipation of the closing of the purchase of the property and some of the mining machines have already been shipped.

The reorganized Penn Manor Shaft Company will continue to send most of its product east, where the high grade gas coal has a ready market. It is possible to send Penn Manor coal to the seaboard and other eastern markets under freight rates 15 cents the ton less than the rate charged for Youghiogheny and other gas coal of the Pittsburgh district proper. New headquarters of the company have been opened on the sixth floor of the Frick building.

The new organization of the Penn Manor Company has not been perfected, but it will include the following officers and directors, with possibly one or two additional directors: C. P. Perin of New York, formerly general manager of the Virginia Iron, Coal & Railroad Company, president; D. W. Kuhn of Pittsburgh, vice president, and H. A. Kuhn of Pittsburgh secretary and treasurer.

SCHWARM VICE PRESIDENT

Elected to Fill Place at South Side Hospital Caused by Removal of R. C. Stolzenbach.

The board of directors of the South Side hospital met last night and reorganized for the ensuing year. Charles Schwarm was elected to the vice presidency, to take the place of C. Henry Stolzenbach, who was removed from the directorate at the annual meeting of the hospital contributors on July 1.

William Sankey was elected a member of the board in place of Mr. Stolzenbach. Dr. A. F. Husted, a member of the hospital staff, was elected to fill the place of Dr. J. D. Thomas, who died some months ago. Dr. M. F. Creaven was elected as Dr. Husted's successor. There were no other changes in the hospital staff.

mercury went up to 73. From this hour it went up at the rate of three degrees an hour until 10 o'clock, when the mercury struck its pace and settled down to climbing up the tube at the rate of two degrees per hour. At 4 o'clock it had reached 90 degrees and remained at this mark until 5 o'clock, when the evening air began settling over the city, which drove the mercury down at the rate of one degree an hour.

Relief Sought Last Night.

At 8 o'clock last night all who could managed to get away from the close, hot streets and out into the open air, many taking to the rivers and parks in the hope of finding relief and rest from the sweltering atmosphere. Collars and shirts were in a poor condition within a short time and all alike presented a bedraggled appearance. At midnight the temperature was going down slowly but surely, but the fall from the maximum of 90 degrees for the day was not sufficient to allow any decided relief. At midnight the mercury was at 81 degrees, making last midnight the hottest Pittsburgh has had since the torrid weather began.

The reports received last night at the local weather offices from the observers show there were few places where it was hotter yesterday than it was in Pittsburgh. The reports also showed little rain had fallen yesterday, except at Charlotte, N. C., where it is reported there was a heavy downpour during the day.

FATAL EXPLOSION OCCURS AT DUQUESNE

Powder Dumped on Hot Slag Kills One Man and Injured Three Others.

By an explosion of giant powder at Duquesne yesterday one man was killed, three were seriously injured and several more were struck by flying fragments. The explosion was in Thompson's hollow, over which passes the high bridge a short distance west of Kennywood park.

The Dead.

SAVERIO CANIO, 35 years of age, of Duquesne. Leaves a wife and three children.

Seriously Injured.

GEORGE FLEMING, 55 years of age, of Port Perry; burned, cut and bruised; married.
ARCHIE VINCENT, 26 years of age, single, Duquesne; burned, cut and bruised.
MICHAEL SKELISH, 30 years of age; single, Duquesne; head crushed, cut and burned.

All of the above injured were taken to Mercy hospital, where, last night, they were in a dangerous condition, but not liable to die before morning. There were a number of others slightly injured, but all of them were able to go to their homes.

For several weeks the slag from the Edgar Thomson furnaces across the river has been dumped in this hollow and a large section of the hollow has been filled with it. The slag is at white heat when the ladles are tipped over, but soon hardens on the surface.

The men injured were employed by the Pittsburgh & Bessemer railroad, and were blasting slag so that a portion of it could be moved by a steam shovel. A hole had been drilled in the solid slag and into the hole the contents of a 25-pound keg of powder had been put, with the intention of blowing up the slag so that it could be moved by the shovel, to be used as ballast.

It is supposed that the slag was hot at the bottom of the hole and that the heat set off the powder. Without any warning there was a terrific explosion, and the men, solid lumps of slag and the slag from underneath were thrown into the air. The men who were not injured ran away, and it was not until persons who heard the explosion reached the scene that the injured received any attention.

It was 11 o'clock when the explosion occurred, and it was after 3 o'clock when the injured were sent to Mercy hospital. The first delay was because of the inaccessible place where the explosion occurred, the next delay was because not one of the company doctors in Duquesne could be found and then there was another delay in taking the men to the emergency hospital of the Edgar Thomson works, Braddock.

The body of Canio was viewed by a deputy coroner and was then taken to an undertaker's in Braddock. Canio must have been directly over the hole, as his body was blown to pieces.

NEW START FOR MANUAL TRAINING

Plan to Be Submitted for Schools to Be Established by the Sub-Districts.

Manual training in the public schools of Pittsburgh got a start for a new growth at the meeting of the central board of education last night. The matter came up in the report by the committee on industrial schools of a resolution authorizing the committee to prepare a plan for manual training schools under which the city would pay instructions when the sub-districts establish such schools. There are now several such training schools where the sub-districts pay all expenses.

John H. McAlroy opposed the report on the ground that it was providing a way to saddle expense on the whole city after the sub-districts had grown tired of a fad. He declared there is not half enough time for the children to study what is thrust upon them, and asserted that the schools are not turning out scholars. Besides the children are breaking down under the strain and in one school last year six children gave way from over-study. He was almost alone in his fight and the report was adopted.

The committee on vacations reported a schedule for next year. Under its term school opens on September 1, but in honor of Labor Day the pupils are to be dismissed as soon as enrolled.

Schools will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, November 27, and the day following, November 28; from December 25 to January 5, for the holiday vacation; on Monday, February 23, when Washington's birthday will be celebrated, and from March 27 to April 3, for the spring holiday. The closing date was fixed at June 26. This left Good Friday out and there were strong objections. It was finally fixed by striking out November 28, the day following Thanksgiving, and inserting Good Friday.

On recommendation of the committee on compulsory education, the 12 truant officers were re-elected at the present salary of $60 a month. The secretary was directed to prepare certificates for pupils of parochial schools who passed the examination for the high school. George W. Gosser, F. B. Cameron and W. A. Lauffer were appointed a committee on athletics.

MORE HOME MISSIONS.

This Time Those of the Reformed Church Are Receiving Attention in Pittsburgh.

A meeting of much importance to the Reformed Church of the United States began last evening at the Seventh Avenue hotel when the executive committee of the Board of Home Missions of the church began its sessions. The meeting will continue today.

It is altogether probable that definite steps will be taken toward the establishment of a church of this denomination in Allegheny, the location for which work has been under way for several months.

The members of the committee are: The Rev. E. R. Eschbach, Frederick, Md., president; the Rev. J. J. Leberman, Lancaster, O., vice president; the Rev. Dr. T. J. Barclay, Gettysburg, secretary; C. M. Bousch, Meadville, treasurer; the Rev. C. E. Miller, president of Heidelberg university, Tiffin, O.; Prof. J. Sechler, Philadelphia; the Rev. D. S. Fouse, general superintendent, the Rev. A. S. Deschant, Lisbon, Ia.; the Rev. A. C. Whitmer, Lancaster, Pa.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE SHORTER DAY IS ASKED

Drug Clerks Will Request Ten Hours as Working Standard.

LONGER DAY DANGEROUS

A Committee Was Appointed by the Executive Committee of the Clerks to Meet the Druggists in Conference and Present Their Claims.

The druggists and the drug clerks of this city and county will come to a harmonious understanding in regard to the shorter day for the drug clerks, if plans laid at a meeting of the latter last evening are carried out. The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Retail Drug Clerks' association met at the Pittsburgh College of Pharmacy last evening and appointed a committee to meet with a similar committee from the Western Pennsylvania Retail Druggists' association to consider the practicability of a plan to accomplish this end which the clerks will suggest.

On this subject there have been several strong fights in various sections of the country within the past few years. The bitterest fight was in New York city about two years ago. The drug clerks there formed a labor organization, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and finally forced a bill through the legislature naming the maximum number of hours per day for the work of drug clerks.

Will Be Met Half Way.

No plan of this kind, it was stated last evening, is now being considered by the local association of the clerks. Assurances have been given by officers and prominent members of the druggists' association that the clerks would be met half way in what all admit is a reform for the benefit of the general public, quite as much as for the clerks. It is believed that there will be no necessity for anything more than the working out of the details of a plan by which the hours of work can be made fewer, to have the plan receive the indorsement of the druggists and be put into effect.

The request of the clerks is for a workday averaging ten hours. On account of the peculiar demands of the occupation it is not planned to have this 10 hours each day, but an average of 10 hours a day for each two weeks. The following were appointed a committee to meet a similar committee to be appointed from the Druggists' association: W. A. Ferry, W. P. Kells, George H. Anderson, D. E. Lewis, Fred Schiller, A. F. Judd and H. S. Kossler, the last two ex-officio as secretary and president, respectively, of the clerks' association.

Committee Meets Tuesday.

This committee will frame the request of the clerks in detail at a meeting next Tuesday evening and will be ready to meet the committee from the druggists at a date yet to be set.

It was shown at last evening's meeting that there is a large number of drug clerks in Pittsburgh and Allegheny who are working from 17 to 20 hours a day. It is claimed by the clerks that no man who is spending that much of his time at work can be in fit condition to handle the drugs and fill prescriptions upon which life or death may depend. The many mistakes that are occurring in filling doctors' prescriptions are said to be due largely to the fact that insufficient rest and sleep is in many cases rendering the qualified assistants or registered pharmacists employed as clerks unfit to attend to their responsible duties.

In the clerks' association there are about 250 members. This includes the majority of the clerks employed in the county. The organization is only a year and a half old, but is already very strong.

QUAY-STONE MEETING IS SCHEDULED TODAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., July 8.—Senator Quay is scheduled to come to Harrisburg from Beaver tomorrow to meet Gov. Stone and Senator Penrose, who will come from Philadelphia for the same purpose. The trio will meet at the executive mansion to discuss the appointment of a successor to Judge Pennypacker, if he should decide to retire from the common pleas bench of Philadelphia in time for the election of the appointee at the November election.

The governor has been anxiously awaiting for Senator Quay's coming ever since it was first announced, immediately after the recent Republican state convention, that he would come to Harrisburg for a conference with Stone. The governor has been disappointed so often that he had almost given up hope of the senator making his proposed visit until he received word today from Beaver to look out for Quay tomorrow, and that Penrose would be here at the same time.

Attorney General Elkin arrived here tonight from New York, and when told that Quay and Penrose were expected tomorrow by Stone he said: "I have no engagement to meet them."

"Senator Grady is just trying to have a little midsummer amusement for himself," said Attorney General Elkin, speaking of the Philadelphia senator's claim that the new congressional apportionment is unconstitutional. "It is not a serious matter."

As a matter of fact, there is not a word in the constitution saying how congressional districts shall be formed. The constitution is silent on congressional apportionment, but directs that senatorial districts must "be of compact and contiguous territory as nearly equal in population as may be," etc.

reached the place they scattered and took positions so they could watch the house to the best advantage. The peculiar actions of Mrs. Gerald convinced them that Tracy was still in the house.

On the arrival of Sheriff Cudihee the posse closed in on the house, only to learn from Mrs. Gerald that Tracy had given them the slip. He left the house by a rear door 10 minutes previously, while the posse were taking up positions to watch the place, hid for a few minutes in some bushes, and then quietly slipped away through the woods toward Palmer.

The wonderful coolness and daring of the convict were never more fully exemplified than in this instance. In the back yard of the Gerald home Anderson, the man whom Tracy had kept a prisoner from the time he left Port Madison, was found tied to a tree. Tracy tied up Anderson while the posse was in full view of the house.

The bloodhounds were let loose on his trail and are reported to be only a few minutes behind him. Fully 1,000 armed men are now in pursuit, including a posse which has taken the trail for Palmer to intercept Tracy in his flight toward Cedar mountain.

Tracy Has Four Pals.

RENTON, WASH., July 8.—In the Renton saloon John Anderson related his experience since the night he left Port Madison in Johnson's white boat until his rescue at Gerald's house at 6 o'clock tonight. From his story it is evident that Tracy has accomplices.

"I pulled the boat, he (Tracy) holding a gun over me all the way," said Anderson. "We landed south of the West Seattle elevator, under a trestle, and went directly into the woods. Just before we reached the railroad bridge over Black river we met four men, and Tracy said: 'Hello, Fred,' and jumped down the bank to where the men were standing.

"After the talk was finished Tracy left one of the men to watch me. He and the three others, after blindfolding me, went off and stayed about an hour. When they returned they brought a bottle of whisky. Then we started out. Tracy forced me to walk in front, and he followed behind, accompanied by the four men we met at the bridge. We arrived at Renton about 11 o'clock. Here Tracy tied me up, and he, accompanied by the four strange men, left me. They returned at daylight this (Tuesday) morning and we went farther back into the brush and cooked breakfast.

"He brought a little boy from Gerald's house and we walked down to the Gerald place together. We were in the house about three hours when Tracy took me out into the brush. At the river bank he said: 'Lie down.' After looking up and down the river Tracy tied me up and cautioned me to keep still. I lay in this position until called to by Mrs. Gerald, when I hobbled out of the brush yard, where this gentleman (indicating a reporter) untied the leather straps which held me."

Steers Invade Court.

ALTOONA, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—During the trial of a case in the court of Alderman J. B. Raymond in this city today the room was unceremoniously invaded by two ferocious steers. They were being driven along the street and were foaming at the mouth from the extreme heat and continuous battling with each other.

Upon the appearance of the animals a panic ensued and lawyers, litigants and witnesses hastily fled through the windows and doors, barely escaping serious injury. The steers continued to fight in the court room for a considerable time. They were finally subdued and driven away, whereupon the trial of the case was permitted to resume.

Bits of Store News That Should Have Been Given Some Time Ago.

But these Clearance Sales and Remnant Sales have been so engrossing that we have scarcely had time for anything else.

So we give you these little news paragraphs first this morning.

INDIAN BRIC-A-BRAC—A very good collective name for the Indian goods, now being exhibited (and for sale) on the Mezzanine floor, by the Hyde Exploring Expedition Co., the largest Indian traders in America.

The old way of dealing with our red brother was to bunco him with a magnum of rum and some tobacco; the new way, as introduced by the Hyde Co., is to use educational methods, pay him fairly for his goods and teach him commercial ideas.

The exhibits, especially of den and cosy-corner goods, is a splendid one and embraces about everything the different tribes of Indians produce—Navajo Blankets, the hand-work of the Navajo Indians of Arizona, baskets made by all the tribes, from the tiny basket of sweet grass to immense waste baskets contrived by Apache Indians; Sioux Bead Work represented by Vests, Papoose Carriers, Moccasins, Pipe Bags, War Coats and Leggins, Dog Feast Drums, Bows and Arrows, all kinds of Navajo Silver work, together with Mexican Sombreros, very fine Mexican Drawn Work—centers, doylies, lunch cloths, etc.—and a complete exhibit of Indian curios.

On the whole an interesting study of the products of those very interesting people.

In this connection we may state that the Hyde Co. will undertake contracts for the production of Indian Corners and Dens. The work will be done satisfactorily, subject to any change that may be requested.

MASSAGE AND ITS VARIOUS FORMS—Since the beginning of the year Madame Clara Hall, a noted masseuse, has been in charge of our massage parlors on the Mezzanine floor, where facial massage, manicuring, hair dressing and hair waving has been given expert demonstration.

It is quite a convenience to run up the short flight of steps and have any of this work properly done, and we have heard many flattering comments on the innovation.

Among her many specialties Madame Hall's most prominent is that of scalp treatment. Some remarkable results have been attained by her method.

She also has her own preparations of skin foods, which are on sale in this department.

EXCURSIONISTS to Atlantic City, or Asbury Park, or any of the other seaside resorts, should see us about their bathing suits.

This thing of having to don any kind of a suit handed out to you isn't just the thing. Much more satisfactory—very much more—to own your suit. The way we sell bathing suits makes the cost trifling.

TAILORED SUITS—Although mention was made of the Women's Ready-Made Suit department yesterday afternoon, don't take that as an indication that the bargains are about done. Come and see. The department is still full of them.

The finest of suits in wash materials, the suits of woolens and silks, still present excellent choice.

Yesterday as a Remnant Day made a new record. It was our intention to have it do so. Only on one other occasion do we remember of seeing the store so continually full of people throughout the day. Our Remnant Day is not enough for this store, so each Tuesday through the month is to be a Day for Remnants, and the details will be given in advance.

FOUR PERSONS ARE DROWNED

RESCUER LOST HIS LIFE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 8.—Jerry Lavely, a civil war veteran, was drowned in Stony creek at the Beulah ford this afternoon. Two horses also were drowned. Mr. Lavely was 55. He was drowned in sight of hundreds of people, who were powerless to assist. He drove into the river to water the horses. A heavy current caught the team and wagon and carried them under the big bridge a quarter of a mile down stream. Lavely was floating in the wagon all this time and seemed safe until the wagon struck a snag, pulling all underneath. His body has not yet been recovered.

OIL CITY, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—The body of an unknown man, between 45 and 50, was found in the Allegheny river near Rockland today.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., July 8.—(Special.)—Sheridan Hite, a farmer, was drowned in Opequon creek yesterday, while attempting to rescue William Ropp, another young man who was bathing and got into deep water. He saved Ropp, but lost his own life. He was 35 years old and single.

MONONGAHELA, PA., July 8.—Joseph Sienborski, aged 35, married, a miner employed in the Cincinnati mines at Courtney, was drowned while swimming in the Monongahela river this morning.

BONDS AND WILL MISSING.

Greensburg Man Claims Attorney Has His Valuable Papers.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—Jacob Byers, one of the wealthiest farmers in this locality, is reported to have been robbed of bonds and other securities amounting to nearly $200,000. Mr. Byers is over 80 years old. A short time ago, it is alleged by heirs and legatees, he framed a will, which, with the securities, was given to a lawyer of Greensburg to deposit in a safe.

The lawyer declares that no such valuables had been turned over to him. Threats are being made tonight that the arrest of the accused will follow.

Ex-Congressman Thropp Arrested.

BEDFORD, PA., July 8.—Ex-Congressman Joseph E. Thropp of Everett was arrested by Constable Saikeld of Hopewell, on the charge of violating the fish law. It is alleged that acid or other destructive matter was emptied in the Raystown branch of the Juniata river from Thropp's furnace at Everett and that the fish in the stream for a distance of six miles were destroyed. People living along the creek secured great quantities of fish, one women getting seven bushels.

Coke Shortage Closes Furnace.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 8.—(Special.)—The first furnace in the Mahoning valley to close down on account of the scarcity of coke, is the Struthers furnace. The other furnaces are running from "hand to mouth." The trouble is caused by the scarcity of motive power with the railroads, which are unable to move the coke.

BIG COAL COMPANY BEING ORGANIZED

Transfers of Large Holdings Are Made in Cambria County.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EBENSBURG, PA., July 8.—A large bituminous coal company is forming in Cambria county. The holdings of several small operators and coal land owners have been purchased by representatives of the proposed company.

Fifteen deeds were filed yesterday, making over to J. L. Mitchell, or his attorney, coal properties in different parts of the county. The approximate valuation of the holdings they represent is $250,000. A single deed will be made, conveying to W. A. Lathrop of Wilkesbarre the entire property.

The new company will own 50,000 acres of coal lands in the county. The holdings lie in West Taylor, Cambria, Jackson, Blacklick, Barr, Carroll and Susquehanna townships. In addition there are sections in the extreme north of the county and also in the extreme south.

DIED IN WORKHOUSE.

Canton Man Succumbs From Fourth of July Celebration.

CANTON, O., July 8.—(Special.)—Robert Ralston, who was arrested on the Fourth for intoxication and who had several fits during his appearances in police court, died at the workhouse hospital.

He had been a popular young man and at one time was head clerk in one of the large stores of the city. When the Spanish-American war broke out he enlisted with the Eighth Ohio and saw service in Cuba. The Spanish-American War Veterans' association took charge of the remains.

Passed Medical Examination.

HARRISBURG, July 8.—(Special.)—Only five of the 52 applicants for license to practice in Pennsylvania failed at the recent examination by the Homeopathic State Board of Medical Examiners at Philadelphia. The successful applicants from Western Pennsylvania were Edmund T. Tripp, Pittsburgh; John C. Sutton, Butler; Charles E. Peach and James C. Logan, Allegheny; John H. Humes, Hollidaysburg; J. Glenn Hemington, Uniontown; Perry L. Belsinger-Johnstown, and Hugh B. Barclay, Bedford.

Democrats Elect Councilmen.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—At special election today the Democrats elected their candidates for council in four wards. The election was to fill vacancies. The successful candidates are Dr. C. F. Hannan, Dr. H. F. Tomb, William H. Correll, and William S. O'Brien.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Dr. N. H. Chaney of Chillicothe has been selected to succeed Prof. F. Treudley as superintendent of schools of Youngstown.

PIEDMONT, W. VA.—J. J. Laffey, a pumper of Crabtree, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near Piedmont, was accidentally knocked from a train near his home and killed.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—O. B. Hitchcock, who was arrested at Marietta, was brought here and lodged in jail, charged with forgery. It is alleged he passed checks with forged indorsements aggregating several hundred dollars.

GREENSBURG, PA.—Mrs. Mary McWilliams of near Middletown, during a fit of despondency, went to the stable and hanged herself, and when found by her son was dead. She was aged 46 and is survived by three sons and one daughter.

LONG-DISTANCE GAME OF CHESS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CANTON, O., July 8.—One man in Canton and another in Warsaw, Russia, are engaged in a game of chess, the playing of which, it is estimated, will require five years, as it is being conducted by mail and requires 14 days for a letter to pass between the two points.

The contestants are S. Kayser, employed in one of the local steel roofing plants, playing the black men, and H. Bloch, a merchant of Warsaw, playing the white.

The game was prompted by Charles Rosenblum of Kharkoff, a wealthy Russian, who is closely related to the contestants and who is an ardent devotee of the game. He has put up a purse of 10,000 rubles (about $500), three-fourths to go to the winner and one-fourth to the loser. Four moves have already been made in the game.

SHERADEN INQUEST ENDS WITH A CENSURE

Finding of Coroner's Jury in Matter of the Horror of May 12—Missing Brakeman Blamed.

Howard Bodle, a brakeman, who is supposed to have cut the cars that caused the explosion at Sheraden on May 12, in which 27 persons lost their lives, and who has not been seen since early in June, was "censured" by the coroner's jury yesterday when it returned a verdict. The verdict reads as follows:

The verdict of the jury is that the 27 victims came to their deaths from burns received by the explosion of five cars of naptha which were being drilled in the Sheraden yards of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroads by engines 115 and 127, on Monday, May 12, 1902, about 4:20 o'clock p. m. The said five cars and several others were cut off from rear of the train by Brakeman Howard Bodle, the cars running into part of another train, breaking three of the naptha cars, the same taking fire and causing the other two cars to explode, about 6:10 p. m., throwing burning naphtha in all directions, and from the evidence the jury finds that all deaths were due to the above cause. Further, we censure Howard Bodle for cutting off the cars without orders and recommend that no cars hauling any inflammable or explosive matter shall be detached from locomotives until properly placed.

All of the witnesses yesterday were railroad men, and many of them were employed on the wrecked train or were very near it when the explosion took place. Few could give any positive information.

Thomas Traynor, engineer of No. 127, said he was signaled to stop and as his engine was on a curve he was enabled to see on both sides of the track. Witness said he saw a brakeman pass between the cars and go through the motions of cutting the train. He was then signaled to pull the cars out, and said the flowing naptha took fire where the switch light was placed.

A number of other witnesses were called but they were not able to tell anything additional about the accident, and the inquest was closed.

GOLFERS PLAY UNDER SHADE OF UMBRELLAS

Allegheny Country Club's Open Tournment Began in Wilting Heat.

PORTER'S BRILLIANT FORM

In the hottest day's golf play ever known about Pittsburgh John E. Porter of Sewickley offered the best 36 holes of qualifying competition ever returned for a local tournament yesterday on the new Allegheny Country club course. Outside of Porter's brilliant golf the heat was the feature of the annual open tournament, and for the first time umbrellas were seen on a local course under a cloudless sky, Porter himself walking from hole to hole beneath the protecting shade. He returned a card of 155 for the 36 holes of play, 10 strokes under the second man, George A. Ormiston. Porter's first round was 77, exactly equal to "bogey," and his second was 78, being the more exceptional on account of the wilting heat, which caused others to break from their form.

One Golfer Was Overcome.

H. L. Case of Oil City was compelled to withdraw after the first round, overcome by the heat. The amateur record for the course, previous to the lengthening of two of the holes, was 75, by E. M. Byers, and equaled by Porter on July 4. Porter receives a gold medal offered for the lowest qualifying score. The tournament was exceptional in that out of the 36 starters all but Case finished. Sixteen qualified for the first cup and the next 16 for the second trophy.

Porter has won the tournament for two seasons past, and is a prime favorite on yesterday's form, though Byers is counted on for an improvement.

F. Oden Horstmann, third man, played in the semi-finals against Porter last season, losing in 19 holes. Ormiston, who was but 10 strokes higher than Porter, had played over the course but once before and was runner-up in the final last year.

Byers, the local amateur champion, was off in his driving, but strong on his short game, as shown by 2 holes in 2, one, the fourth, 134 yards, being by virtue of a 35-foot putt. He had the best score for nine holes, with 37. The players from out of town were Horstmann, Case, Williams and Tillinghast. The scores for the day:

ROUND ROBIN TOURNEY.

Some Fine Tennis Playing in New York.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Holcombe Ward and Dwight F. Davis, the holders of the national and international title in doubles today appeared in the round robin tennis tournament on the Country club of Westchester courts. They opposed Little and Alexander, the old-time Princeton pair, who captured the second set. Davis' terrific smashing and strong service was the feature. Steadiness saved the Wrenn brothers from defeat at the hands of Clothier and Ogden, all of the points in sets being close. Malcolm D. Whitman played two sets with Leo F. Ware, and lost the second, because of his inability to stop Ware's side line passing.

Opening of Tennis Tournament.

In the open tennis tournament, which also opened yesterday afternoon, F. J. Orth defeated Dr. Maitland Alexander, 6-2, 6-2; A. P. Simmon defeated J. B. Crookston, 6-1, 6-2; G. W. Nicol won by default, Clinton L. Childs and S. C. Sterritt defaulted. The second round in singles and the first in doubles will be played today. Sixteen pairs are entered in the doubles.

BAD BACKS IN PITTSBURGH.

Plenty of them here—Hundreds and thousands—The rush and hurry and work of this great city are responsible—People haven't time to take care of aching backs—Doesn't amount to much, they think—Be over in a little while—and so it goes on from bad to worse—and there's only one end—if it isn't cared for. Kidneys are to blame—too much strain put upon them—they can't do the work nature intends them to do.

Backache is their cry for help—and you've got to help them if you want to cure the backache—That's what

Doan's Kidney Pills

Are for—to help sick kidneys—And that's what they have been doing here in Pittsburgh and all over the country for years—making sick kidneys well—curing bad backs—making people strong and happy. Proof! There's plenty of it—The testimony of your friends and neighbors—What better could there be? Read this:

PENN AVENUE.

Nelson Lawson, 1420 Penn avenue, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble eight or ten years. It was brought on in the first place, I think, by heavy lifting. There was a constant pain in my back and under the shoulder blades; I had a depressed, weary feeling—too much uric acid in my blood, the doctors said, but they didn't seem able to help me any. The secretions were variable and unnatural. My legs and feet frequently became puffed up and painful. I could not rest comfortably in any position. I tried a number of medicines without effect, until finally, on the advice of a friend, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved me within a few hours, and finally cured me completely. Doan's Kidney Pills have been well named the 'Little Conquerors.'"

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale at all Drug Stores—50c a Box.

LOSS TO THE BRITISH OF MERCHANT MARINE DEPLORED BY LIBERAL

The Question of Subsidizing Ships Discussed in the House of Lords.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 8.—Lord Brassey (Liberal) initiated a discussion on naval matters in the house of lords today. He deplored the fact that Great Britain had lost the place she once held with her merchant marine. The question of subsidies, he thought, must depend on the action of the other powers. All the naval powers of Europe gave liberal subsidies, while President Roosevelt and Former Secretary Gage had recommended this policy.

It was contrary to British policy to foster industries by bounties or protection, but to pay for a reserve of auxiliary vessels would certainly be to the public advantage.

Lord Selborne, the first lord of the admiralty, in the course of a reply, referred to the Atlantic shipping combine. He said it seemed to him that the balance was one of disadvantage to the combination because it necessarily placed very large powers in the hands of a few men. The government disclaimed any sort of jealousy of the intention of the Americans here. They had an American marine of their own and they had a perfect right to a full share of the Atlantic trade. It was to British interest that they should have it. It should not be an almost British monopoly.

On the other hand, Great Britain could not afford to see herself squeezed out of the Atlantic trade. The attitude of the government, therefore, was not one of hostility, but one of anxiety, and not until it had formed a final opinion of the whole question could it wisely or fairly enter into agreements with one party or the other.

It would never do to rely in time of war on merchant ships of other nations for the purposes of British carrying trade. Great Britain had fallen behind in regard to vessels of high speed because she had not given heavy subsidies like other nations. The expense of so large a subsidy policy was so insidious that in his opinion the subsidizing of commercial corporations should and must be confined to a limited number and for a special and definite purpose.

While merchant cruisers had their proper place in time of war they could never be substituted for naval cruisers, nor would the possession of merchant cruisers even diminish the shipbuilding vote for the navy.

In the house of commons today the parliament confirmed the report that J. P. Morgan had offered to place all the British ships in the new combine at the disposal of the admiralty for 50 years, on certain terms. He added that the offer had not yet been accepted, because it could only be dealt with in relation to British shipping generally and the Atlantic trade position, which was being very carefully considered by the government.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 8.—Captain Pohl, who was on the German cruiser Irene, in Manila harbor, relates in the Marine Rundschau what he deems to be the "amusing basis of the American misconceptions of the attitude of Germany toward the blockade." He says the band of the Irene played an American air after saluting Commodore Dewey's flag. The Spanish pilot thought it was the Spanish coronation hymn, and related the incident ashore in extravagant language.

The Spanish newspapers in Manila printed this version of the incident and the Spaniards in Manila and elsewhere showed an enthusiastic liking for everything German, the commander of the volunteers of Iloilo telegraphing to the commander of the Irene his thanks for the "sympathetic demonstration."

The Americans in Manila, therefore, according to Captain Pohl, believed the pilot's story, but Commodore Dewey, knowing the facts, laughed at them.

Pope Pleased at Celerity With Which Friars' Lands Negotiations Are Transacted.

ROME, July 8.—The answer of the committee of cardinals to Gov. Taft's recent note on the subject of friars' lands in the Philippine islands was presented to the pope this morning by Cardinal Rampolla. The pontiff expressed his pleasure at the celerity with which the business had been dispatched and said jestingly:

"We are teaching the Americans the renowned art of hustling."

The answer will be translated into French and will be printed.

Widener and Griscom Decorated.

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK, July 8.—P. A. B. Widener and Clement A. Griscom are investigating northern Europe in connection with the plans of the Morgan shipping combine. Mr. Widener is going to Stockholm and thence to St. Petersburg. Widener and Griscom seem much interested in the Baltic ports. Emperor William has decorated them with the Order of the Red Eagle.

Adams Booked With Bernhardt.

MANCHESTER, ENG., July 8.—Sarah Bernhardt definitely announced today that arrangements had been completed for Maude Adams to play Juliet to Mme. Bernhardt's Romeo, during the visit of the French actress to America in 1903.

EDWARD VII. INSISTED ON CORONATION BEING HELD AT EARLY DATE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 8.—The news that the coronation of King Edward was to be held before the middle of August was published in America before it was known here. But the London Times and other papers this morning confirm the announcement.

The pressing forward of the coronation was due to the personal insistence of the king. His doctors were at first opposed to such an early date, but the king declined to agree to any other plans until he is crowned and the doctors, finally realizing that more danger was likely to arise in opposing his majesty on this point, agreed to it.

They now see the king was right and that it will be far better for him to get through the turmoil of the coronation as soon as possible than to have it hanging over him for months.

King Edward has determined not to break up the court at Buckingham palace until after the coronation. He may go on board his yacht for a few days' cruise, but he is more likely to remain in London till the affair is over and then take a prolonged holiday.

IMMENSE FUND WILL BE RAISED FOR THE MINERS

NO PRESENT AID NEEDED

President Mitchell Declines to Accept Help Until His Resources Are Exhausted—Then Everyone Will Be Asked to Contribute.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 8.—A national defense fund, to which all organized labor and the public in general will be asked to contribute, is the latest proposition placed on foot to help the striking anthracite coal miners if they need assistance in their struggle for higher wages and a shorter workday. Harry White of New York, secretary of the National Garment Workers' union and member of the conciliation committee of the Civic Federation, held a long conference with President Mitchell today, during which the plan was approved by the miners' chief, and Mr. White will at once begin preparations to carry it out. President Mitchell wants it understood, however, that the miners' union will accept no aid until their own resources are exhausted. Mr. White gave out the following statement:

"Efforts will at once be made to originate a movement throughout the country so that the unions and others may be prepared to collect funds when the time is propitious.

"Public men will also undertake an independent movement and solicit subscriptions from those not connected with labor organizations. This movement will be inaugurated in New York city. All friendly will be asked to co-operate. The scheme in brief contemplates the concentration of the energy and resources of organized labor in behalf of the miners' cause, a result which has never been achieved. It involves the raising of a given amount of money each week for which provisions and other necessaries of life will be purchased. The plan has the approval of President Samuel Gompers and it will be placed before the executive council of the American Federation of Labor for indorsement at its session which opens in San Francisco next week.

"Of course, it is understood that the entire plan is contingent upon the Indianapolis convention of the mine workers voting down a motion for a general strike, as in that event the aid which the soft coal miners will be able to render would be cut off, and it would be out of the question to try to maintain the vast number of people who would then be involved.

"The operators are counting upon the means of the miners soon becoming exhausted, and when it is demonstrated to them that the funds will be forthcoming to prolong the contest indefinitely if need be, the situation will be changed materially."

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company today succeeded in starting up its Henry washery at Plains. The coal taken from the culm bank is not sent to market, but is used in the company's boilers.

STILL HAS HOPES.

Senator Hanna Says Civic Federation Is Working on Mine Strike. Conference With Patterson.

POTTSVILLE, PA., July 8.—Congressman George R. Patterson of Ashland, in an interview tonight, said he spent most of yesterday in conference with Senator Hanna at Washington, acquainting the latter with the situation in the anthracite coal region.

Mr. Patterson said Senator Hanna intimated that the civic federation has not yet lost hope of bringing the striking miners and operators together.

Congressman Patterson said Senator Hanna assured him that whatever action was taken by the civic federation looking toward a settlement of the strike it should not be in any way derogatory to the miners.

ORGANIZATION WILL GO ON DURING THE SUMMER

United Irish Leaguers Hereabout Will Continue Active—League Meets in Boston Next.

The executive committee of the central council of the Western Pennsylvania branch of the United Irish league of America will hold a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the office of Alderman John Downey, Grant street, near Fifth avenue, at which arrangements for continuing the work of organizing branches during the summer will be completed.

Edward F. Duffy, president, said yesterday that it was not intended to hold any meetings hereabouts between now and September 1, but that it was proposed to hold a large meeting here early in September. He said he expected to have several of the most prominent leaders in the Irish Nationalist party here about that time for several days to aid in organizing additional branches of the league.

It was also learned from Mr. Duffy that the national executive committee of the United Irish league of America has finally decided upon Boston as the next meeting place of the league, probably the first week in October. Mr. Duffy and Father J. M. Toner, the two delegates from Western Pennsylvania, hoped to have the meeting held in this city and worked earnestly in the matter, but the executive committee decided upon Boston on account of the large representation of the league in that vicinity.

Mr. Duffy will leave on an extended trip to England, Germany, Holland and Ireland on July 16, and while abroad will confer with the leaders of the Irish movement in regard to the work of the league in this country.

BOYS WHO SHOOT BEANS WILL SUFFER

ALLEGHENY COUNTY LIGHT CO. CALLS A HALT ON DAMAGE.

New Street Lamps Used as Targets by Mischievous Boys Entail a Heavy Loss and as Warnings Have Not Been Heeded Suits Will Now Be Instituted.

Boys with flobert rifles, "beanies" and other mischief-dealing appliances who have been amusing themselves shooting at arc lamps on the streets will be prosecuted. For several months the officials of the Allegheny County Light Company have been annoyed by boys breaking the large glass globes surrounding the lamps. Before the introduction of the new lamp globes surrounding arc lamps were frequently broken by mischievous youngsters. As only the cost of the globe, which was less than $1, was involved the company officials made no attempt to prosecute the offenders.

With the new lamp, which casts no shadow underneath, things are different. The construction is such that when a globe is broken the current is short circuited and the whole line is affected. Sometimes it costs from $15 to $18 to repair damage done by boys shooting or throwing stones at the globes. After a score or more globes had been broken the company decided to take action. A reward of $25 will be given for information leading to the arrest of anybody making a target of the globes.

Most of the damage was done on McCandless and Stanton avenues, Carson and Bingham streets and Grant and Beechwood boulevards. For several days the light company has had men out and the city police were also instructed to watch for the offenders. The names of over a dozen boys—several of them sons of prominent men—have been sent to General Superintendent John Murphy of the light company for action.

Supt. Murphy had a conference yesterday with a prominent downtown alderman regarding the instituting of suits against the boys. Parents of some of the suspects were notified, but as they paid no attention to the notice suits will follow.

TROOPS BEGIN MOVING ON GETTYSBURG TODAY

The annual encampment of the Pennsylvania national guard will be opened at Gettysburg at gun fire on Saturday morning. There will be no formalities. The flag will be run to the top of the staff at the first note of the revellie, and a puff of white smoke from the morning gun will announce to the sleeping soldiers the opening of the Third division encampment on the historic plains of Gettysburg.

The movement of the troops will begin this evening. The advance details from each regiment with two days' cooked rations will precede the main body, and many of the camps will be pitched and the cook houses erected on the arrival of the regiments.

Details consisting of a sergeant and one private from each company of the Sixteenth infantry will leave the oil country tonight. They will not erect the canvas for the regiment, but each sergeant will simply receipt for the stores delivered to his company by the state. The canvas will be pitched after the arrival of the regiment at Gettysburg, as it has always been the custom in the Sixteenth to build its own camp.

The details from the Fourteenth and Eighteenth infantry and Battery B will leave this evening. The detail from the Fourteenth infantry will be in charge of Capt. Murray G. Livingston, regimental quartermaster, and will consist of a noncommissioned officer and seven privates. The detail from the Eighteenth infantry will be in charge of Capt. Robert W. Bissel and will consist of 60 non-commissioned officers and privates. First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon B. Stewart Ralston will accompany the detail to Gettysburg.

All baggage and impedimenta will be loaded by special details from each regiment at the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania railroad stations. The heavy company baggage of the Eighteenth regiment will be loaded in the Pennsylvania railroad yards, Twenty-sixth and Liberty street, today between 2 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. Horses will be loaded under the direction of Surgeon Raiston at the same place on Thursday evening at 5 o'clock.

An important feature of the orders this year is that which prohibits the presence of women in the camp between certain hours. They will only be permitted between guard mount and tatto roll call. This order has been in force for many years, but this will be the first division encampment since the return of the troops from the Spanish war that it has ever been strictly enforced.

MINERS ARE ADVISED.

Interesting Clause in Call for Delegates to Attend Convention to Consider Anthracite Strike.

The officers and executive board of the Pittsburgh district organization of miners have sent a circular to all local unions reminding them that they are to elect delegates to the special national convention to be held at Indianapolis, July 17, to consider a sympathetic strike or other support for the anthracite strikers. One important clause of the call reads:

"We also advise that delegates should not be hampered with ironclad instructions, and so that your interests will be properly taken care of, delegates should be selected who are worthy of your confidence and who will be able to judge for themselves."

While the officers will not say so, it is hinted in semi-official circles of the miners that none of the four districts, Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, which are parties to the interstate wage contract, will consent to the abrogation of these contracts in order to support the anthracite miners. If this is attempted there is in prospect the disruption of the organization and the independent continuance of these district organizations, which made it possible for the anthracite miners to win partial recognition three years ago.

ZEMA-CURA NEVER FAILS TO MAKE PERFECT SKIN.

There is no excuse in the world for that unhealthy skin which disfigures you in the eyes of all your friends and acquaintances. There is no excuse in the world for eruptions, pimples, blackheads, hives or any other skin trouble.

You can have as clean, clear, bright and attractive skin as Nature ever produced. You can get it by the use of Zema-Cura, the wonderful skin remedy discovered by Dr. Harris. This is not theory nor mere advertising talk.

Dr. Harris worked incessantly for many years to perfect this medicine and used it in an extensive private practice for a long time before offering it to the public generally.

Its record—which no one can dispute—shows that it has not yet failed to cure every known skin trouble where it has been used, leaving no scar or mark behind. The cure will be a permanent one. You will never be troubled again.

"Dear Dr. Harris:—I wish to say a few words of praise in regard to your Eczema Medicine. I had been troubled with Eczema on my hands for about six years, and was recommended to you by Mr. John Weller, of this city, and after about two months of your treatment it all disappeared. I had tried several specialists here and in the East, but could get no relief until I commenced to use Zema-Cura, but am happy to say that it all disappeared at least six months ago, and has never shown any signs of returning. I can honestly recommend it to anyone that is troubled in that way, and am sure they will receive great benefit from same."
H. SCHWABACHER, Louisville, Ky.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp. All druggists sell it. 50 cents and $1.00.

Remember! ZEMA-CURA is not one of the many "patent medicines" of the day. It is a doctor's prescription—a scientific compound that has been used for years by its discoverer, Dr. Harris, in daily practice. It has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health. ☞ If you will write to-day Dr. Harris will advise you fully and carefully regarding your case, and charge you absolutely nothing.

Address: Dr. M. M. HARRIS, The Zema-Cura Co., No. 3 West 22nd Street, New York City.

During the treatment of all skin diseases with ZEMA-CURA, externally, U-AH-MA, Dr. Harris' Blood Purifier, taken internally, will be found of great benefit. By acting on the excretory glands U-AH-MA eliminates the poison virus, and hastens and completes the cure. $1.00. Druggists, or express prepaid.

LOCAL NEWS OF GREATER PITTSBURGH

Yesterday's Health Report—Four cases of typhoid fever and six of scarlet fever were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday.

Charged With Shoplifting—Detective Edward Barry arrested Mrs. Ella Bradford of Mulberry street, Allegheny, on a charge of shoplifting yesterday.

Three Workmen Injured—John Hoffman and John Kazan, both of Shady avenue, Allegheny, and Michael Malzu, of Woods Run avenue, were seriously injured yesterday morning at the Pressed Steel car works in Lower Allegheny by the side of a car falling on them.

May Be Indian Skeletons—Workmen on the improvements being made by the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad at Becks run yesterday discovered two skeletons, supposed to be those of Indians. They will be examined by an expert from the Carnegie institute.

Putting Up a Costly Switchboard—The Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company is placing a new switchboard at the power station of the Allegheny County Light Company, Thirteenth street. The board is 120 by 20 feet, and the installation is said to be costing about $100,000.

An Afflicted Family—Two deaths within a week and three other children at the point of death, the result of a severe attack of measles, is the sad record of the family of Mrs. Jennie McAnulty, a widow living at Newtown, near Turtle Creek. The father of the children died within a year.

Thieves Made a Good Haul—Thieves yesterday morning stole two gold watches and chains, valued at $250, and $15 in cash from the Pittsburgh Railways Company's power house in Juniata street, Allegheny. The watches and money belonged to Engineer Thomas Walsh and his assistant, Fred Sunday.

Welshmen Will Have Big Day—The annual outing of the Welsh Sunday schools of Allegheny county will be held tomorrow at Olympia park under the auspices of the Welsh Sabbath School association of Allegheny county. Games in vogue in Wales a half century ago will be played and prizes will be distributed.

Garbage Causing Trouble—The garbage furnace, recently erected by the city of McKeesport, has collapsed, and, as the old furnace has been partly torn down, it is unable to consume but a small portion of the garbage now accumulating. The board of health fears the decaying garbage may cause widespread sickness.

New Viaduct in East Pittsburgh—An ordinance granting permission to erect a viaduct from Cable avenue to Oak Hill, nearly a quarter of a mile, was given a first reading by the borough council of East Pittsburgh last night. The object is to give additional room for the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, on which work has been started at Brinton. The present East Pittsburgh station will be moved a considerable distance and the bridge extending to it from Cable avenue will be torn down, allowing more room for tracks.

Private Gets a Commission—An interesting election was held in Company D, Fourteenth infantry, last night. The vacancy in the second lieutenancy was sought by several of the enlisted men and after a spirited contest the tellers announced that Private Charles A. Bassett had captured the commission. Lieut. Bassett is a well-known Allegheny and served with distinction during the Spanish war.

Wish Scales Completed—The advisory board of the Amalgamated association met yesterday and directed that additional efforts be made to secure the completion of detail scales with the American Steel Hoop and the American Tin Plate companies. Contrary to report there was no consideration of a beneficial and insurance system.

Kochendoerfer Still Missing—Attorney S. B. Donaldson returned to Pittsburgh yesterday morning, after making an unsuccessful search for John Kochendoerfer of this city. Mr. Donaldson said he had visited all the morgues in Philadelphia and surrounding cities, and if Kochendoerfer is dead his body has not been found. The attorney has all the police of the eastern portion of the state on the lookout.

Many Infants Died—Sixty-eight children under ten years of age died in Pittsburgh last week, 38 of them being infants under one year. The whole number of deaths for the week was 162. The principal causes were: Measles, 11; diarrhoea, 16; typhoid fever, 5; consumption, 12; pneumonia, 10, and violence, 20. During the week there were reported 27 cases of typhoid fever, 12 of scarlet fever and 11 of diphtheria.

Railroad Ordinance Vetoed—Burgess John Brennan of Braddock has vetoed the ordinance of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny Railroad Company, asking for a right-of-way over Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth streets. The burgess explained that the streets are too valuable to be given away, and submitted an ordinance granting the railroad the rights-of-way if the road will agree to vacate the streets when requested to do so by councils.

Had a Bloody Quarrel—A number of colored people living in a house at No. 24 Flora street, Thirteenth ward, became involved in a quarrel yesterday in which knives, razors and a hatchet were used. Police Lieutenant Garrett Crossan with several police and sanitary officers were sent to the house to disarm the inmates and quell the disturbance. W. H. McDonald was found with his face cut and several others had numerous bruises, but none was hurt seriously.

The cut-out booklet, "The Sleeping Beauty," and the handsome picture, "God Bless Papa," are both interesting and educational. Secure them free with next Sunday's Gazette.

While trying to go through the C. & O. bridge, the Nellie Walton had a barge sheared at an angle by a pier. The barge was totally wrecked and was lost. The W. W. O'Neil got away with a tow of 35 coal boats for New Orleans at dark. The Convoy left at noon with a tow of 15 empties for above and the Gleaner with 27 empties at 3:30 p. m., followed at 6 p. m. by the Jim Wood with a big tow of empties. The Charles Clark and Adelle are doing harbor work. The Jacob Hetherington was pulled on the Queen City ways for repairs today. The Faille took a tow to Louisville at daylight. The officials of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet company celebrated the banner trip of the Virginia's departure today by decorating her with flags at the head of every stanchion. The boat left with 100 passengers from here and 400 more booked from ports above.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 10.1 feet; falls, 7.9 feet; foot of locks, 24.8 feet. Business good. Weather, cloudy, warm, threatening showers. Packets on time. The Joe B. GOOD MARKET FOR COAL.

Towboats arriving this week at Cincinnati with coal found a ready market for the Pittsburgh product on account of the strike of the miners in the Kanawha valley. There is no Kanawha coal loaded in that stream and there is very little of it afloat at Cincinnati.

A. R. Budd, of the A. R. Budd Coal Company, who yesterday returned from Cincinnati, says that all the independents who shipped coal to that market disposed of it within 24 hours after the boats arrived there. Coal is quoted at 7½ cents by the boat or barge load, and 8½ cents for the slack. This is a higher price than fuel sold at earlier in the season. So long as the strike in the Kanawha valley continues Pittsburgh shippers will profit by it. The independent concerns, as well as the combine, sold at the one price. The combine, however, is shipping the bulk of the coal sent out on the present, due to the New Orleans market, where the stock of coal afloat is much less than one year ago. Mr. Budd says that there is a market at Cincinnati for all the Pittsburgh coal that can possibly be shipped there.

News of the Rivers.
The steamer Steel Queen yesterday broke her shaft. The Florence Belle is serving in her place.

The steamer Gleaner put her tow of coal in Hoffman's shipyards at Louisville and returned light from that place.

Rivermen report that there is much drift floating in the lower Ohio river, which inconveniences the boats very much.

The steamer Kanawha, leaving yesterday for Charleston, had another big trip of passengers. She also had a fair shipment of freight.

Pilots complain that insufficient lights are shown from the piers of the bridge at Dravosburg and the railroad bridge at Brownsville.

The towboat Lookout delivered her tow of 11 barges and three coalboats at Cincinnati yesterday and started back to Pittsburgh with five empties.

Pilots George Gibson, John Butterfield and Charles Estes returned yesterday from Louisville by rail and left for below on steamers departing today.

The steamer Queen City arrived last night, early, and it is expected that the boat will go to Cincinnati this afternoon with all staterooms engaged.

The Pittsburgh Dredging & Construction Company will, in two days have the channel piers of the old Tenth street bridge out of the way of steamboating.

The body of Porter Rodney, of the steamer Gertrude, was found floating in the Monongahela river yesterday. Rodney fell overboard several days ago and was drowned.

The steamer Golden Gate, formerly operating in the Cincinnati-Hudson trade as an independent packet, is on the marine ways at Madison, Ind., receiving an overhauling.

While the gasoline boat Levi was burning at Bull creek Friday night a member of the crew scuttled her and she sank in 10 feet, with her upper works gone and machinery ruined.

Many of the deckhands and firemen employed on the independent and combine towboats jumped their boats upon their arrival at Cincinnati, and it is said that some of the boats had to pay big money to get labor.

The towboat Harvester is on her way to Pittsburgh with 12 empty boats and three barges, and the Frank Gilmore has eight barges. As soon as the Harvester arrives here she will turn back to Cincinnati, light, to bring up another tow of empties. The Harvester was the flagship to Cincinnati, beating the other boats in almost two hours. Capt. D. A. Woodward is very proud of the result. His partner at the pilot wheel of the boat is Harvey W. Robb.

The Defender, with the equal of 31 coalboats, Pilots James White and Frank Lindsey, left Louisville for New Orleans, followed by the Joseph B. Williams, with the equal of 37 coalboats, Pilots Robert Holden and Thomas Martin; and the J. B. Finley, with same amount of cargo, Pilots John Pearce and Henry Nye. As soon as possible the Boaz, Raymond Horner, W. W. O'Neil, Harry Brown, Alice Brown, Exporter and Coal City will go south with tows.

Coal shipments continue to be made down the Ohio river, there still being a boating stage. There was about eight feet of water in the Pittsburgh harbor last night. The following towboats departed yesterday with coal tows: Maggie, 4 coalboats; Tom Lewis, 5 boats; Voyager, 6 boats; Pacific, 7 boats, 5 barges; Samuel Clark, 7 boats, 8 barges. The total coal shipments on the present water, up until the time this report closed, approximated 17,603,000 bushels of coal, contained in 436 boats and 488 barges. The Wilmot is scheduled to go south with a coal tow.

Throat Rest

Tickling in the throat. Constant desire to cough. You know about it. Feels uncomfortable through the day. Keeps you awake at night. Doctors prescribe Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this tickling. A dose at bedtime puts the throat at rest.

SENATOR QUAY CONFERS WITH ORGANIZATION

Enters Sixth Avenue Headquarters for First Time in Its History.

Citizens' Leader Makes Big Claims for County Ticket—He Asks No Aid from State Committee—Quay Leaves for Philadelphia Conference

Senator M. S. Quay's visit to Republican organization headquarters in Sixth avenue yesterday afternoon was the leading feature of his trip from Beaver. He went to the organization rooms on the personal invitation of County Recorder von Bonnhorst, backed up by a request from many other members of the organization who called to see the Beaver statesman at the Hotel Duquesne during his luncheon hour.

There was an air of political harmony afloat in Pittsburgh last night, all on account of the visit of Senator Quay. "He came, saw and conquered," was the expression of an organization member, and it tells the whole story in the fewest words.

Senator Quay left Pittsburgh at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for his Beaver home. When seen at the Duquesne club, shortly before his departure, he appeared in a happy frame of mind and wore one of those confident, satisfactory smiles for which he is noted.

Found Everything Satisfactory.

"Have you anything to say, senator, relative to your conferences today?" was asked.

"No, nothing, except that everything has been very satisfactory. Both my conferences have proved all I expected. My prediction as to the Republican majority in the state this fall will be entirely fulfilled."

After this the senator was assisted into his carriage by his son, Richard R. Quay, and driven to the Lake Erie station.

Senator Quay came to Pittsburgh about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, accompanied by his son. The two went immediately to the Allegheny National bank and later to the Hotel Duquesne, where they took luncheon with Charles F. McKee.

During this time politicians from several counties called at the hotel to see the senator. Ex-State Senator W. B. Meredith of Armstrong county called first. He was joined presently by Representative Harry K. Daugherty of Mercer county, who stated that he had not seen Senator Quay since the state convention and just called in to pay his respects. County Recorder von Bonnhorst and Attorney James Francis Burke joined the party in waiting.

Von Bonnhorst Directed Things.

It was shortly after 2 o'clock when the Quay party came out of one of the private dining rooms of the hotel. Then there was a scramble of the politicians to "get at" the big chief, and they kept him busy shaking hands and talking for some time.

Finally Recorder von Bonnhorst announced to the senator that his carriage was in waiting and informed him that he was expected at Sixth avenue headquarters as soon as it was convenient for him to get there. In company with Burke and von Bonnhorst, Senator Quay rode to the organization headquarters.

For the first time in the history of the organization since its headquarters has been established in Sixth avenue, Senator Quay crossed the threshold. He was greeted at the entrance by several local politicians, while a few more stood waiting on the inside to extend the glad hand of welcome.

It was a regular love feast from start to finish. The bitterest enemies Senator Quay ever had, politically, yesterday announced their allegiance to him and promised faithfully to assist him in every manner possible to elect the whole state and county tickets at the coming election.

Up in the "throne room" were found Deputy Register Archibald Mackrell, County Treasurer Thomas G. McClure, County Chairman A. C. Robertson, ex-Sheriff Harvey A. Lowry and Dr. A. J. Barchfeld. This party had been waiting for over an hour, and when the senator arrived they gave him a cordial welcome.

"Rather warm, senator," said one of the politicians, as he shook hands with the Beaver county statesman.

"Well, yes; but some people will be sweating harder than they are now about the first of November," was the curt reply of Senator Quay.

All the doors at headquarters were thrown open and the big conference was on. Senator Quay made himself at home. He sat in a big easy chair and was busy talking all the time. He was very guarded in his remarks, however, and said many things that were left for interpretation.

After the conference one politician remarked: "Well, I have been in politics for 20 years in Allegheny county, have attended every state convention in that time, and today is the first time in my life that I have shaken hands with Senator Quay."

Recorder Brown Absent.

At the conference were noted the following politicians besides those already named: Thomas J. Ford, candidate for the state senate; Adolph Edlis, J. M. Esler, Joseph G. Armstrong, Henry Hall, Directors A. H. Leslie and Dr. J. Guy McCandless, Deputy Prothonotary John Bradley and W. B. Kirker. Most of the county candidates were present with the exception of Frederick W. Edwards, who was detained by official duties.

City Recorder Brown was conspicuous by his absence, and this was the subject of much comment. It was evident that he was quite well posted on the conference, but by being out of the city managed to save himself the humiliation of being present. Robert Ostermaier was also out of the city.

At the conclusion of the conference County Chairman Robertson gave out the following statement: "Senator Quay, as chairman of the state executive committee, called at Republican headquarters this afternoon for the purpose of having a talk with the county chairman and candidates as to the political situation.

Strong Fight to Be Made.

"In his conversation it developed that the state organization is in accord with the regular Republican organization of the county, and, so far as the Republicans of this county are concerned, we intend to make as strong and good a fight as possible at the coming election.

"The prospects are that we are on the eve of a grand and glorious victory and Senator Quay stated this afternoon that the state ticket will have at least 200,000 majority."

Organization men stated after the conference that there had been no discussion relative to the Citizens party indorsing the regular Republican ticket. The conference lasted just 30 minutes, and at its end Richard R. Quay called for the senator and the two went to the Duquesne club and then to the Allegheny National bank before leaving for home.

During the morning at the Allegheny National bank, Senator Quay had a conference lasting one and a half hours with Thomas S. Bigelow, the head of the Citizens party in Allegheny county. When Mr. Bigelow emerged from the conference he denied that any deal had been made between himself and Senator Quay. He stated that he merely called according to an appointment, but admitted that politics was discussed.

Before leaving Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon Senator Quay told one of his close political friends that it was his intention to leave Beaver last night for Philadelphia. He expects to have a conference with Senator Boise Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Israel Durham at the Walton this afternoon.

THE PIANOLA
The Only Perfect Piano Player

Every home should have a piano, and wherever there is a piano there should be a Pianola. Either is incomplete without the other. And the reason is simple.

You see, a piano is really a useless thing unless you get music out of it—and it is a fact that a great many persons permit their pianos to stand unused, sometimes for months. Of course, this is all wrong. You could derive pleasure from your piano every minute if you wished, by owning a Pianola.

The Pianola plays any make of piano. And any person can operate it. Experience is not necessary.

Senator Quay's Visit.

Senator Quay's visit to the city yesterday has set the tongue of gossip wagging. That is the way of gossip. Sifted down, however, the call at headquarters of the Republican county and city committees appears to have been of a semi-official nature—that of the chairman of the Republican state committee upon the subordinate party organizations. It is significant in some degree, indicating pledged support from these local organizations for the state ticket, which they should always give. It is notable principally because when Senator Quay was state chairman a few years ago these local organizations were bitter in their enmity toward him and refused co-operation with the state committee.

Sheraden Disaster Verdict.

At its conclusion the inquest over victims of the Sheraden disaster is lame and impotent. There is a measure of censure voted by the jury for a brakeman, whose self-convicting conscience caused him to disappear soon after the accident. That censure is wasted because it may be taken for granted that brakeman will never do the same thing again. As a matter of fact, the coroner's jury might as well have brought in a verdict of death by accident at the close of the first day. The men who handled the fatal cars were, in all human probability, no better informed concerning the potentiality of naphtha than the hundreds who stood about watching the blaze, ignorant of danger.

There is a lesson in the catastrophe, and that was drawn by The Gazette at the time. It is merely that care shall be exercised in handling naphtha and gasoline receptacles. Owners of cars in which these volatile substances are transported are required by law to placard them. To the placard should be added a cautionary paragraph. Railroad rules should prescribe how such cars are to be handled. Mistakes may occur even when such precautions are taken. Meantime the laws cannot protect people who run themselves into danger. The public needs to learn that distance lends safety as well as enchantment to the view of a conflagration. Many substances other than naphtha or gunpowder are dangerous in a fire. Most innocent compounds, such as water, become explosive agents when subjected to great heat. In these modern times there are people who make a business of fighting fire. The general public needs to give the fire-fighters and the fires as wide a berth as possible.

Only One Fair Way.

On the subject of taxing franchises a contemporary advances the plea that competition is better than taxation. It advocates a provision to prevent consolidation as a panacea for all ills and would admit all corporations assenting to such a provision to the enjoyment of valuable privileges for nothing. The argument is entirely sophistic. There is absolutely nothing tangible in it.

First, there is no provision that can be inserted in an ordinance that will enforce competition. Nearly everybody is aware of the fact. If outright consolidation be prohibited, "gentlemen's agreements" will secure the result. Second, there is no real competition between public service corporations. For the greater part they inevitably occupy separate territory. Their natural tendencies are to work in harmony. Third, the franchise tax is the most equitable method for securing to the public a share in the usufruct from the valuable privileges bestowed. Even if lower rates could be assured by competition—which experience proves they cannot—the benefits are solely to patrons of the corporations, not to the whole public. The man whose property is fronted by a trolley line, who is put to the inconvenience of guarding his children, or the expense of building a fence; who suffers daily from the noise and dust, is entitled to a share of benefits without being compelled to ride on that trolley line to get them.

There is just one way to deal with public service corporations. That is to charge them an equitable rate for the valuable privileges sought, the proceeds to go for the relief of the whole people. That principle is just. It is effective. Every corporation admitted on such terms can be relied upon to assist in maintaining the principle. Every corporation admitted upon pretense of competition, or the plea that it cannot pay what others do not pay, is another unit added to the multiple force opposed to giving any compensation for public franchises, either in the form of a tax upon receipts or lower charges.

Congressional Apportionment.

Interpreters of the constitution resident in the city of brotherly love are taking advantage of the summer dullness of their quiet retreat to darken counsel concerning elections and things pertaining thereto. Recently we had occasion to call attention to the attempt of the Hon. John Fow, a Democrat and member of the Union party, who sought to show that no one could vote at the election in November whose name does not appear on the registry list. It did not require much research to dispose of Mr. Fow, and since his error of interpretation was pointed out he has subsided. Now comes the Hon. John C. Grady, a Republican state senator, who thinks the congressional apportionment made by the last legislature may be unconstitutional, or at least that portion of it that associates Butler and Westmoreland counties in a district partnership. Mr. Grady points out that the constitution of Pennsylvania requires that congressional districts be composed of compact and contiguous territory, and he has heard somewhere that Butler and Westmoreland do not touch. We think Mr. Grady is in error in this. Authorities agree that the corners of Butler and Westmoreland counties join, even if the river does flow over the boundary line. The fact that a stream may flow between the dry land points of the two counties does not alter the fact of their contiguity.

But granting that Mr. Grady is right in his geographical statement, there remains the consideration that the state constitution, though it should have been obeyed in its letter and spirit by the legislature in the making of the apportionment, is not the final authority in the matter. The national house of representatives is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members and its powers in this particular cannot be superseded by even a decree of the supreme court of the United States.

Congress does not require that its members be elected by a division of states into districts, and is, therefore, indifferent to the compactness and contiguity, or lack of compactness and contiguity, of the Butler-Armstrong district. It apportions the number of congressmen to each state, and the states are free to elect them by districts or on a general ticket or by a union of both systems, as was the case in Pennsylvania preceding the present apportionment, when two congressmen were elected on the general state ticket and the rest were elected by districts. The provisions of the Pennsylvania constitution are without governing force in the house of representatives at Washington, and a decision of the state courts against the present congressional apportionment would not operate to deprive Pennsylvania of representation in congress. What such a decision might accomplish if handed down soon enough would be to compel the election of the entire congressional delegation on the general state ticket, in which case there would be a solid Republican delegation from Pennsylvania in the national house of representatives. To accomplish this, however, it would be necessary for the courts to decide that illegality of apportionment in the case of one district vitiates the entire apportionment. Should the courts hold the apportionment to be vitiated only so far as the Twenty-second district is concerned, it would cause no great embarrassment. It would still be possible to elect a congressman in the territory that is comprised in the district and he would not be refused his seat in the national legislature. The worst the decision would accomplish would be to place a stigma upon the work of the legislature and compel the body to make the proper repairs at its next meeting. The commonwealth cannot be disfranchised in the national councils except through failure of the electors to elect or an adverse decision of the national house of representatives, which would compel a new election.

Endeavorers at Work.

The convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavorers is one of the most notable gatherings Pittsburgh has entertained this year. Large numbers of delegates are present, and their influence will be felt in the community. Last week the American Association for the Advancement of Science was in convention here an earnest body of men and women interested in the spread of knowledge. This week's convention is that of a society for the advancement of Christianity and every member is an enthusiast. To this latest arrival Pittsburgh extends the hand of fellowship and good will, confident that it will accomplish much of good before it takes its departure.

Let Them Think Awhile.

The report that Senator Bailey has gone home to Texas and will devote a portion of his time to thinking over his grievances against Senator Beveridge and Judge Penfield is distinctly encouraging. When Bailey attempted to choke the gentleman from Indiana he did it without much preliminary thought. Had he given the subject due mental attention he would not have resorted to physical force. It will be noticed that his attentions to Judge Penfield have been so far confined strictly to thought, although the judge has made much more severe comments upon Senator Bailey's doings and sayings and personal habits than Senator Beveridge did. It was thought that Penfield's remarks called for gore in large quantities, and for the immediate delivery thereof, but Senator Bailey has so far thoughtfully restrained himself from attempting to choke Judge Penfield.

It would be well if Senator Tillman joined Senator Bailey in thought. The two might engage in a thoughtfest to their mutual advantage, and to the advantage of the senators with whom they are obliged to come into contact in Washington. A prolonged summer season of meditation should teach them how to behave in the nation's capitol.

Reinforcements for Baldwin.

The determination of the war department that the Moros must recognize American authority is strictly in accord with the announcement of President Roosevelt while in Pittsburgh, that if here and there some seemingly dead coal of insurrection may for the moment be fanned into a live piece of ember and burst into a fitful flame, that flame will be stamped out.

The Moros appear to be just a bit sulky. They have not had the rich and full experience with American troops that has fallen to the lot of some of the other peoples of the archipelago. It is possible that they may refuse to learn their lesson in any other way than in the bitter school. The Americans have been exceedingly forbearing with the Moros, and forbearance is one thing that these Mohammedan tribesmen do not properly understand. They cannot distinguish between forbearance and cowardice by a casual inspection, and are prone to mistake the former for the latter. In order to prevent this mistake on the dattos' part from resulting in injury to the Americans, Gen. Chaffee is about to reinforce Col. Baldwin in the island of Mindanao. Such a strengthening of Col. Baldwin's hands is in the interest of peace. The dattos will interpret the presence of a large force of soldiers as an indication of America's determination to control.

Nothing to Arbitrate.

The proposition that the question of the cession of the Danish West India islands to the United States be referred to The Hague court of arbitration is a remarkable one. There is nothing to arbitrate, and it is not strange, therefore, that the American state department perceives no reason why the international court should be troubled with the question. The whole business rests between the governments of the United States and of Denmark. If the Danes are willing to sell and the Americans are willing to buy, the other two points at issue are the price and the willingness of the inhabitants to become Americans.

The United States has done its part, and now awaits the decision of Denmark. It is believed that the people of the islands are willing for the transfer to be made. That is a point for the Danish government to consider, however. The islanders voted joyfully for annexation in 1868. Their decision was practically unanimous, but the senate committee on foreign relations would have nothing to do with Mr. Seward's proposition to buy.

Appointment of a committee of councils to investigate concerning a site for the polytechnic school is a proper step. The committee is not bound to take up with any proposition for a bond issue. It is a pity Mr. Carnegie did not employ his own business methods to obtaining a site also.

Pure water is needed and for the protection of the downtown district more water is needed. There ought to be sufficient funds available for both purposes, but the business affairs of Pittsburgh have not been managed on that basis during the past few years.

In the matter of filtration the burden is not upon common council. It is upon those who entered into contracts far in excess of the funds provided.

After all, the Roosevelt party in congress will be the Republican party minus a few inveterate obstructionists who have never been wholly Republican.

Easily Convinced.

From the New York Sun.

They were two—one sober and the other not. They entered a famous uptown all-night restaurant. The sober man ordered poached eggs on thin toast and tea. The tipsy one ordered broiled lobster, a rabbit and ale, and went fast asleep.

His friend grinned and at the proper time ate his eggs and drank his tea. With the broiled lobster flanked by the rabbit and ale before him his companion slept on.

The sober one pulled out a cigar and finished it. He called the waiter and ordered the table cleared of untasted lobster, rabbit and ale. Then he waked his friend with, "Come along, my boy."

"Where's my lobster and rabbit and ale?" the sleepy one demanded.

"Ate 'em," replied his friend. "You've had enough tonight. Come along."

"All right," was the response, as the sleeper complacently waddled out.

In that case, at least, an assurance was as substantial as a fact.

Mayor Low Compels Big Corporations to Obey the Law. A Dire Possibility.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 8.

New York city is not quite so smoky as it was a week or two ago. The Manhattan Railway Company, or "L," has stopped using soft coal, and burns only anthracite, and the high-power pumping station in Ninety-eighth street, which furnishes water to a large part of the city, is also doing its work with anthracite. These two concerns seem to have been principally responsible for the black smoke that hid the sun from the people of the metropolis, and incidentally made their linen dirtier than is considered legitimate in this favored locality. Until Mayor Low took a hand personally to reinforce the efforts of the board of health in the cause of cleanliness, it was declared by users of soft coal that no anthracite could be procured. Now that the law has risen in its might to punish those who make smoke in the streets, a lot of hard coal has come to the surface, and it looks as if the Pennsylvania mining strike has not interfered at all. The commissioner of water supply, who is in charge of the Ninety-eighth street pumping station, is recalcitrant, however. He says he has hunted high and low for anthracite coal, with fair success, and he has enough on hand to keep going; but he says that if he could not find hard coal, the pumping engines could not stop even for a day. What would he do in that case? The understanding is that he would use soft coal, if it blackened the whole city with smoke and set everyone wheezing with bitumen influenza. In fact, he said today, adding: "There is a Latin maxim that 'The safety of the state is the supreme law,' and if, after every reasonable effort, I could not get anthracite, I would use soft coal, in spite of the sanitary code." It is a comfort to the people, however, that the use of bituminous coal has almost ceased here. For a time there was a heavy haze over the city Monday, and the atmosphere was like that of the South Side in Pittsburgh on a wet day. Naturally, New Yorkers supposed that the murky conditions here were to be found all over Pittsburgh perpetually, and it was almost impossible to make them understand that the residence districts of Pittsburgh, are as clear and inviting as any in this city, if not more so. But the trouble here is practically over now, which shows that even a big coal strike cannot inconvenience this city more than a week or two if there is a determined effort to make the best of things.

The Law Stands by Lovers.

Spooning lovers are protected by law in Central park. A man crept on his hands and knees behind a bench on which a Strephon and Chloe were exchanging tender confidences last evening and frightened the maiden into convulsions. The intruder was arrested before the girl's companion had time to blacken both his eyes, and today the magistrate imposed a fine of $10 on the fellow with warped ideas of what constitutes a joke.

Broke a Police Captain.

It is so seldom that a police captain is "broke" that the discharge of Capt. Reardon of Brooklyn for neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming an officer, has created a real sensation. Police Commissioner Partridge took prompt action, on the report of the deputy commissioner that Reardon was unfaithful to his trust, by turning out the captain from the force and appointing a sergeant in his place as captain, all in an hour or two. One of the common threats of the commissioner has always been to "break" an offender, but it is rarely, indeed, that the threat is carried out.

Suicides' Favorite River.

Another woman jumped off a ferryboat into the North river this afternoon. Like most of the suicides of late, she was stylishly dressed and good looking. She was saved and is in jail. Why it is that women choose the North river, in preference to the East river, or any other part of New York harbor, has never been explained; but it is a fact that the North river seems to exercise a fascination for the poor creatures, who, for one reason or another, are tired of life, as Dickens said of Waterloo bridge across the Thames, which Tom Hood immortalized in his poem as "the bridge of sighs." It is unaccountable but absolutely undeniable.

Too Hot for the Tiger.

The Tammany committee of three, whom Devery has irreverently nicknamed "Sport," "Two-Spot" and "Joke," have adjourned for the summer. They met this afternoon, held a half-hour's session and decided it was too all-fired hot for any use. Then one of them hissed, "Move we adjourn," and it was carried nem. con, with a bang. The triumvirs will spend their vacation at Saratoga, at the seashore, in the Adirondacks, down on the Bowery or wherever they list. It is nobody's business, and Tammany hall, as a body, intimates that it will not hurt anything if they never come back.

A Cross-Town Subway in Prospect.

A cross-town tunnel is a new project for Manhattan. It was to be expected that, as the rapid transit subway the long way of the island approached completion there would be a plan to cut across from river to river. The only questions were, who would do it? and could the right-of-way be obtained? These questions are being answered now, one by one. It is said, on apparently good authority, that representatives of a tunnel company for the last few weeks have been canvassing property owners along Forty-second street, from the Hudson to the East river, getting consent for the construction of an underground cross-town line from river to river. Property owners on Forty-second street naturally are greatly interested in the project, and the general belief is that the intended tunnel is backed by Belmont interests and that another tunnel is to be built under the East river at the foot of Forty-second street, with the idea of extending the subway system to Queens county. The Belmont syndicate, as is well known, will construct and operate the Port Chester railroad, which will make Westchester county tributary to the rapid transit system, and the supposition is that the same syndicate seeks to develop Queens in the same way.

Justice Under Difficulties.

James Cornell, who was holding court in the criminal court building today, said it would be as easy to conduct legal proceedings in a boiler shop. Mr. Cornell is a mild-mannered man, usually, but was decidedly heated today. A healthy steam pile-driver was putting in an honest day's work on the foundations of part of the new Tombs prison, just outside the court room windows, and the criminal court building was getting its semi-annual supply of hard coal, which was going down long iron chutes from wagons to the cellar. If one stops to reflect on the racket made by several tons of anthracite pouring down a sheet-iron runway about 20 feet long, he can easily believe that that alone would be calculated to disturb the court, without the help of the steam pile-driver.

Pittsburghers to Visit England.

A Polo Pony's Narrow Escape.

When a valuable polo pony belonging to J. Sufern Tailor fell from a moving train at Passaic a week or two ago and was so badly hurt that a representative of the S. P. C. A. sent for a gun to shoot it, it was supposed that the animal was doomed; but it is very much alive and will be playing in the polo field by this fall, most likely. I saw the pony today, and Dr. Hasbrouck of Passaic, the veterinary surgeon in attendance, showed me a wound in its chest, which, at the beginning, was 14 inches long and eight inches deep, but which, by treatment, has been reduced to half those dimensions, and is healing so rapidly that it will soon be well. It is said by experts that the recovery of this horse is something remarkable. When it was thrown from the car it was struck in the chest by the iron work of the step, but, fortunately, the jugular vein was missed by about the eighth of an inch. Otherwise, the doctor would have directed the horse to be shot immediately. It is valued at $1,500, being one of the best polo ponies in the country. From its color, a peculiar dirty brown, the animal is known as a "buckskin."

Ragtime Airs at Composer's Funeral.

John Stromberg, music director at Weber & Field's music hall, who died yesterday, was one of the most popular men in the theatrical profession. He was known all along Broadway, and many were the expressions of sorrow heard among the actors idling at corners between Herald Square and Forty-second street today. He was always a busy man and seldom had time to stand on a corner; but he invariably had a pleasant word and smile for those that did, and it may be whispered, seldom refused to put his hand in his pocket for the benefit of a comrade passing through the actor's usual "hard summer." The ragtime melodies which John Stromberg composed in life were played today during the funeral services held over his body at Masonic temple by the members of Weber & Field's orchestra. There was scarcely a dry eye when the muffled strains of "Come Back, My Honey Boy, to Me" were heard. When the members of Mr. Stromberg's lodge placed green leaves on the coffin of the leader, the orchestra played "My Blushing Rosie," and as the mourners walked down the aisle to take their seats, "The Sun Do Move." All the members of the Weber & Fields company were present.

Crowds at Site of Schwab's Mansion.

Many people have been today standing about the plot in Riverside drive where Charles M. Schwab's new mansion is to be erected. The fact that workmen have begun to excavate for the foundations of a house which, with its grounds, is expected to cost considerably more than $5,000,000, have been published and that was enough to take a lot of curiosity mongers to the place. There is considerable interest in Mr. Schwab in this city. His achievements in connection with the great corporation of which he is president, together with his personal qualities of good humor and generosity, have made him a very popular personage. The general feeling is that he deserves all the good fortune that has come to him, and that his new mansion cannot be too handsome or convenient for such a good fellow.

Canned Goods Scarce and Dear.

Canned goods are running short in New York and wholesale grocers are becoming excited. So are housekeepers. One of the principal features in the grocery trade is the increased price of canned tomatoes. There has been an advance of 20 cents a dozen on three-pound standards in the last three weeks, due to the scarcity of spot holdings of last year's pack. On other kinds of canned goods there has been an increase over last year's prices of from 50 to 75 per cent. The advance is due to short crops last year and poor outlook for this season's pack. Old stocks are pretty well cleaned up. Practically all of the eastern pack is gone and stocks on hand of the western pack are limited.

No Rest for Devery.

"Big Chief" Devery suspects that political enemies are trying to ruin his nerves so that he will not be able to take as active a part in the fall campaign as he intends. He is living at Rockaway, by the sad sea waves, and he went there early in the summer for the rest that he could not expect to enjoy in Twenty-eighth street, just off busy Eighth avenue. But look at this: Before 7 o'clock this morning, when an Italian organ grinder took root under the "big chief's" chamber window and ground out "Hail to the Chief" so lustily and persistently that sleep was banished, donning street garb, Devery went out on the porch. The organ grinder then began to churn "Oh, What a Difference in the Morning," and when this was no longer to be endured the "big chief's" ears were assailed by the tuneful injunction to "Go Way Back and Sit Down." Then he went back to bed, but another enemy to slumber came along in the person of an Italian junk dealer, whose wagon had 10 healthy bells. This was too much, and the "big chief" gave it up. Still these Italians may have votes and it would not do to offend them.

Preparing for Women's Exhibition.

A force of laborers have begun work on the flooring and partitioning necessary to fit Madison Square garden for the women's exhibition given by the Professional Woman's league. This task will require many weeks, the basement of the garden, in which is to be a reproduction of a street in Venice, having to undergo radical architectural changes.

Remember the Animals.

From the Cleveland Leader.

In very hot weather horses suffer quite as much as men. More of them die, in proportion to the number at work. Merciful drivers will remember this and use their animals accordingly. Drivers who are not merciful should be made to do likewise.

'TIS DIFFERENT NOW.

When the summer starts to simmer,
And the pavements growing soft,
When the hot wave puts a shimmer
On the mountains there aloft,
Then old thoughts of vengeance quit me;
Tender fancies come and go
Of the little boy that hit me
With a snowball, long ago.

Not a trace of indignation
Would appear upon my brow
If in joyous recreation
He should thus assail me now.
Gifts on him, should he permit me,
I would cheerfully bestow
If once more he would but hit me
With a little bunch of snow.

LABOR FEARS NOT ANY INJUNCTION

Glass Workers Say They Will Beat Prosecutors in New Jersey Courts.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 8.—President Dennis A. Hayes of the Green Glass Bottle Blowers' association is undisturbed apparently by the injunction issued at Trenton this morning, restraining the officials and other members of the organization from entering the plant of the George Jonas Glass Company at Minetola and from interfering with or molesting the workers.

"While the news of an injunction being applied for was something of a surprise," said President Hayes, "we expected it sooner or later. We have absolutely no fear of the result in this case, as we have had similar cases before and won them all. It is necessary that the complainants enter the courts of equity in this state with clean hands, and in view of the charge of breaking the law by the criminal employment of little children in the factories, the firm that seeks to take out this injunction will surely fail. The law of the state and numerous court decisions give workingmen the right to organize, and this carries with it the right to carry on the organization in any manner which does not break the law. We welcome the carrying of this matter into court. It will give us an opportunity to show the public the real state of affairs at Minatola."

Vice President William M. Doughty, who is accused by the complainants of being in active charge of the strikers, said in referring to the injunction, "We will fight it, and we will win. All of the violence at Minatola has been done by men who are working to break the strike, and some of them are now facing indictment on such charges."

Vice President Doughty and James J. Dunn of the executive board were appointed by President Hayes to go to Minatola and look after the case.

Child Labor Discussed.

The association discussed the child labor problem at its first session today and decided to send delegates to the child labor convention, which will be held in Trenton in August. The report of the treasurer shows that the association is in a better financial condition than ever before. One feature of the report was that the death benefit fund has money enough on hand to pay claims for 81 deaths without levying an assessment.

English's Assailant Held for Court.

William J. English, the Philadelphia boy who shot Frederick J. Crowell last week, was arraigned today before Recorder Babcock. Crowell had sufficiently recovered from his four wounds to be able to appear. English waived a hearing and was held in $1,500 bail for the next term of court. Crowell was required to enter bail in the sum of $200 to appear as a witness.

FOOLS OF SHAKESPEARE.

Prof. Burton Thinks a Book Devoted to Them Would Be Edifying.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 8.—(Special.)—Aside from the social settlement conferences, no lectures are arousing more general interest than those of Prof. Richard Burton of Boston. Prof. Burton is giving a course of lectures on the English drama, the subject today being Shakespeare, whom, he says, scholars have set effectually with a wall of literature that the general public seldom has more than a glimpse of the real man.

Yet the professor himself suggests still another book that might be made more interesting than any yet written—"The Fools of Shakespeare." These characters never have been made the subject of special study, yet they wielded a great influence, and under the protection of their cap and bells, advised and even dictated to their superiors.

Pretty Good Himself.

From the Washington Star.

"Ha, ha!" exclaimed the summer boarder; "you actually bought a gold brick!"

"Yes," answered Farmer Corntossel, as he took the specimen tenderly and laid it on the mantel shelf. "All the city folks that come here expected to see one. It seemed like they wouldn't believe I was a regular farmer unless I could show a gold brick. So when I went to town and this was offered me I give the fellow $99 in confederate money and a Canada quarter, which is cheaper than I could have made one myself."

LOVE AT LOST CREEK.

A demigod with a blonde mustache,
And with silken hair just a trifle blonder,
And eyes that with loyalty seemed to flash.
His voice was as soft as a low-toned fiddle,
On which but the music of love is played;
His smile was warm as if on a griddle
Over love's bright flamings it had been laid,
And his song was as soft as the evening breezes

I worshiped him as the blinded Pagan
Adores his idols of stone and wood;
When in his presence my heart seemed beggin'
For love as the orphaned calf craves food.
I heard his phrases so sweetly spoken
With soul all swollen with maiden trust,
And when from my lips he would claim a token
Of love I just honestly thought I'd bust,
And fly to flinders beneath the sweet
Wild thrill that traversed me from head to feet!

But another came, and I longed to stab her
To the scheming heart in my hate supreme
When he gave me a look that turned to clabber
Of sourest tastine my heart's pure cream,
And my sighs seemed the breath of suppressed tornado,
And my hot eyes burned in my rattled head,
And I plied away to the merest shadow
When his falseness deprived me of being fed
On the love he had snatched from me and placed
On that Denver girl in the network waist.

But his love this girl is no longer prizing;
I have tumbled despondency off its base,
And whenever I feel the sighs uprising
I belch till I jockey them out of place.
And she from the city has tossed him over;
She played him well for a mountain jay,
And instead of graning on love's sweet clover
He's chewing at disappointment's hay,
While I have another on my spine
Who's developing into the proper thing.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Miss Flora Glenn.

Miss Flora Glenn, 28 years old, a nurse at the Passavant hospital, died yesterday morning at that institution of typhoid fever. Miss Glenn was a daughter of S. W. Glenn of Butler and had been a resident of Pittsburgh for about two years. For a time she was a nurse at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane at Dixmont. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, and beside her parents, is survived by three brothers and four sisters. The remains will be interred at Butler.

Mrs. Robert E. Rodgers.

Mrs. Margaret Rodgers, 42 years old, wife of Robert E. Rodgers, died of pneumonia yesterday at her home, No. 627 Marburg street, Allegheny. She was a native of Lancashire, England, and was brought to the United States by her parents when 5 years old. The family settled in Johnstown, but later removed to Braddock, where Mrs. Rodgers was married 22 years ago. She was a member of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, Allegheny, and is survived by her husband, seven children, three brothers and two sisters.

Carl M. Neebling.

Carl M. Neebling, 56 years old, a watchman at the Brilliant pumping station, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at his home, No. 524 Larimer avenue, East End, of dropsy. Until seven years ago Mr. Neebling was a stone contractor, but owing to the loss of an arm was compelled to quit the business. He was a native of Germany, and had been a resident of Pittsburgh for 35 years. He is survived by his widow and four children.

Mrs. Mary Heidrick.

BROOKVILLE, PA., July 8.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Heidrick, widow of Levi Heidrick, and mother of J. Emmett Heidrick, of the St. Louis American league baseball team, died at the Heidrick homestead this morning after an illness of several months. Mrs. Heidrick was a sister of Emmett Queen of Pittsburgh. She was about 52 years of age. She is survived by nine children.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Adam Eckert, 61 years old, died yesterday at his home, No. 327 Joel street, Mt. Washington. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Kate D. Eckert.

BOTH PARTIES READY TO MAKE WAR ON TRUSTS

FIGHT COMING ON TARIFF

Democrats Will Insist That the Best Way to Fight a Combine Will Be to Take the Tariff Off Its Products. The International Trust.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 635 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.

The Democratic and Republican congressional campaign committees are preparing for a lively fight over the trust issue this fall. The Democratic committee is getting out large quantities of literature in the way of speeches delivered in the closing days of congress. Their campaign handbook, it is said, will treat the subject at great length.

The Republicans are forestalling the Democratic attacks. Their plan will be to point to the record of the party and of the administration in dealing with trusts. This will be supplemented by President Roosevelt's campaign against trusts.

One feature of the Democratic attack upon the Republicans will be their charge that the tariff fosters trusts; that the best way to smash a trust is to take off the tariff on the article manufactured or controlled by the trust. Steel, iron, glass and leather are especially mentioned in that respect.

The International Trusts.

The Republican argument is that to take the tariff entirely from those articles because trusts may exist in their manufacture would but ruin the American industries and would not relieve the consumer, because the consumer immediately would be exposed to the international trusts. In comparison with the power of the international trust the American combine, they say, is but a pigmy. The Republicans assert that with American manufacturing industries prostrate they would immediately put up prices to old trust levels and the American consumers would become the victims of the alien octopus instead of the American squib.

There is no lack of evidence of the extent of foreign trusts. The state department, through American consuls, has collected a vast amount of data on the subject. Taking the item of glass, for instance. "The state department reports "An international glass trust has recently been formed, incorporating that industry in France, Germany, Belgium, Italy, Austria and Bohemia, and negotiations are now being carried on with English manufacturers, with the ultimate object of embracing all the works of glass-producing countries in the trust. As trusts control the market, production will be regulated without disadvantage to any particular country."

Legislating in Favor of Europe.

The Democratic proposition is to kill the American glass factory with free trade and then permit the international glass trust to fix prices and distribute among the glass-producing nations of Europe orders for glass for American consumers.

The steel and iron business is thoroughly organized in Europe, especially in Germany. According to the state department reports, the German iron trade syndicates number six, the pig iron syndicate, the ingot and steel billet syndicate, the girder syndicate, the drawn wire syndicate and the plate and wire rod syndicates. Their purpose is to concentrate the production in the hands of a manufacturing committee, which distributes orders among the members, fixes selling prices and regulates production to the demand.

A list of the articles controlled by trusts in Europe and Great Britain would include every article of ordinary trade consumption. The British isles are well plastered with trusts, controlling textile, iron, steel, glass and pottery manufactures, the lines of industry which have been built up in this country under a protective tariff. CHARLES W. METZGAR.

FATE OF THE ARSENAL.

Penn Avenue Government Property Likely to Be Sold to the Highest Bidder Before Long.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—(Special.)—It has been decided by the officials of the war department not to further utilize the Allegheny arsenal as a military post or for government stores, but to sell it to the highest bidder. To your correspondent Adjutant General Corbin did not say this disposition of the arsenal property had been finally agreed upon, but he gave it as his opinion that that would be the decision. It will be recalled that General Brooke desired to transform the property into a battalion post, while General Ludington wished the building for a depot of stores. It was also intimated that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company desired the property.

THE PENSION ROLL.

SOCIETY

THE torrid weather which has Pittsburgh in its warm embrace is being escaped by those who have fled to the seashore, although others who have gone to the mountains or into the country are doubtless doing some sweltering like their friends at home.

Dr. and Mrs. William J. Holland went to Magnolia, Mass., on Saturday after the close of the meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. They will spend the entire summer in their cottage at Magnolia, which was already occupied by Mrs. Holland's brother, Horace Moorhead, and the Holland boys. Prof. and Mrs. John A. Brashear also left on Saturday for their summer cottage on the Isle Urania, Muskoka Lake, Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert DuPuy and the Misses DuPuy have been located for several weeks at their place on Long Island, and are combining country life, golf and yachting. Mr. and Mrs. John R. Moorhead, Jr., have been at Magnolia, Mass., for several weeks. They have taken a cottage there for the season.

Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight left on Monday for Ligonier, where she will spend a week visiting her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Denny, at "Morningside," their summer home. Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKnight of Sewickley are at Saranac, in the Adirondacks. Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce of Western avenue, Allegheny, and their children have gone to Lake Placid, N. Y., and are located at the Placid club.

Richfield Springs, N. Y., is promising itself a gay season. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Messler of Fifth avenue, East End, are there, having taken St. Johns cottage for the season. Mrs. W. Dewees Wood and her daughter, Miss Gertrude Dewees Wood, went several weeks ago to their summer home, St. Johns Manor, in Richfield Springs, where they will remain until October.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bennett and the Misses Bennett go to Lakewood this week. Mrs. Clarence M. Wolfe of the East End and her little daughter left last evening for Pelton Hall, Mt. Clemens.

Outings for the Poor.

The first of the weekly outings for mothers and children, which will be given throughout the summer by members of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, will be held today in Highland park. All of the outings hereafter will take place on Thursdays. Sixty mothers and their children will be taken to Highland park for the day. A lunch will be served to them and the day made pleasant for them in other ways by the members of Calvary church.

The women of Ingram have arranged to give an outing to a party of 35 mothers and children at Oakwood park on Thursday, July 17.

Next Friday the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of the Poor, will send a party of 12 working girls to Hammond station for a couple of weeks. Only girls who are self-supporting and have others dependent upon them will be selected for these fortnightly outings.

Second Day at the Playgrounds.

Even the large attendance of the first day at the summer playgrounds in Pittsburgh and Allegheny was exceeded yesterday by the number of children who applied at the school yard gates for admission before 9 o'clock. The task of getting the children in line for the work outlined for the period during which the playgrounds will be kept open, was fairly commenced yesterday, the children eagerly taking up the new and interesting features of manual training introduced. Friday has been reserved at the playgrounds for flower day, it being thought best for all to observe the same day. But yesterday, at the Fifth ward school playground, in Allegheny, there was a distribution of flowers to the children.

Pretty Wedding at Bellevue.

The marriage of Miss Eleanor S. Hull and Henry R. Burger, both of Bellevue, was a pretty social event of last evening. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, in Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, and the service was read by the Rev. George Gunnell, rector of the church. Miss Hull was unattended. The ushers were Frank Burger, a brother of the groom, Mr. Dick, Mrs. Schleid and Mr. Donaldson. After the church ceremony a supper and informal reception was given at the new home of the young couple, in Brighton road, where they will go at once to housekeeping.

Wedding Day Tomorrow.

The wedding of Miss Jean Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Hood of Rebecca street, Allegheny, and Henry S. Netting, will take place tomorrow evening. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. J. W. Kerns, pastor of the First Christian church of Allegheny. After the supper Mr. and Mrs. Netting will start on an eastern wedding trip.

Wimodausis Picnic and Euchre.

Elaborate plans have been made for the picnic of the Wimodausis club, this afternoon and evening, at Kennywood park. There will be euchre on the second floor of the Casino, from 2:30 o'clock until 5, and the exclusive use of the dancing pavilion has been reserved for the club and its guests in the evening, beginning at 8.

Knoxville Street Fair.

Under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of the Knoxville Methodist Protestant church, Zara street, a street fair will be conducted on Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings, from 5 o'clock until 11. A unique entertainment has been arranged and the women will serve refreshments.

League Games Today.

Philadelphia at Exposition park.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.
Boston at St. Louis.

Another shutout goes on record for the champion Pirates. This time the Quakers were the victims, and to make matters worse Brother-in-Law Chic Fraser was the lamb led to the slaughter. It was a case of where all family ties were forgotten and every man look out for himself. The final score was Pittsburgh 5 Philadelphia 0.

The game was one of those tiresome, warm-day affairs, where the players look and act so tired that it seems a shame to ask them to ginger up and cavort around a field while the mercury is doing stunts around the nineties. The Chicago Newsboys' band was on hand and between innings doled out a few stanzas from that beautiful Beethoven symphony "Ain't That Shame," and even those soul stirring strains failed to awaken any enthusiasm on the part of either the players or the 5,351 spectators. In a word it was too hot and that just about covers the case.

Family Ties Were Forgotten.

The Quakers sent Chic Fraser to the rubber and the moment he poked his nose out from under the covering of the visiting player's bench, brother-in-law Fred Clarke sent word to the lady members of the family who occupied seats in the grandstand that for that one afternoon at least family ties must be forgotten, for the reason that Barney Dreyfuss was looking on and the president of the club thinks more of victories than he does of family affection, at least, so far as it pertains to his players. The other Pirates said that brother-in-law Chic had something coming to him, and it would not be their fault if he was not paid with interest.

Chic got a bad start, as Lefty Davis, the first batter up, sneaked in one of those "Texas leaguers" right over the infield which counted for two bases. Brother-in-law Fred soaked one to right for a base, on which Lefty scored, and, after Beaumont had died as a victim of the strike-out habit, Honus Wagner soaked one to the left field bleachers which counted for three bases and on which Clarke scored. After Bransfield had taken a base on balls, Ritchey drove a hot one to Jennings, who fielded the ball to the plate, but Honus made a great slide and thus got the third run of the inning.

Took Life Out of the Game.

This start took what little life there was out of the Quakers, and, though they afterward put up a good article of ball, yet were so helpless before the benders of Chesbro that all interest was taken out of the game. It takes one of those soggy sweltering days to thaw Happy Jack out and as yesterday was soggy and sweltering the New England lad was in his element. The more he perspired the better ball he pitched and a glance at the tabulated score will show that he must have shed about a tubful of water. There was only two innings, the first and fifth, where the Quakers even threatened to score, but fast fielding on the part of the champions prevented a tally being counted.

It was in the fifth where the champs started after Fraser again and just to make assurances doubly sure they cornered a couple of more runs. Beaumont was first up, slammed a single to center and Wagner doubled to right. Bransfield foul flied to Hallman, then Little All Right Ritchey showed his little was not given him for nothing, and he pushed a nice single to left, scoring Beaumont and Honus. Five runs were all the champions needed and after securing them they took a rest so far as base running was concerned.

Wagner's Wonderful Play.

The one redeeming feature of the game was a play made by Honus Wagner in the fifth inning. When Childs was on second and Thomas on first Barry pushed the ball over second, and it looked like a dead sure hit, but Honus broke it down and with his back toward Ritchey fielded the ball to second base and Claude got it in time to head off Thomas. It was a wonderful play and the cheering was long and loud. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Lefty Davis' two-bagger in the first inning was very much of a "Texas leaguer." The ball dropped far enough back of the infield so nobody could get it, and by fast sprinting Davis reached second base on the hit.

A fellow decorating the score board with the announcement that Saturday games will be called at 3 o'clock caused a laugh by leaving the 2 out of Saturday. Secretary Fullam's excuse was that the man is an electrician and not a sign painter.

There were some clever plays made in yesterday's game, but the one that took the rag off the bush was Honus Wagner's contribution in the fifth, when he broke down Barry's base hit, and with his back toward Ritchey, tagged the ball to Claude in time to catch the fleet-footed Thomas. That was one of the plays sometimes seen in practice, but seldom in a regular game.

The Chicago Newsboys' band must have been in sympathy with the Quakers, for between almost every inning the band would break in with a section of Ain't That a Shame." Billy Hallman once forgot himself, and, thinking he was back on the vaudeville stage, started to do a cakewalk.

In the eighth inning O'Connor hit a hot one down at Hulswitt and started for first. Now, Rowdy is not the speediest base runner in the business, and when Hughey Jennings cried out "Hurry it up, Hule, fast, man," the spectators broke out into a laugh and O'Connor joined them in the merriment.

Hughey Jennings drew a round of applause for his play in the first inning when he went high in the air and pulled down Hulswitt's wild throw. The Quakers' shortstop had killed a base hit for Jack O'Connor, but his throw was bad, and Jennings saved him an error. It was a pretty play all the way around.

During the preliminary practice Leach and Wagner shifted places, and the first grounder batted down at Honus took a bad bound and gave him an awful bump on the head. The other players gave Honus the laugh, but the Carnegie boy suffered great pain, as he nursed his head for some time after getting hit.

Honus Wagner was in yesterday's game up to his eyes. Beside that sensational play in the fifth he showed expert base running in the first, when he slid home and beat out Jennings' short throw to the plate, though his escape was a narrow one, and he took a chunk out of his knickerbockers. At bat Honus was in old-time form and cracked out a single, double and a three-bagger.

O'Connor's hit in the fourth inning should have been an easy fly out, but Leftfielder Brown, badly misjudged the ball. Ritchey, who was on first, was afraid to move, because he thought it was a sure fly out, and the ball landed near the left field bleachers, and yet Ritchey got no farther than second base, while Rowdy had to content himself with first.

The Pirates seem to be Chic Fraser's Jonah club. Chic can pitch championship ball against other teams, but the moment he stacks up against his brother-in-law's team then it's all off. On occasions of that kind Clarke gets out on the coaching line and makes all kinds of fun of his relation, and this seems to have its effect on Fraser.

BOTH FOR BOSTON.

Donovan's Team Suffers a Double Defeat.

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—Two games were played at League park this afternoon, and Boston won both. The visitors did more effective batting, which gave them their double win. Attendance 3,800. Score:

AN EVEN SPLIT.

New York and Chicago Got a Game Each.

CHICAGO, July 8.—New York and Chicago split even in two pitchers' battles today, each team scoring a shut out. Mathewson was in great form in the first, and Lundgren did equally good work in the second. A double, a fumble and a single gave the visitors their only run in the first game. Two errors, two steals, a gift, a passed ball and one single scored twice for the locals in the second game. Attendance, 2,500. Scores:

McGRAW GETS RELEASE.

Mugsy Is Now Free to Take Charge of Giants.

BALTIMORE, July 8.—At a meeting of the directors of the Baltimore baseball club this afternoon Manager John J. McGraw's request for his release was granted. It was stated that the Baltimore club will receive no bonus from the New York club for McGraw's release.

Manager McGraw said: "I appreciate the kindness which has prompted the Baltimore club to give me the release I asked and I wish to assure them, publicly, that in consideration of this kindness I shall not tamper with any of the Baltimore club's players."

President Mahon of the Baltimore club bought McGraw's stock, amounting to $3,500.

AMERICAN BOY LIKELY TO WIN DIAMOND SCULLS

IS EVEN-MONEY FAVORITE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Henley, England, July 8.—Given a continuance of the fine weather now prevailing the coronation Henley regatta promises to be a record from the viewpoint of those who regard it as a society picnic. Launches, drags, motor cars and trains emptied a great concourse of people at the riverside today, and the town accommodation was taxed to provide shelter even for those willing to pay the exorbitant charges prevailing.

The club enclosures occupied the choice positions on the Bucks shore, while below the picturesque houseboats, lavishly adorned with flags and flowers, made a capital show. Ladies were present in great numbers, all in their brightest and airiest summer costumes.

The heat was oppressive, the sky was cloudless and there was little movement in the air. Consequently everybody able to obtain any kind of craft was on the river. The Americans' interest in the regatta was enhanced by the fact that a number of their countrymen were members of the various English crews. D. Milburn of Buffalo, N. Y., rows No. 3 in the Leander crew and Jack White, son of Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy, pulls No. 3 in the Eton crew.

When the Races Started.

The racing began at 12:30 p. m. The first heat for the grand challenge cup resulted: Leander Rowing club beat the Kingston Rowing club easily by a length and a quarter. Time—7:34.

In the second heat the Argonaut Rowing club of Toronto beat University college, Oxford, by two and one-quarter lengths. Time—7:25.

The fourth heat (first of the day) for the diamond sculls, attracted by far the most attention, as the result was expected to show the Americans' chances of carrying off the coveted trophy. Titus' easy victory over Field, who is the holder of the Oxford university sculls, has increased the alarm for the safety of the diamonds. Titus, who was on the Berks station, had the measure of his opponent from the first. The Oxonian stuck to his work manfully for three-quarters of a mile. At Fawley court, half the course, Titus was only a foot ahead, but thence the American drew further and further away. Field being completely exhausted. Titus' performance made such an impression that even money was laid on his winning the diamond sculls.

In the fifth heat for the diamond sculls J. Beresford of the Kensington Rowing club had the Berks station and led his opponent, St. George Ashe, of the Thames Rowing club, from the mark, and paddled in the easiest of winners in 10 minutes.

In the sixth heat for the diamond sculls R. B. Etherington Smith beat H. T. Blackstaffe easily. Time—9:01.

Yankee Regarded a Winner.

A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Henley says: Titus' win was most popular. The American has made many friends, and if he wins outright, as is now likely, a great ovation awaits him."

A dispatch to the Globe from Henley says: "The idea that Titus will win is increasing. Certainly the American's work this morning, when giving a proved man like Field 28 pounds under conditions against Titus, was a great performance."

ANOTHER SHUT-OUT.

East Liverpool Team the Victim This Time.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 8.—Johnstown shut out East Liverpool today by superior work at bat and by good judgment on bunts when hits counted for runs. In the second, with three men on bases, both Burns and Hardy hit to the infield, bringing two runs over the plate. Hardy's good support pulled him out of a bad place in the eighth, when, with none out and men on first and second, Berry sacrificed and then Williams threw Winters out at the plate. Both teams played a beautiful game. The same clubs play tomorrow. Score:

The Sewickley Championship.

There will be a game of ball in Sewickley this afternoon between the Sewickley high school team and the T. M. C. A. to decide the championship of the two teams. One game has already been played which Y. M. C. A. won. High school claims they played without several of their good men and want to try again. The same will draw a crowd.

BURNS' FINE WORK.

Only Gave Punxsy Three Hits and Shut Them Out.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., July 8.—Punxsutawney was unable to solve the delivery of Burns today, he only allowing them two scattered hits. Both teams have a shut out to their credit and a not game is expected tomorrow. Score:

HOUR PACED RACE.

Champion and Stinson Will Ride a Novel Match.

A motor-paced bicycle race, which will be a novelty as far as this city is concerned, is on the card for the meet which will be held at the Colosseum track on Allegheny next Monday night. The race will be for one hour between Albert Champion, the sensational Frenchman, and William Stinson, the rider covering the greatest distance in the hour counting winning the race. This style of race has proved very popular at some of the eastern tracks where it has been introduced this season and is without doubt a most exciting contest to witness, especially when two such fast riders as Champion and Stinson are entered.

SERIES CALLED OFF.

D. C. and A. C. Basketball Team Will Not Go to Seashore.

The series of games between the D. C. and A. C. basketball team and the Atlantic City basketball team has fallen through. The series was scheduled to take place on August 16, 18, 20 and 21 on the Marine Band floor, Young's Pier. W. F. Morgenweck, manager of the eastern team, a few weeks ago submitted a proposition to the Duquesne boys which was followed by a counter proposition. Upon Mr. Morgenweck's refusal to entertain Duquesne's proposition, it was decided to declare the series off. This will be quite a disappointment to many of the Pittsburghers at the seashore, as the games between the same teams last year were very exciting. The Pittsburgh Athletic club basketball team is scheduled to play on the same days.

AMONG THE AMATEURS.

The Our Boys and Sharpsburg Y. M. I. teams cross bats Saturday at West Etna park.

The Dearborn Stars would like to hear from all nine and ten-year-old teams. Address A. C. Colville, 5005 Dearborn street, city.

The Winchester Reds would like to arrange a game with some strong 14 and 15-year-old team for Saturday. Address John Koster, 249 Steuben street, West End.

The W. J. Mawhinneys still have a few open dates and would like to hear from all 12 and 13-year-old teams for games. Address J. L. Krumenacker, Jr., Elliott postoffice.

North Braddock A. C. plays at Harrwenville on Saturday, the 12th. North Braddock A. C. would like to hear from all strong amateur teams in Western Pennsylvania. Address G. W. Goughenour, 501 Bell avenue, North Braddock.

The Brown A. C. would like to arrange a game for Saturday with some strong team having grounds, also for July 26. Address Charles Kratz, East Pittsburgh, Pa., or call up C. D. & P. 'phone, 1191 Grant, and ask for Ed. Brooks.

The Standard A. C. is without a game on Saturday, July 12 and would like to hear from some good team, such as Keystone, Wilkinsburg H. S., Rhody Wallace, East Liverpool. Address H. C. Engemann, 850 O'Hara street, Allegheny.

What promises to be an interesting and exciting game will take place next Saturday on the Homewood grounds between the Cottage club and the Waldorfs of Allegheny. Batteries will be: Cottage club, Irwin or Edwards and Venning; Waldorfs, Hartmus or Carroll and Wilson.

Owing to misunderstanding in Verners' schedule the Boguets will be without a game for Saturday, July 12, and would like to hear from some strong team for that date. They play Verners July 19, instead of 12. Address James B. Hardie, 538 Ward street, Coalland.

Outfielder Peter Brown, who last season played with the Warren, O., club, and this season had offers from the Wisconsin and Connecticut State League clubs, has resigned from his position and is open to sign with any strong independent club. He can be addressed to the Pittsburgh Post office.

The Pittsburgh Drygoods Company team defeated the J. Gusky team by the score of 15 to 7. The feature of the game was the all around playing of the P. D. G. Would like to hear from all strong store teams. Boggs & Buhl preferred. Address A. N. Alles, care Pittsburgh Drygoods Company.

The Nunnery Hill first team is without a game Saturday. Would like games with Aspinwall, Our Boys of Etna, Etna A. C. or Canonsburg. The strength of the team was disbanded in without grounds. Address the challenge to William F. Brannigan, 128 Henderson street, Allegheny. Bell 'phone 1390 North.

The Wagner Juniors would like to hear from the managers of North Ends, Sewickley high school, Canonsburg second and Bridgeville second regarding games for any Saturday in August. The Wagners are out for the 14-16-year-old championship and desire to meet all strong teams in this class. A. C. Tweed, box 167, Carnegie.

Owing to cancellation the Liberlys are without a game for Saturday, July 12, and would like to hear from the following teams for any date in August or Saturday: Our Boys, Monessen Our Boys, Beaver Falls, Rochester, Monaca, Bellaire, Walforfs or any strong teams. Address Joseph Dienstbier, rear 4816 Liberty avenue.

As John Lynch has resigned as manager of the Duffys the following players are requested to attend the meeting at Schmidt's building this evening: Lynch, Rice, King, McCabe, Larkin, Martin, Hickey, Duffy and Bird. Duffys have a few open dates and would like to hear from W. E. A. C. of Canonsburg, Williamsburg high school, Osborne and Rhody Wallace for games. Address William Duffy, 540 Grant street, city.

Dallas will play the strong Pedestrian team of Allegheny at Westinghouse park, July 12. The Pedestrian nine is composed of the college boys. Dallas will present a strong line-up and will make the college boys hustle. Beckett and J. Powell will do battery work for Dallas. A hotly contested game is expected as both teams are evenly matched. The manager of the Dallas A. C. would like to know why the Ingram A. C. is always advertising games and never answers their challenges. As a rule many strong teams are scared, especially Castle Shannon team.

Company C team has disbanded for the season of 1902 owing to the management being unable to get a full team to report for the scheduled games, so that the players that did have their heart in the game were unable to do themselves or the team justice. There was also some clashing and lack of harmony among the ranks of the players and, therefore, the team could not be a success. All games scheduled with Company C have been or will be canceled. There are a few players that would be glad to sign with some good team and would no doubt strengthen their weak points if given a chance.

"Hawley's" Is Closed Up.

CINCINNATI, July 8.—J. R. Hawley, who has conducted a periodical and stationary store in Vine street for years, assigned today. The claims are mostly held by sporting goods dealers in New York and Chicago. Hawley's place has been the rendezvous of actors, baseball and sporting people generally for many years.

SUIT AGAINST STEEL COMBINE NOT BONA FIDE

Believed to Be Brought as a Bear Measure on Stock Exchange.

ONE DEFENDANT IS BOGUS

Hopkins Bros. Declare That the Use of Their Name in That Connection Was Unauthorized—Fight on Steel Dividend.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 8.—Officials of the United States Steel Corporation are inclined to belittle the second suit brought in the court of chancery of New Jersey, to prevent the combine from carrying out its plan of converting $200,000,000 of its preferred stock into bonds. They declare that, like the preceding litigation, the suit has not been brought in good faith. In other words, they hold to the opinion that the litigation in which the corporation is involved is the work of certain interests that desire to create lower prices for the steel shares.

The action on the part of Hopkins Bros. in announcing that the name of their firm in the suit was unauthorized and that they had taken steps to have it withdrawn is regarded as sufficient proof that the suit was not brought in the best of faith. F. W. Hopkins, senior member of the firm of Hopkins Bros., today issued a statement confirming this intention. He would not say how his name became involved.

In the papers in the suit Ellison P. Hopkins and Frank W. Hopkins are credited with owning 1,400 shares of the common stock of the United States Steel Corporation. The main plaintiffs, so far mentioned outside of Hopkins Bros., are J. Aspinwall Hodge, who holds 100 shares of the preferred stock; William H. Curtis, who holds 2,000 shares of the preferred stock, and Bernard Smith, who holds 500 shares of the preferred stock. Mr. Hodge would have appeared as counsel in the case but for the recent ruling whereby New York lawyers are debarred from appearing before New Jersey courts.

Morgan's Name Not Significant.

It was pointed out today that the grounds covered by the suit are similar to those of the other suits. The making of J. P. Morgan & Co. defendants is not regarded as important by the Steel officials, who declare that if the plan for converting $200,000,000 of the stock of the corporation into bonds is illegal then the commission the underwriters are to receive also is illegal. It was stated officially today that notwithstanding the litigation in which the United States Steel Corporation is now involved the officials are planning to go on with contemplated additions and improvements.

A Pittsburgh Report Discredited.

Steel manufacturers here place little credence in the reports from Pittsburgh, that the furnace owners of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys purpose to erect a giant steel plant to find an outlet for their iron. A representative of one of the largest steel plants in the country today said the majority of the merchant plants in the valley had been in business for years, and as yet had experienced no difficulty in finding a market for their product, and that the outlook is brighter now than it ever has been, owing to the enormous increase in the production of finished steel, due to the many new uses to which it is being put.

It is pointed out that even if the United States Steel Corporation should make itself independent in the matter of pig iron, the new steel plants that are springing into existence will take from the merchant furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys the iron that would otherwise go to the finishing mills of the combine.

Fighting the Steel Dividend.

The weakness of the Steel shares today followed a report that application would be made in the New Jersey courts to restrain the United States Steel Corporation from paying the last dividend declared on the common stock. Representatives of the corporation said there is nothing of such a movement and regarded the matter with indifference. One official said that it was an easy matter to apply for an injunction, but that it was another matter to get one. There is evidently a large short interest in Steel and a strong attempt is being made to depreciate the values of the issues.

The New Sugar Refinery.

The plant of the $50,000,000 Federal Sugar Refining Company at Yonkers will begin operations during the present week, and the company expects to put its product upon the market by Friday or Saturday. A large stock of raw sugar has been accumulated and the plant shortly will be run to its full capacity of 800 barrels a day.

The market position of the new company is a matter of considerable curiosity in the trade. Representatives of the new company intimate that its position will depend chiefly upon the attitude of the other companies; in other words, that there will be no war unless the other companies desire one.

ORGANIZATION FORMED.

Opposition to Vaccination by Force Gets Together and Names Officers.

Vaccination by force was opposed yesterday when about 30 men and women met at the Monongahela house and formed a permanent organization. The meeting was called to order by Dr. Z. T. Miller, who briefly stated the object of the meeting and why it was called. He nominated James S. Steele for temporary chairman.

A committee of three was selected on permanent organization. This resulted in the selection of Dr. Z. T. Miller, president; Dr. H. G. Briggs, vice president; H. L. Grote, secretary, and J. S. Steele, treasurer.

About 50 names were enrolled as members, and all of them walked up to the treasurer and paid $1 membership fee. Treasurer Steele has the names of 200 persons who have expressed themselves as ready to enroll as soon as an organization was formed.

Manipulators Still Run Wall Street

DAY'S DEALING LOOKED GOOD TO LAST HOUR

Then a Scramble for Profits Sent the Market Backward in a Jump.

U. S. STEEL STOCKS FALL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 8.—Something very like a scramble to take profits at the end of the day served to throw some discredit upon the character of the day's movement in stocks, which had reached considerable proportions, and with a semblance of much more substantial character than anything in the recent course of the market. Spots of strength were more numerous and the well-established dividend paying stocks were foremost in the trading. The orders from single commission houses and the individual blocks taken of some of the high-grade railroad stocks fairly warranted an inference of investment buying, supposed to be reinvestment of resources made available by the July disbursements on the part of inside controlling interests in some of the properties. Such buying was manifest in New York Central and Chicago & Northwestern. This probably had more than any one thing to do with dissipating the feeling of suspicion which has been persistently felt toward the whole recent upward movement.

Still Looks Like Manipulation.

The reaction at the close of the day revived these suspicions, and the large proportion of the day's buying orders, which were for western account, kept alive the supposition that the western contingent was actively manipulating the market, in connection with the renewed pressure upon the shorts in July corn. The special strength of St. Paul was accompanied by a revival of old rumors of control of that property by Union Pacific. The soft coal carriers were taken on the demonstrated benefit they are receiving from the paralysis of the anthracite coal traffic. This movement embraced some of the common stocks of Morgan reorganizations, including Southern railway and Erie, but the Readings and anthracite carriers generally were almost stagnant.

Gold Export Averted.

A marked influence was caused upon sentiment by the sagging of the foreign exchange rate away from the gold export point, after tentative arrangements had actually been made for a shipment on Thursday. The sterling rate at Paris also rallied. The gold export was averted by the renewed offerings of bankers' bills against sterling loans, which were facilitated by the growing ease of the London money market. The local trust companies also came into this market as lenders of many millions of dollars on call, which served as a stimulating influence upon speculation. The Chicago exchange rate continues at 50 cents discount, with continued pressure upon New York for funds. United States Steel fell nearly a point in the late dealings on the postponement of the decision of the appeal of the suit against the stock conversion plan and on the beginning of a new suit. This and the sharp break in Colorado Fuel aggravated the reaction and the closing was easy.

Business in bonds broadened out somewhat, but the market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,635,000. United States new 4s declined ¾ on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day 577,800 shares.

Steady buying of leading stocks made a good impression until in the last hour, when there was a scramble for profits which looked very much like the manipulation game.

United States Steel falls nearly a point on new litigation against bond conversions.

There was a sharp break in Colorado Fuel and Iron.

The coal carriers are almost stagnant.

St. Paul is strengthened on a renewal of the rumor that Union Pacific was in control of the road.

Latest Gordon Sand Oil Find Looks Good

The new Gordon sand development in Marion and Wetzel counties, West Virginia, is now in the lead with new production and a number of new producers. The area of territory tested shows that it is not a congested pool.

The South Penn company's No. 2 on the Keener heirs' farm, reported as drilled deeper and increasing its production to 280 barrels a day from the second pay, did not stop at that, but has gone up to 400 barrels a day. In the same part of the district, on the east side of the development, the South Penn company has drilled in its test on the David Talkington farm and the well produced 75 barrels the first 12 hours. It will improve when shot. No. 6 on the Genine Robinson tract has been completed and is good for 85 barrels a day.

In the northwest end of the development the South Penn's No. 1 on the W. Cunningham farm is holding up at 810 barrels a day. In the same locality the Southern Oil Company and C. D. Grecalee's No. 1 on the W. N. Cunningham farm has declined to 125 barrels a day and will improve.

On Richwood run, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its No. 19 on the John Mills tract through the Big Injun and found nothing in that formation. It is now drilling to the Gordon and stands a good show for a producer at that level.

In the "Little Germany" district, Marshall county, half a mile southwest of developments, the South Penn company has drilled its test on the Gertrude Stine farm through the Gordon and, after shooting, will have a good producer—probably 100 barrels a day.

The Three Joes Oil Company's gusher on the Percy Warner farm, in Ritchie county, is beginning to weaken. The gauge for the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock yesterday morning was 700 barrels.

In Union district, Tyler county, the National Oil Company has drilled its test on the James Hughes farm through the Cow Run sand and has a duster.

On Schawnee creek, Pleasants county, the Amity Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the John R. Shingleton farm and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand. On the same stream and in the same formation G. W. Worthington's No. 12 on the J. C. Michael farm is showing for 10 barrels a day.

On Sugar creek, C. D. Bole & Co. have drilled their No. 5 on the A. J. Wagner farm through the sand and have a duster.

In Pultney creek the Curry Oil Company has drilled a test on the Locke farm through the Big Injun sand and has a duster.

Southeastern Ohio Territory.

On the Ohio side, in the Graysville development, Monroe county, F. P. Hue & Co. have completed their No. 4 on the Spencer McMullin farm and have a show for a 20-barrel producer in the Keener.

In the Chester Hill district, Morgan county, Bankson & Wilson have completed No. 8 on the Ellwood Yarnell farm and have a small pumper. In the same district Girard & Co. have completed a test on the Charles Yarnell farm and have a duster.

On Wolf creek A. A. Cameron has completed his No. 6 on the Alvin Mercer farm and has a duster.

The Octo Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the Haas farm through the second Cow Run sand and has a show for a 50-barrel producer.

In the Joy district A. B. Allen & Co. have drilled their No. 9 on the Isaac & U. R. Ball farm through the sand and have a light well.

The National Oil Company of New York has completed No. 6 on the Uriah Brooks farm and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Marietta district, Washington county, the Tidy Oil Company has completed No. 4 on the George Ammon farm and has a 100-barrel producer in the Cow Run sand.

The Webster Production Company has completed No. 63 on the Thomas W. Moore farm and will have a very light pumper.

In the Macksburg field Longfellow Bros. have drilled their No. 17 on the Hall heirs' farm into the 500-foot sand and have a show for a 100-barrel producer.

In the Wilkins district Alexander Landon & Co. have drilled in their No. 15 on the V. Spies farm and it is producing 75 barrels a day.

Five miles northeast of Harmony, Butler county, Pa., Pratt Bros. have completed the test on the Maggie Niece farm through the 100-foot and have a duster.

Daniel O'Day, vice president of the National Transit Company, has notified all patrons of that concern that all credit balances due on the books at the beginning of business July 5, and all outstanding acceptances issued prior to that date are subject to an assessment of one hundred and sixty-six thousandths of 1 per cent, or 1.66 barrels on 1,000 in pipeage paid oil; on account of loss by fire on the morning of July 5 of No. 1 tank at East Parker, Perry township, Clarion county.

Building Operations Lag Behind Realty Deals

CORNER BLOCK IN SMITHFIELD STREET BOUGHT

It Was Located at No. 626 and Was Sold for $60,000.

EAST END SALE OF $60,000

Fifth Avenue Lot Brings $25,000. Baum Street House Changes Hands — Knoxville Presbyterians Will Build Anew.

The property at No. 626 Smithfield street has been sold for a price approximating $60,000. The deal is credited to the Gordon-Smith Company, but beyond the fact that the sale has been closed no information could be obtained regarding the transaction. The lot is 20x59 feet and is located at the northeast corner of Smithfield street and Strawberry alley. On it is erected a three-story brick building occupied by Boyd, Boyd & Boyd, trunk manufacturers. Title to the property was obtained from the Diehl heirs.

It is reported on the street that the purchase was made in the interest of Dauler, Close & Johns, who own the two-story brick dwellings in the rear of the property sold. These extend back to Montour way, and with the Diehl lot cover the entire space from Strawberry alley to the W. J. Friday block facing in Smithfield street. The story published some time ago to the effect that a large department store was to be built on the site was denied yesterday, and only surmises can be made as to what disposition will be made of the property.

Good Sale in Bradley Place.

McCready & Moore have disposed of three properties in Bradley place, Shadyside, for $60,000. The purchaser is a prominent East End contractor who takes the property for an investment. Two of the parcels are located on adjoining lots at the southeast corner of Atlantic and Millvale avenues, and were bought for $45,000. The larger one of the properties consists of a reception hall brick residence standing on a lot 150x150 feet. It was sold for $25,000. The other is a similar house with lot 75x150 feet, and brought $20,000. Each house contains 14 rooms, finished in hardwood and provided with all the latest conveniences, making them two of the most desirable homes for that price in the Shadyside district.

In addition to the houses the same purchaser secured three lots 50x150 feet each in Millvale avenue, for which the consideration was $15,000. Four of the new residences in Bradley place have now been sold, two previous sales having been made through the agency of D. Behen & Son. Seven more high-class residences are finished and will be put on the market at once.

It was the intention of the owners to build 20 more houses in the vicinity this summer, but owing to the prevailing high prices the project has been shelved until fall.

A Fifth Avenue Deal.

Through the agency of the Real Estate Trust Company A. W. Pentland has sold to S. Abels the property at No. 909 Fifth avenue for $25,000. The lot has a frontage of 22 feet on the north side of the avenue, near Federal street, and a depth of 114 feet. It is improved with a two-story brick block used as a store and dwelling. The purchaser will occupy for a store as soon as his lease on his present quarters expires.

Thomas C. Lindsay of the Pittsburg Dry Goods Company has sold to Richard Baum a fine residence property on the south side of Baum street, opposite Amber street, for $16,000. The lot measures 50x120 feet and the house is a modern reception hall brick dwelling, containing 10 rooms.

Samuel W. Black & Co. sold for E. C. Davis a three-story brick store and apartment building at the southwest corner of Second avenue and Renova street, Hazelwood, for $10,000. The lot measures 56x120 feet. The purchaser is an Edgeworth woman whose name is withheld pending the delivery of the deed.

Volume of Business Was Larger, but Market Was Narrow and Dull

WINDOW GLASS ADVANCED ON HARMONY IDEA

COALERS QUIET, BUT FIRM

Crucible Steels Were Steady, but U. S. Steel Common Weakened. Electrics Steady — Westinghouse Airbrake Lower.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was again quite dull, though the actual number of shares sold was larger than for several days, being nearly 4,000. The business, however, was principally in one issue (which was about the firmest thing on the list), and the general tone showed considerable irregularity. The leading feature was American Window Glass, which started quite firm and active at the opening at 63¼. From that figure the price advanced to 63¾, $1 higher than Monday's close, but finished at 63½, sales and asked, a gain of but ⅛ for the day. The preferred was much less active, but firmer and ¼ higher at 93¼. The reason for the advance in the common is doubtless found in the announcement that a meeting of the different manufacturers is to be held in Cleveland shortly for the purpose of effecting a harmonious arrangement as to selling seats, and thus prevent the cutting of prices. Such an agreement would probably work to the advantage of the American Company in a twofold manner. The companies outside of the American will doubtless demand such a scale of prices as will enable them to operate at a profit with their present processes, which, of course, will also make profits for the American. But, if the new blowing machine is the great success it is reported to be, then the American Company with its exclusive control could probably add about 50 per cent additional to its profits, for the machine is reported to save pretty nearly that much, if not more, in cost. The announcement that such a meeting was to be held caused large buying of the stock on the street after the close of the market Monday, by a persistent bull, and as he probably "cleaned up" the "street" of its floating supply, the price was easily marked up yesterday when other buyers appeared. On the exchange over 2,000 shares of the common changed hands. In the remainder of the sales there was but little of interest. The bank stocks were unusually quiet and practically unchanged, though some of the bids were fractionally higher. The steel issues were dull, the only change of note being a decline of ⅛ in American Steel common to 38¼. The coalers were dull, but steady to firm at the prices. The Electrics held steady to firm, but Westinghouse Airbrake was ¼ lower at 183 and somewhat more active than for some time past. Pressed Steel Car common sold 40 shares at 46, a decline of 3¼ since the last previous sale. In the quotations Philadelphia common and preferred were firmer and higher. Bonds were dull, but steady to firm.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 3,975 shares and $19,000 bonds.

2,050 Window Glass common sold. Closed 63½.

Window Glass preferred advanced to 93¼.

Westinghouse Airbrake was lower at 183.

United States Steel common was ½ lower at 38⅛. The preferred quoted at 83⅞ bid, 90 asked.

The coal stocks were dull but firm.

Pressed Steel Car common sold at 46.

Bank shares were quiet.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

The sales to 2 p. m. were 2,168 shares of stock.

Whitney & Stephenson bought River Coal common at 12½.

Farmers Deposit National bank was offered lower at $1,310 a share.

Whitney & Stephenson continue to sell Monongahela River Coal 6s.

It is stated that a new bull pool has been formed in Colorado Southern.

Southern Railway Company is tipped for a rise and is showing 3 per cent.

Since last Friday the New York banks have lost to the sub-treasury $1,171,000.

Robinson Bros. sold Electric firsts at 107½. A short time ago they were large buyers of both issues.

Charles R. Thomas has been elected cashier of the Citizens National bank, succeeding A. M. Irwin, resigned.

Whitney & Stephenson were sellers of National Fire Proofing common; Hoag & Grier and Barbour bought.

The Stanley Electric Company has filed papers in Trenton, N. J., increasing its capital from $10,000 to $4,000,000.

J. G. Armstrong, of Henry Sproul & Co., has returned from his summer vacation, which was spent in Elk county.

Work has been the principal seller of Pittsburgh Brewing 6s for some days, disposing of $14,000 at 110⅝ yesterday.

It is reported that an alliance has been formed between the Atchison and Union Pacific to compete with Senator Clarke's Los Angeles line.

The first sale of the day was 10 Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company at 228. Preston, Watt & Schoyer buying from Hill & Co.

The statement of the British board of trade for June shows decrease of £1,045,700 ($5,228,500) in imports and £1,192,000 ($5,960,000) in exports.

The board of directors of the Pittsburgh Insurance Company yesterday declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, or $4 per share, payable forthwith.

The bid on Consolidated Gas Company preferred was advanced to 94¾. This is the highest bid in some two or three years, during which it stood at 44 bid.

Wall street has reports of a new issue of Union Pacific stock at par to stockholders to the amount of $30,000,000 more Southern Pacific and help pay some of its floating debt.

The board of directors of the Pittsburgh Coal Company have declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on preferred stock from the earnings of the company, payable July 25.

During the first half hour there were only six different securities traded in, the total shares sold being 1,095. Of this number 400 were American Window Glass common at 63¼@63⅝.

During the first hour Walker & Wainwright bought 1,000 American Window Glass common, this being the largest single buying order that has appeared on the floor of the exchange in two weeks or more. Preston, Watt & Schoyer, A. C. Wettengel and Kuhn Bros. were the heaviest sellers.

Foreign exchange advanced to the gold shipping point and there is talk of quite heavy shipments toward the end of the week. This, combined with the strike of the freight handlers in Chicago, would lead one to believe that the Wall street market, for a turn, is a better sale than purchase.

The sale of a block of 5,000 shares of Chicago & Northwestern at 255 yesterday caused much comment on the New York stock exchange. It was surmised that the block was sold by a Vanderbilt-Rockefeller syndicate and that the transaction was pre-arranged, as the market for the stock is usually too narrow to permit of the sale of such a block.

It is history is that the Moore Bros. have been accumulating St. Paul for some time with the idea of representation on the board. The St. Paul people, especially the Rockefellers, do not want this and are adding to their lines. I don't know whether this is true or not, but have excellent reasons for believing that the buying in St. Paul is coming from William Rockefeller and J. Henry Smith.—G. B. Port, Jr.

A stock holder of the Crucible Steel Company writes The Gazette as follows: "Why our local stock market should be in such a stagnant condition at the present time can hardly be accounted for, unless some of the insiders have sold out at higher prices. Certainly our local corporations are earning more money now than the promoters anticipated. Why should Crucible Steel common sell at $21 or 21 per cent of the par value, when the net earnings will be at the rate of over $4,000,000 per annum by the four old plants, and estimated profits that are considered conservative, of $8,500,000 by the new St. Clair Steel Company, owned by the Crucible Steel Company? The old plants will earn over 10 per cent net on the common stock and the estimated net profits of the new plant is 10 per cent on the common, making 20 per cent, after paying the interest on the preferred stock, bonds and sinking funds. If the management cannot afford to pay 4 per cent dividends on the common stock under conditions, they should refund the money to the public who have bought this common stock. The steel business has all the assurance to continue for some time, and experts have estimated that it will not get down to normal condition before the next two years expire, before the present demands are satisfied and prompt deliveries can be assured."

IS NOT A NEW IDEA.

Carnegie Employes Have Long Had Advantages by Which Illinois Steel Co. Men Now Benefit.

The project reported from Chicago of a savings bank system with a bank with $200,000 capital for the benefit of the employes of the Illinois Steel Company is not the first of similar character among constituent concerns of the United States Steel Corporation.

Years ago Andrew Carnegie established for the men of his works the Carnegie Savings and Loan fund, operating something after the system of the loan associations. The Carnegie fund has the advantage that on pay day employes may make their deposits at once with paymasters or any of the plant officials. On these deposits they draw interest at the rate of 5 per cent, and on loans when desiring to build homes or for other purposes they pay the same rate of interest.

Prior to the first of the present year these rates were 6 per cent, but they were reduced by reason of the prosperity through which most loan and trust companies made still heavier reductions, and under the rule that the greater prosperity makes cheaper money.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Reports from grain growing sections are considerably at variance with each other, the general rounding up of opinions being that crops are still in a critical condition, though the outlook is more favorable during the last few days than it was a week or two ago. Oats and corn are both easier in the west, and there is a less excited feeling here, although prices are yet much above normal ranges. Hay is showing increased firmness, with nominal quotations unchanged.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 1 car hay, 5 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 1 car husks; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 1 car oats, 1 car corn. Total receipts, 13 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@8 20.

Fruits and Produce.

Active trade and steady quotations were the rule yesterday, except where increased offerings caused a lowering of figures. Apples are coming in with more freedom, and prices have gone off accordingly. The same conditions rule in cucumbers and string beans, where receipts are liberal. California cantaloupes are slightly higher. Berries are all holding at unchanged figures, arrivals of stocks being sufficient to take care of demand and prevent advances.

Apples—Fancy, boxes, $2 00@2 50; new Virginia, per bu basket, 85c@$1 00; fancy red, ½ bu basket, 50@60c.

Potatoes—Fancy, from store, 90c@$1 00; Rose, per bbl, $3 00@3 50; new southern, $2 25@3 00.

SIGNED AN AGREEMENT

Plaintiffs Allege That an $8,000,000 Business Is Threatened by Defendants Who Agreed Not to Engage in Same Line for Ten Years.

A bill in equity was filed yesterday by the Standard Manufacturing Company, a New Jersey corporation in common pleas court No. 2 against James W. Arrott, James W. Arrott, Jr., and Charles F. Arrott, to restrain the defendants from engaging in the manufacture and sale of plumbing supplies and porcelain lined bathtubs.

The plaintiff operates plants in Allegheny, New Brighton, Louisville, Ky., and Detroit, Mich., having also acquired property in other places.

It is said that in 1899 James W. Arrott called a meeting of men engaged in the business named at Cambridge Springs, when the plaintiff combine was formed. It is stated the combine was formed for the purpose of increasing prices, and that when the interests of the companies were secured it was agreed that each person interested should refrain from engaging in the same business independently for a period of 10 years. It is alleged that all persons whose interests were bought signed these agreements, except Charles F. Arrott, and it is averred the plaintiff is not certain whether he signed one or not.

It is alleged the plaintiff company employs 2,100 mechanics and 30 traveling salesmen; that its sales in 1900 amounted to $3,000,000; in 1902 to $4,800,000, and at the present rate will this year amount to $8,000,000. It is charged that the defendants have conspired and agreed in violation of the agreements made and have formed the United States Sanitary Manufacturing Company, with a plant at Monaca. James W. Arrott, it is said, has prepared a circular, in which he speaks of having organized the plaintiff company and the Monaca concern, and asking for favors for the new company. The plaintiff company alleges that if the defendants are allowed to carry out their intentions and violate their agreement the plaintiff will suffer great damage. It is asked that the defendants be restrained from engaging in the business until 1910.

TELL WHY A BANK FAILED

Organizers of the Standard National Bank Answer James Kifer's Suit for Commissions.

Interesting data relative to the formation of the Standard National bank, which, however, never transacted business, is set forth in the answer filed to the suit of James Kifer against H. J. Parker and others. Kifer sued to recover a balance for soliciting subscriptions.

It was claimed the bank was to have a capital stock of $2,000,000. It is alleged by the defendants that Kifer represented that the Standard Oil Company would take $1,000,000 worth of the stock if the other $1,000,000 was raised, which statement, the defendants say, was untrue. It is alleged Kifer said that the other stockholders would be men of good standing, which statement was also false. It is denied that the plaintiff obtained purchasers for 20,000 shares or that those who did subscribe are financially responsible. It is averred that subscribers to at least 10,000 shares were irresponsible and declined to pay for their stock.

It is charged that Kifer is also irresponsible financially and is not able to pay for the stock subscribed for by him. It is alleged the subscriptions were obtained by fraud and misrepresentation, and it is denied that the plaintiff devoted time and money to the interest of the concern.

It is stated that the efforts made for the starting of the bank failed because of the inability to secure money upon the subscription list handed in by Kifer. It is declared that an effort was then made to start a bank with a capital of $500,000, but this was unsuccessful, as only $12,000 was received, which was entirely insufficient.

Ask Receiver for Gas Company.

A bill in equity was filed in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday, by Eleanor Parcell, for the use of S. S. Marvin, asking for a receiver for the Sharpsburg & Etna Gas Company. The plaintiff avers that she is a creditor of the company for $1,200. The company has $64,000 capital stock and liabilities of $20,000. It is alleged that, in order to realize the value of the company's assets, it is necessary to provide for the sale of the plant as a whole. Executions are now threatened against the company and unless prevented by the appointment of a receiver the plant is in great danger of being sacrificed.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Mrs. Ann Savage sued Mrs. Kate Joseph for $5,000 damages for alleged slander.

The will of James Chedvick of Pittsburgh was filed. He leaves an estate valued at $3,000 to his wife.

Letters of administration were granted to Otto A. Buerkle on the estate of Mary P. Buerkle, worth $9,500.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed by Charles W. Townsend of Pittsburgh giving his liabilities as $11,259 and assets as $200.

The following decrees in distribution were made: Johns H. Auffenhaus, $7,886; Henrietta Frechlich, $5,406 44; Julia Swain, $127 37.

Joseph Bodner entered suit against Elias Monheim for $2,000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant pushed him down a pair of steps, the fall breaking his nose.

Involuntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed against Max Schoolar of Smethport, McKean county, and M. Fox of Sharon. Both men admit in writing their inability to pay their debts and their willingness to be adjudged bankrupt.

Edward Simons was sued by H. Carl Germer for $5,000 damages for alleged slander. Germer claims that the defendant said: "I found out that Germer is crooked. He went down town and forged a paper." A capias was issued for the defendant's arrest.

Executions were issued as follows: Ernest F. Rusch vs. James S. Iliff, $650; James McLaughlin, et al. vs. James M. Corboy, $10,111; James Friel & Co., Ltd. vs. George Huzsak, $419; William J. Friday & Co. vs. James S. Iliff, $997; Allen Higgins Co. vs. the Van Time Constable Co., $567.

Statement was filed in the suit of Thomas Argyle against the White Sewing Machine Company, an action to recover $10,000 damages. The plaintiff claims that a capias was issued against him for the non-payment of a balance on a sewing machine. In making the arrest it is alleged that Constable Killian assaulted the plaintiff, then handcuffed him and took him to an alderman's office. Later he was sent to jail for 20 days.

Change in Y. M. C. A. Officials.

W. C. Frederick, formerly secretary of the Pennsylvania Company branch, Y. M. C. A. at Washington avenue, Allegheny, gave up that position yesterday to assume charge of the "Rest House" in the yards at Conway. As already explained in The Gazette this institution is for the benefit of the trainmen of the company, all the advantages of a hotel in the way of rooms and restaurant being offered. C. H. Avery, who has been a freight conductor on the lines west for many years, becomes secretary of the Allegheny Y. M. C. A.

Will Be No Consolidation.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Thomas F. Ryan, who is probably the largest stockholder of the Hocking Valley railroad and also of the Pere Marquette, next to Nathaniel Thayer of Boston, said today that there will be no consolidation of the Hocking Valley and Pere Marquette.

A Dip in the Surf, a Run on the Beach and a Retreat From the Sweltering Heat.

The Pennsylvania railroad will run their second seashore excursion Thursday, July 10, leaving Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8:55 a. m., with through parlor cars and day coaches to Atlantic City without change via Delaware river bridge. Through sleeping cars also attached to train leaving Pittsburgh at 7:10 p. m., 9 p. m. for Philadelphia only.

C. W. Culp Takes an Important Place

LEAVES THE PENNSY AFTER LONG SERVICE

Will Become the Assistant General Manager of the Washington Southern on Monday.

Charles W. Culp, since 1890 passenger trainmaster of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been tendered and will accept the position of assistant general manager of the combined Washington Southern and Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroads. Mr. Culp will leave the service of the Pennsylvania railroad proper next Monday, after an almost continuous service of 30 years. His new headquarters will be at Richmond, Va. His successor on the Pittsburgh division has not yet been named, but in all probability the promotion will be made known tomorrow or Friday.

The road to which Mr. Culp is now going is the joint line from Washington to Richmond. It was recently bought by five railroads jointly, and is used by all for Washington-Richmond business. The five roads sharing in the ownership are the Pennsylvania railroad, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Southern, the Seaboard Air Line and the Atlantic Coast Line.

It is a very important connection and one of the busiest passenger lines in the country. The tender of the position comes as a complete surprise, even to Mr. Culp's friends. The promotion is considered a high compliment to his ability.

Mr. Culp's record on the Pennsylvania has been one of steady advancement. He was born at Mechanicsburg, Pa., in 1852. While he was a young boy his parents moved to Altoona and he attended the public schools in that city. His first railway service was as messenger in the office of A. J. Cassatt, now president of the Pennsylvania system, then superintendent of motive power of the railroad. This was in 1867. A year later he left to study pharmacy, and graduated and practiced the profession until November, 1873, when the fascination of railroad work again brought him back to the Pennsylvania. He studied telegraphy, became an extra operator on this division and was soon assigned to the office at Cresson. In a short while he was transferred to the trainmaster's office at Altoona as train wire operator.

Robert Pitcairn, then superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, became acquainted with the young telegrapher at that time and his promotion to train dispatcher was made by Mr. Pitcairn in November, 1881. He also filled the position of train dispatcher on the Altoona division under Supt. W. J. Latta, James Reed and J. B. Hutchinson.

In March, 1886, he was transferred to Pittsburgh where his headquarters have been continuously since. In April, 1888, he was made chief train dispatcher of the division, and a year later came the further promotion to assistant trainmaster in connection with his former duties. June 19, 1890, he was made passenger trainmaster and has held that title until now.

While in this position Mr. Culp has had charge of many trains of historical interest. The past year has been particularly full of these. The specials bearing President McKinley's body to Canton, bringing Prince Henry to this city and recently bringing President Roosevelt here were all run under his immediate supervision and without hitch.

In his new position as assistant general manager Mr. Culp will have charge of operation and will have abundant experience to back him up. He has many friends here who regret his leaving Pittsburgh.

Railway Agents' Program.

The full program of the sixth annual convention of the National Association of Railway Agents has been received. The convention, which was held last year in this city, will open at Minneapolis July 22 and continue in session four days. An interesting program has been arranged, embracing both pleasure and work. The railroads have been generous in the treatment of delegates. The officers of the association are: W. H. Mills, Lake Shore, Norwalk, O., president; C. C. Goss, Iron Mountain, Little Rock, Ark., vice president; N. A. Cottrell, Iron Mountain, Bismarck, Mo., secretary, and A. N. Dietz, Baltimore & Ohio, Cleveland, treasurer. Among the members of the executive committee are W. S. Campbell of Pittsburgh, and J. C. Grove, general agent of the Bessemer, at Erie.

RAILROAD NOTES.

H. J. Booth, traffic manager of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, was in Pittsburgh yesterday on business.

Sidney Van Dusen, traveling passenger agent of the Frisco, has been assigned to special work for the system and will be out of town for about a month.

C. Bliss, rate clerk of the Baltimore & Ohio in Chicago, and Frank Shinn, who occupies the same position with the Pennsylvania, were in the city yesterday lining up the territory with the rate clerks at the general offices of the Pennsylvania lines here.

PER DIEM SYSTEM IS NOW WORKING WELL

Rapid Return of Cars to Owners in Evidence After One Week of New Plan.

One week of "per diem" has passed and the railroads are more than pleased with the results. It was known that there would be prompter handling of foreign cars with this system, but the rapidity of reporting and returning is causing smiles of satisfaction on the faces of the friends of the reform.

In this district particularly, where the value of the car-day is high, there is marked delight over the outcome of the experiment. It is thought certain that still more satisfaction will be shown when there is time to hear from the cars consigned to the more distant points.

Another feature of the change is the greater strictness with which the roads are now enforcing the demurrage rules. Since they are held to cash account for all foreign cars delayed on their lines they are far more eager to get the cars unloaded than was the case before, and demand remuneration from the consignees if there is delay.

At local stations especially is this rule being felt. Many shippers have been in the habit of ordering cars a week or two in advance and then loading them at their desire. Several of the roads are now out with circulars announcing demurrage for loading cars so placed.

Pennsy Freight Men in a Group.
